DELTA SIG ALUMNUS CONTRIBUTES TO COMMONS
Babson Alumni
Volpe To Speak
At Boston Meeting

All undergraduate and graduate students of the Institute are invited to attend the annual Spring Biennial meeting of the Boston Babson Alumni Club, to be held in the Conference Ball Room, in the President’s Club, on Thursday evening, May 20. Refreshments will be served.

Governor John A. Volpe, who was originally scheduled to deliver an address titled "It takes Sense to be for the Sales Tax" at a meeting of the Babson Institute Alumni Association Thursday evening, May 20, at the New Seelors-Boston Hotel, will, in addition, comprise his program with what he termed "plans of the occasion."

"Normally," he said, "the Governor would elaborate and expand on his original plans to show a contrast between his (Volpe’s) comprehensive tax program and that offered by "other.""

The Governor has spoken before the Babson student body several times in the past but his appearance Thursday will be his first appearance before the Alumni group.

Babson in a College of Business Administration, and many graduates hold high positions in bazaars, firms and corporations.

Volpe, who recently welcomed a donation of $5,000 from Bankers Trust to the Boston Bar Association, was, in particular, a student of the Babson program and, as such, was well known to the students.

Volpe’s address will be given by President Stapleton, President of the Boston Babson Alumni Club, who issued the invitation.

Graduates, their guests, faculty, and the administration are cordially invited to attend the buffet luncheon at the Gordon M. Trinn Dining Hall following Baccalaureate and the President’s Reception at the Auditorium Annex following Commencement.

Each member of the graduating class is entitled to receive 6 announcements and 6 invitations, except that married students may have 6 invitations. A few extra announcements may be had by those requesting them. Graduating seniors do not need invitations for themselves. Announcements should be mailed on graduation day.

Confering of Degrees in Absentia

Exempt in cases of unusual circumstances, it is not the policy of the Institute to grant degrees in absentia. Any member of the class who finds it impossible to attend Commencement may receive his degree in absentia only by obtaining written permission from the Administration. A request for the granting of the degree in absentia must be made in writing, addressed to President Kristol, no later than May 10, 1966.

HELP WANTED!

We often hear the statement "What this place needs is...," followed by such things as more classes, more money, more better teachers, rarely is this criticism truly constructive; that is, progress for improvements are not often given to the ills being complained about. One of the many things the Institute needs that would lead to the elimination of many of the faults listed above is a strong, active alumni association.

People who have graduated from Babson more than a handful of years back have never heard from the school since. Numerous complaints have reached our ears about lack of invitation or even notification of the previous Fall Homecoming Weekend. When approached for funds for the new dining hall, some alumni were quite indignant, asking what the school had done for them recently.

A strong and efficient alumni association could be a major fundraising effort for Babson. An alumni just a few years after graduation is more than likely in a much better financial condition than he was during his days as a student. It is in his interest to donate needed funds for worthwhile projects to help his alma mater. Babson needs money, not only for buildings, but for scholarships, athletic improvements, and for many other purposes.

School spirit should be improved so that the alumni are conditioned and willing to help. Even the casual freshman hazing period, if improved, could do a lot in this direction. Each student must be made aware of what Babson has done for him so that he will someday become a grateful alumnus.

The Institute has been fortunate in the past to have the financial backing of Mr. Roger W. Babson, but it is desirable to have other men able to assist their alma mater if they wanted to do so.

Yet here lies the entire problem. The man who graduates this spring will almost immediately forget Babson. The school spirit that exists here student elections, sports, etc., is not strong enough. Some school-sponsored social events is testimonial to this fact. Obviously, if a man has no feeling for his school while he is here, how is he to develop such spirit after graduation?

Before closing, let me say just a word about the future, and the responsibilities that await you. The future is a time of change and improving your craft is not something that can be easily achieved. It is a time of dynamic and alive your alma mater will be a key player in that growth. Make it so. Every class makes worthwhile contributions, either directly or indirectly to the class, are a source of satisfaction and a source of pride for the college. It is continually happening. Consider, for example, the fact that the science major students in the Four-course Curriculum, the Beta Sigma Beta, the Economics, the Development, the Stores, the Colleges, the Alumni Organizational are all changes that have taken place since the current seniors entered college. There is no reason why they were not either suggested or was in the administrative planning stage some time before you arrived on campus.

The most interesting in these changes is that they would be realized, just as I am sure you, will be. It is clear that you have, with influence of the past experience is any criterion, is that the changes have happened.

Babson has been, and will continue to state, to dedicate to the pursuit of a concept: QUALITY is being stressed in the present and the future. This future is a bright and promising future, and in it, so you men who will be Babson 20,000 and 19,000 of the next generation.

Babson in Perspective

by Dean Paul C. Staake, Jr.

Webster says perspective is "a view of things or facts that shows them in a reasonable relationship to one another, and therefore easier for one to understand," or "a way of thinking or feeling that is often different from but related to the way other people think or feel." Perspective is dynamic and ever-improving. It is a way of thinking about the world that is always changing. It is a way of seeing things that is always evolving. It is a way of understanding the world that is always growing. It is a way of knowing the world that is always expanding. It is a way of living the world that is always changing.

National League Predictions

the plate the Braves have the best chance of getting a little offensive. Last season, these two teams had a high-scoring affair in Boston and the Braves are going to have to carry a big load.

S AN FRANCISCO GIANTS AND CINCINNATI REDS-3 place

This is just .20 higher than the Phils. The Giants have all the power whereas the Reds have all the pitching. The Giants have, of course, in the outfield with Johnnie LeMaster (17-13) and Bob Lemon (9-10) are going to have to carry a big load.

PITTSBURGH PIRATES - 7th Place

The Pirates are the best of the remaining clubs and if they don’t seem to have a chance to win the pennant. The outfield has Roberto Clemente, Bill Virdon, and either Jerry Lynch or Jim R呕吐t in. Clemente, of course, was the batting crown with a .309 average last season. Despite the injury to Bill Virdon, another fine young centerfielder, he will be backed up by veteran Del Crandall, Bob Feller (10-13), Al McAffie (6-3) and Bob Feller (10-13) need place in the pitching department.

CHICAGO CUBS - 8th Place

The Cubs are another improvement team, but they have to be in the running for the pennant. This year’s team has Bill Sianis (0-3), Johnny Antonelli, and Billy Williams who is batting .316 while the rest of the team is batting .100. With the Cubs in the pennant race, watch out for the Wrigley Field crowd who will support their team to the best of their ability.

Intrafraternity Athletics Resume; Delta Sigma Pi Holds Lead

The Beta Gamma Chapter has a rough season at the annual New England Inter-Collegiate Golf Association tournament. The team placed 34th out of 35 entrants with a team total of 665. The tournament was held at the beautiful Southampton Country Club in Groton, Connecticut.

First place was captured by the University of Rhode Island with a two-day team total of 302. They were closely followed by Worcester Poly Tech with a 308.

Individual low scoring honors went to John Parnes with a fine two-day total of 72-76 for 148, who attends the University of Hartford was the former Connecticut Junior Golf Champion. Guy Jacques D'Alconzo was the low man from Rhode Island with a two-day total of 79-75 for 154. He had the fourth best score in the tournament, however, eight golfers tied for third place with a two-day total of 152.

On the first day Rhode Island was in 16th position 5 strokes behind the University of Rhode Island. Our four best scores gave us a first day total of 331. Since we couldn't win the tournament, the team tried to place ahead of the stronger teams entered in the tournament. Unfortunately on the second day we were the annual New England teams during the regular season.

The team was very disappointed with the results. Boys did not come through with the golf they are capable of playing. There were no excuses. The weather was beautiful and the course was in good shape, except for the outcome.

The team played their last match of the season against Columbia College yesterday, the University of New Hampshire in the last day. This was by far the most successful golf season in the Beta Gamma history. The team had a mark of 15 wins and three losses going into their last match, Coach Duff and the golf team are to be congratulated on a truly fine season.
