EDITORIAL POINTS

We can no longer afford to be just blacks and whites. We must all be Americans first, last, and always.

The American Dream is disappearing as rapidly as clean air and water.

Democrats and Republicans are not really different—donkeys and elephants both have their respective asses.

When your luck is down, keep your courage up. The tide always turns. (But watch out for floods!)

Truth lies somewhere between the Pentagon and CBS.

A sudden frost can turn a May grad into a December grad.
