DEAN AT NEBHE

Dr. Henry A. Kriebal, Dean of Faculty and Chairman of the Division of Accounting, is attending a two-day meeting of the New England Board of Higher Education, February 11th and 12th at the Somerset Hotel in Boston. The general theme of the conference is "Problem of College Teacher Supply."

Some one hundred deans and presidents of colleges in the New England area are represented at the meeting. The special topic under discussion at this second of the series of conclaves, will be "Faculty Preparation and Orientation."

The conferences are being financed by the Carnegie Foundation.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER TO TALK ON JAZZ

Dr. Neil R. Leonard will address a student assembly February 25 under the auspices of the division of Liberal Arts. His topic will be "The Fate of Jazz Lyrics in Tin Pan Alley," and he will discuss the commercialization of jazz lyrics by the music industry. The lecture will be illustrated with comparative recordings.

A graduate of Colby College, Dr. Leonard has been teaching and doing graduate work at Harvard. He will receive his Ph.D. from Harvard in the next few weeks. The subject of his doctoral dissertation is "The Acceptance of Jazz, 1918-1942."

Leonard is currently a Research Assistant in the Harvard Social Relations Department and a Teaching Fellow in English, History and Humanities at Harvard.

NITE RIDERS TO PLAY

The Nite Riders, a rhythm and blues band will furnish music for the Saturday night party at the Continental Hotel in Cambridge. This group is reputed to be somewhat of a floor show in itself. The band has appeared in leading nightclubs throughout the eastern United States and Canada, and will soon travel to Bermuda for an engagement.

Tickets for the entire weekend are on sale at the switchboard in Park Manor during the lunch hour. Cost is $5.50.

Blue Key Pledges Five

HILO'S TO APPEAR

The Hilo's, one of this country's most famous singing groups will entertain Babson students and their dates at the Saturday night party to be held during Winter Carnival Weekend. In the 1960 Playboy Jazz Poll the Hilo's were voted the third best vocal group in America, following the Four Freshmen and the Kingston Trio. Since they started singing in 1953 the group has had three best selling albums, innumerable personal appearances, and several television guest spots. The Hilo's will give two performances at the Saturday night show.

George Dunnington, President of the Babson Institute Chapter of Blue Key Honor Fraternity, has announced that five men have been accepted into pledgeship. Pledged were E. Michael Brown, Harvey Feldman, Peter Fenton, Erlon R. Grant and Warren E. Tourtellot, Jr. The men, one senior and four juniors, were chosen on the basis of above average scholarship, interest and leadership in school functions and activities, and moral integrity and character makeup.

The pledge period will last until March 12, at which time the men will be accepted into full brotherhood at an initiation banquet.

The Senior chosen was Warren E. Tourtellot, Jr., of Baldwinville, Mass. He is Editor-in-Chief of the Babson Globe-News, member of the Student Council Executive Committee, the Theatre Guild Executive Committee, Student Cabinet, and Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges.

Erlon R. Grant, a resident of Wellesley, is Treasurer of the Student Council, Managing Editor of the Babson Globe-News, a member of Delta Sigma Pi and the Vets' Club.

E. Michael Brown, of Shillington, Pa., is Business Manager of the Babson Globe-News, Parliamentarian of Student Council and of Alpha Kappa Psi Fraternity, and member of the Student Council Executive Committee.

Harvey Feldman from King's Point, New York, is Treasurer of the junior class, Vice President of Alpha Delta Sigma, Assistant to the Athletic Director, and a member of S.A.M.

Peter G. Fenton, of Madison, N.J., is President of the Glee Club, Secretary of the junior class, Co-Chairman of the Projection Committee, and Treasurer of Alpha Kappa Psi.

Sunday, February 7, the club held a mixer in the Fo's's'le. Members of the Pine Manor Junior College International Relations Club were present as guests of the Babson group.

BAKER LIBRARY RESTRICTS USE

Harvard University's Baker Library has informed Babson Librarian, Mrs. Bowser, that the Library has closed its doors to all persons not members or alumni of either Harvard or Radcliffe College. The action was taken not in a discriminatory move against Babson men in particular, but in an attempt to alleviate the growing crowded conditions at Baker caused by the many outside students using library facilities for study and as a source of material.

The letter to Mrs. Bowser announcing the new policy stated in part, "Baker Library is open only to those members and alumni of Harvard University and Radcliffe College and to others who have been granted library privileges. Those privileges will be granted to any of your faculty or students who have made full use of your own library and who are recommended to us by a letter from you."

The action taken by Harvard follows similar policies set up by the libraries at Wellesley College, Harvard Law School, and M.I.T.

NOTICE

The regular edition of the Babson Globe-News will not be published next week. The Parody Issue will be on sale at the Formal Dance Friday night and throughout the weekend.

— EDITORIALS —

A page one story in this issue tells of the decision by Baker Library at the Harvard Business School to limit use of its facilities to Harvard and Radcliffe students and alumni. Baker is not the first university library in this area to take such action; Wellesley, M.I.T., and the Harvard Law School had previously made similar announcements.

None of these schools were discriminatory in their bans; the rules apply to all outside students from any school other than that limiting its facilities. This rash of restraining regulations has come about because so many outside people were crowding the libraries that students of the school involved were either not getting proper use of the facilities or because these "foreign" students caused some disturbances as the result of their numbers.

It just might be that through these bans the schools involved may force Babson students into using their own library facilities, a task no one at this school has been able to accomplish. Despite many student comments to the contrary, the Sir Isaac Newton Library contains a wealth of material on business matters. While the collection at this school is not complete or as large as that at Baker Library, it is far more inclusive than most students give it credit for being.

Attempts have been made by several people on many occasions to acquaint the Babson students with their library but much of the effort has been for naught. The library staff is constantly urging greater use of the building and its contents, the faculty has often emphasized the potential of the facilities for study and research purposes, the administration pours a constant flow of funds into the purchase of new material and to the upkeep and advancement of the physical plant, and this paper has stressed the importance of the library.

If Babson men can be made to see the true value of their own library only by being locked out of other area reference rooms a worthwhile service has been performed.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

With this issue of the Babson Globe-News student journalism on this campus marks its thirteenth anniversary. The face and physical shape of the various newspapers published here have changed many times over the years. The name has been changed from the Babson News to the Babson Beaver and now carries its present banner. The one tie binding student journalism efforts through the years has been the attempt by every newspaper staff to publish a better paper than those preceding. With all due credit to the tireless staffs of the past and with a humble excuse for blowing our own horn, we of the 1959-60 staff feel we have accomplished our goal. This admission is not to be constructed as an indication that we have stopped our advance. We are still striving to improve on our own work and to bring increased coverage of all information concerning the school and the people in its community to our readers.

Happy birthday to us.

Rogues Romp 55-30
 Notch Win No. 4

Coach Al Foshay's varsity basketball club, affectionately self-titled Roger's Rogues, chalked up their fourth win in five starts when they walloped the Needham American Legion outfit 55 to 30 last Saturday night. Tomorrow night the Rogues tackle the Harvard J.V.'s.

Using fast breaks and fancy shots from the bucket our Rogues jumped off to an easy 17-7 first quarter lead. However, Needham closed the gap to 21-17 at halftime and proceeded to knot the score 21 all in the first minute of the second half. At this point the Foshaymen really came to life and poured 21 points through the hoop in the remaining seven minutes of the third quarter to take a commanding 42-23 lead. From there on in, it was merely a matter of how big the final score would be.

"Bill" Sharpe led the scoring parade with 18 points, closely followed by "Art" Adamson and Carl Swanson with 14 and 13 tallies respectively. "Red" Evans and "Moose" Kime, guards, starred (See Page Three)

Grievance Committee Is Formed

For the past four months there have been many gripes and complaints about living conditions in Park Manor. Well, something is now being done about them; for at the instigation of Richard Park, a grievance committee was formed which is made up of six representatives, two from each floor of Park Manor. The men elected were: Dwight Hollister, Stanley Eilenberg, Austin Starr, John J. Gallagher, Russell E. O'Neal and Robert D. Kershaw. These men will act as a committee for the improvement of living and working conditions in Park Manor.

The Park Manor Committee will consider any complaints concerning living conditions, dining room facilities, mail service, or any other function performed in Park Manor. Suggestions for improvement will be accepted by the committee and thoroughly discussed. When advisable, these suggestions will be presented to the proper authorities. It is hoped by the members of the committee that the students of Park Manor will voluntarily cooperate, and that a better atmosphere of peace and quiet will result.

PRESIDENT HINCKLEY
 WELCOMES NEWSPAPER

Dr. Hinckley, when approached by the Editor of THE BABSON NEWS, was happy to hear of the paper's progress and in turn gave his full support to the staff. In his own words: "I am happy to welcome to the campus the new student newspaper of Babson Institute." The full text of his letter follows:

I am happy to welcome to the campus the new student newspaper of Babson Institute. I believe it will fill a real need among faculty and students.

In the first place, such a newspaper can make the students, the faculty, and the administration mutually better acquainted. From this acquaintance will grow that understanding essential to the solution of our common problems.

In the second place, a newspaper such as this can serve in the building up of that loyalty and esprit de corps that is the essential foundation stone of any joint enterprise such as this. From Mr. Roger W. Babson, the founder of the Institute, down to the youngest member of the class which entered last month, we are all, faculty and students alike, seeking a common end — the best program of business training possible. And in that enterprise no one group can succeed or fail alone. For this reason it is imperative that we understand one another and learn to work with one another. The better the school, the better the student — and vice versa!

How can this cooperation best be achieved? I believe one way it can be achieved is by the realization of the importance of the Student Council. Through a Student Council responsive to the constructive suggestions of faculty, administration, and students alike, we can find ways of expressing our ideas for the improvement of the program, including both scholastic and extra curricular activities. Through the Council we can exchange views and initiate reforms. It is vital therefore that you support your Student Council, and I can promise you the Administration will be glad to work with the Council at all times.

One final thought: Are there any song writers among us? We ought to have an Alma Mater song! I suggest the paper undertake to promote a contest for the words and/or music of a college song.

EDWARD B. HINCKLEY,
 President.

Name Your Paper

Poll To Determine Name of Newspaper

Here's your chance, fellows, to satisfy that yen you've always had to name a big-time newspaper. We supply the newspaper — you supply the name. That "Babson News" heading flying from the mast of the issue is there just temporarily until you suggest a better one. Something snappy, something clever — or maybe you're from Back Bay and would prefer a rather dignified title.

Here's a suggestion — "Babson's Babble," or perhaps "Babson's Reports, Jr.," and then it might be "Ticker Tape" or "Profit and Loss." Use your imagination, set your humor to work; dig up the winning name.

Babson's Formal Dance

By JEFF SUPEN

"Remember February 28." On this date the Babson formal is scheduled to be held at the Hotel Somerset in Boston.

It is promised to be the gala affair of the season with Chappie Arnold and his twelve to fifteen piece orchestra furnishing music. Yes, the same Chappie Arnold that played at the Student Council dance on January 21 at Knight Auditorium. The girls and fellows enjoyed the dance tempo that he provided with only a six piece band, hence the added maestros should set him "solid."

Pictures will be taken at the formal for the "Babsonian Year Book," so come one, come all, join the crowd for an entertaining evening.

Babson Debating
 Society to Meet B. U.

The newly formed Babson Debating Society is beginning its debating season with a bang this year by scheduling debates with such schools as Boston University, Wellesley, Harvard, and M. I. T.

The first debate to be held will be at 4:00 p.m. next Friday when the Affirmative Team meets the Boston University Negative Team at Boston University. The subject to be debated is the National Debate Topic for the year; "Resolved: That Labor should have a direct share in the management of Industry." Al Deckel and Joe Sullivan will be the representatives from Babson who take on the B. U. debaters.

A return debate on the same subject will be held next Friday, February 27, 1947, at 7:00 p.m., in Room D of the Library of Babson Institute. At that time the negative team from Babson — John Dunlap and Seymour Ingraham, will debate the varsity Affirmative team which B. U. will send out here.

Other debates have been scheduled in March, April, and May of this year. A debate with Wellesley College will be held on March 7 at Wellesley, and a return debate will be held with Wellesley in the library here the following week.

Babson Student
 Federalist Chapter

At a recent meeting the members of the Babson Student Federalist Chapter heard Mr. Gaffney, noted Federalist speaker, give a talk on World Government. In the text of his speech he told the student members just what the Student Federalists were attempting to accomplish.

Student Federalists from the surrounding area met in Boston to select delegates for the National Convention to be held in Asheville, N. C. between February 21-23. At this convention there will be representatives of all separate world government organizations from practically every state in the union. Their purpose will be to discuss merger plans and to formulate long term objectives.

Don't Forget —
 NAME THE PAPER!

This is a reprint of the first issue of the "Babson News", this campus's first student newspaper. It was distributed on February 14, 1947. Today's issue of the Globe-News marks the thirteenth anniversary of student Journalism at Babson Institute.

ON THE STREET

Although the averages advanced last week the performance of the market as a whole was poor. Declines outnumbered advances by a substantial margin and market leadership was again poor. Friday steels lead the decline after several analysts thought that the steel companies were "whistling in the dark" about a record first half. There also seems to be some substantial shifting from stocks to bonds. This coupled with the noticeable absence of institutional buying has temporarily lent a bearish cast to the market.

Thus I am aligning the supervised portfolio to conform more closely with the prevailing attitude. I am selling both Amerade Petroleum and Massey Ferguson. Existing in the economy today there seems to be a constant, nagging, oversupply of oil products which has been plaguing the industry off and on for years. Although Massey represents what I believe to be a real value at its current price the outlook for the agricultural implement industry seems to have worsened lately. Therefore I am selling M-F at a small loss. You might say these two sales are attempts to cull the "weak sisters" out of the portfolio. Replacing these issues are three Federal National Mortgage Association bonds, the 3 5/8's of March 1968, selling at 90½ to yield 5.0% to maturity.

Market Notes

The master watch list after deletions now looks like this: Tung Sol @ 36, Martin 42, Philips Electronics 36, Paddington 18 and Philco common at 23 3/4. To this list I am adding Spiegel at 37½, Maryland Casualty 35 and Laboratory for Electronics at 34. Sometime in the future one of these stocks may become a part of the portfolio.

BEAVERS TAKE THREE STRAIGHT

Last week the Beaver quintet were the victors in two of their scheduled three games. In the first game of the week the Warriors from Merrimack had a little too much height as they edged the Babson five to a thrill-packed 66-63 defeat.

MERRIMACK'S HEIGHT

Merrimack's height plus their fast downcourt play proved to be too menacing for a fighting Babson squad. Halftime found the Warriors out in front by a wide margin, but as the second half progressed the Beavers came within three points of victory. The clincher came when Babson missed two free attempts due to a technical foul. Polhemus put in two free throws in the final seconds of play but it was not enough to close the now five point gap.

POLHEMUS AND BENNETT EXCEL

Standouts for Babson were Polhemus with 22 points and the rough backboard work of Bennett.

BABSON 73, LOWELL TECH 58

The Beavers evened up their play for the week by defeating a game squad from the textile town of Lowell, Mass., 73-58.

Babson's fast play was too oppressive for the Tech team which allowed the Beaver five a staggering 39 attempts on the free throw line. The Beavers then converted on 25 of these attempts for an impressive .640 average as opposed to a slight .588 for Lowell.

The Beavers were hot from all points on the court as they not only outscored the Tech-ers from the free throw line but also took a ten point edge on the floor.

BRIGGS SCORES 26

Stan Briggs put in a sensational performance as he doubled his season average of 13 points by scoring an impressive 26 points. Ken Polhemus also put in many goals over his season average as he scraped up 19 points.

BEAVERS 82, WINDHAM 73

The Babson squad took their second victory of the week from a strong Windham team, 82-73, to put the Beavers' intercollegiate and inter-Armed Forces record at 5 wins against 7 losses.

Windham's trouble seemed simple enough; not enough scorers. Only two of Windham's hoopsters gave the Beavers much trouble in the scoring department; Anderson and DeFloria, with 25 and 18 points respectively. Babson's win can further be attributed to an impressive .790 average on the free throw line.

BRIGGS AND POLHEMUS

Stan Briggs was once again the high man for Babson with 24 points, with his usual second place partner, Ken Polhemus, scoring 21 points. Briggs average has now climbed to 15 points per game with Polhemus close behind with 14 points per game.

In a game that saw Stan Briggs sidelined with a leg injury, and Dick Duffy thrown out of the game for "over-zealous" play, the Babson hoopsters fought off the mighty Bisons from Nichols College in a thrill-packed victory, 60-49.

The Beaver zone, which was in use during the early minutes of play, was too weak to stop the taller, hard-driving offense of the Bisons; Togo soon switched the boys to a man-to-man defense which Nichols was not able to break through for the remainder of the game.

Offensively, there was no stopping the Beavers; time after time Bill Lunnie put on a one man show of ball-handling which drew the Nichols defense away from the foul lanes and out to mid-court leaving the center open for the hard-driving layups of Mike DeMakis and Ken Polhemus.

TEMPERS HOT

Rough play seemed to be the main dish Tuesday night as the two teams accumulated a professional looking 52 personal fouls, including a technical imposed upon Nichols during a scrape with Bill Lunnie. Contributing to the generally belligerent atmosphere was Bennett's usual smashing rebounding.

POLHEMUS AND BENNETT HIGH

While the Babson Beaver, Dave Lerner, wasn't impressing the fans with his fancy shooting, Ken Polhemus and Bob Bennett managed to force 15 points apiece out of the Bison defense to share the high scoring honors.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

In the first of two games played Tuesday, February 2, the strong Off-Campus squad was pitted against Pub-Coleman. The first half was fast moving and at the buzzer the score was 34-23 in favor of Off-Campus.

In the second half the commuters ran wild scoring 34 points while limiting Pub-Coleman to only 21. The final score of this game was 68-44 in favor of Off-Campus.

In the other game of the day Park Manor met Park Manor South. In the first half Manor held a slight lead of 26-22.

In the second half they opened the lead to 16 points at one time but South fought back and at the final buzzer the score was 50-44 in favor of Manor.

— From The Sidelines —

BY PETE BUCHANAN

The evening meal before the basketball game started in much the same manner as it usually does. The meal line gave no hint of the activity to follow a few hours later. As the hour hand approached six, the basketball manager entered the dining hall with five girls in tow. This began the series of unusual events for this night. Perhaps it was here that the undercurrent of enthusiasm awakened. The grapevine operated swiftly. It took only that time required to place the chicken on the plate before these girls were labeled "cheerleaders".

"Cheerleaders at the game tonight," a man murmured, and the wheels spun.

THE EXPLOSION

At seven thirty the gym held only a few basketball players. At quarter of eight a reserved crowd drifted in, only to become in the next few minutes a fanatical mob demanding death of the Nichols quintet. At eight o'clock the players took their positions on the floor. Nichols controlled the jump at center, worked the ball towards the basket, shot, missed, Babson rebounded, rapidly moved towards Nichols end, shot, and: swish. Quickly the score was tallied and, just as quickly, the crowd belched forth its approval. The noise swelled and abated in series during the game, swelling again and again, each time with increased furor. The crowd participated. Threats to Beavers brought not only boisterous disapproval from the crowd but fans onto the floor as they became obsessed with their team's success.

This game had a history. In the Babson Invitational Tournament, and in a game at Nichols, Babson went down to defeat. Keyed up to the maximum commitment, Babson would accept nothing short of victory. The first half saw Babson take the lead only to lose it in the very beginning of the second half. Rallying as swiftly and as treacherously as a scorpion, Babson moved in front and plunged the stinger deeply.

BOBBY BENNETT AN ANSWER

A weakness of Babson in their many games has been the lack of height. Bob Bennett solved this. Exploding off the boards with both arms flailing the air and anything nearby, Bennett secured the ball and made ready for offensive attack. Scoring some from the field but many from the foul line, Bennett lead the way to a crushing win over Nichols. When it was time for defense Bob also starred. Nichols' Steve Smith, a killer on any court, was blanketed by Bennett. Held to five points in the first half and in the second, Smith, Nichols most effective weapon, never got off the launching pad.

And so the team went working methodically and dangerously toward the victory. The Undercurrent which has laid dormant for so long erupted with intense fury as the fanatical fans were pitched into the revelation of a winning team.

JAYVEES WIN

On Tuesday, January 26, the Beaver J.V.'s traveled to Cambridge to take on Chamberlyne College.

After a very poorly played first half, the score stood 22 all.

In the second half, however, an inspired Babson team took command. Paine and Smith controlled the boards and passed off to Lerner who started the fast break. With the fast break working very effectively, the Beavers, behind the scoring of McPhate and Lerner, rolled it up. The final score was 67-43. With Lerner, Smith, Paine and McPhate all hitting double figures, it turned out to be a glorious night for the Beavers.

In Peavey Gymnasium on January 28, the Junior Varsity took on Cambridge School of Radio and Television. This was the second meeting between the two clubs with Babson taking the first one. In this game, however, the tide was turned, and a favored Babson team went down to defeat. The game was marked with an unusual event when with three minutes and thirty-three seconds left in the third period, Johnny Most (Celtic announcer) entered the game for the visitors. Although Mr. Most did not give much help to his team, they were able to keep the lead, and went on to win 51-46.

MAUGUS CLUB TOPS BIRDMEN

The team match with Maugus Club of Wellesley showed up the inexperience of the Beaver crew as it was downed nine matches to none.

SINGLES LOST

In the men's singles Bill Goodman of Maugus defeated Dave Sime of Babson 15-2, 15-5. Anthony Greene over Yod-Gin Uahwatanasakul of Babson 15-5, 15-5. Bill Von Rosenvinge defeated Sukum Raiva 15-5, 15-0, in the other single matches Don Lumsden and Harvey Winchester of Maugus defeated Eliot Conviser and Dick Kates respectively.

In the doubles we fared no better, losing all our matches.

FIRST-RATE OPPONENTS

The Babson squad ran into competition somewhat over their heads. Bill Goodman is ranked fourth in the East via most seedings and he caught Dave Sime on the slippery courts where his speed was no advantage. Tony Green is one of the top juniors in the state and won the doubles at the state tournament two weeks ago. Von Rosenvinge was a finalist in the same tournament and the rest of the Maugus crew had considerable experience over the Babson men. The Beavers played well and should look better against teams of their own class.

CINEMA

The Telepix is indeed proud to run Grand Illusion, made in 1938, which is playing to capacity audiences on two continents today. Starring the late Eric Von Stroheim, and Jean Gabin, the great anti-war pictures has defied all the changes which have occurred in the more than two decades which have passed since its premiere engagement. Made on the eve of World War II, the picture was banned in Germany and Italy, and was subsequently cut and edited by the Germans during their occupation of France. However, a second complete negative was discovered years later, and this complete version was chosen as one of the six best films of all times at 1958 Brussels Film Festival.

Nevil Shute's bestseller, On the Beach, premiered last Wednesday at the RKO Keith Memorial, and has been made into a remarkably absorbing film; which depicts the aftermath of a nuclear war, and the passionate convictions among the few sole survivors left on earth. Leading roles are brilliantly played by a fine cast: Gregory Peck, Ava Gardner, Anthony Perkins and Fred Astair (in his first serious role.)
