William R. Dill
President
To the Class of 1986:

I write these words of congratulations and good wishes for your lives beyond Babson with some humility. I still look back now and then at my own undergraduate yearbook, but it has never been to reread the message from the president or dean. In the pages before and after these words, I hope you will find what the Babsonian is really for. It should be a reminder of classmates, teachers, and counselors and of the many things, academic to zany, that made up your years with us.

For us, it will be a memory of a vintage class -- one that has provided strong leadership for Student Government and many other organizations; one that has shown its talent and style in the classrooms, in the interview rooms of the Office of Career Services, and on stage at Founder's Day; one that has given Babson many exciting moments in men's and women's sports; and one that has already demonstrated capacities to succeed in business and in community service.

You graduate at a time of great opportunity and challenge. The need for fresh approaches to the management of old enterprises and for imagination in creating new ones has never been greater. Business is being pressed for higher levels of both economic and civic performance. To play your part, your Babson education gives you advantages of preparation that, for example, none of this year's Distinguished Entrepreneurs -- Messrs. Christiansen, Crow, and Prager -- had. Use that advantage -- and even more importantly, use the talents and enthusiasm that you have shown here. Whatever you set out to do, try to do it as well as they have. Look for ways of doubling satisfaction by doing things that benefit others as well as meeting your own goals. Keep your capacity to live, love, and have some fun along the way.
