In September more than two hundred new faces could be seen roving about the Babson campus. The class of '58 had made its debut. For most of the students it was a new experience away from home. They were on their own to do new things and to accomplish new goals. The Freshman class is well represented by South American students as well as students from Australia, France and Denmark. Shortly after the first term was on its way, the students elected a student council representative and an alternate to represent each of the six sections in the Student Council. The path was paved for their opinions to be voiced by the student government.

During the year, the freshmen made marketing field trips to Sears Roebuck, Star Markets, and to other large local concerns. Many lecturers came to increase the new students' outlook on the business world. By the concrete interest that has been shown, the class of '58 will be an asset to Babson.

Officers: Richard Buckley, President; (seated) Craig Klocker, Vice-President; Neil Abrahamson, Treasurer; James Buschini, Secretary.

The junior class ventured forth in 1956 under the auspices of the Class Council. The cooperative functioning of this body was placed in the hands of Bob Lutz, president; Ron Grolljahn, vice-president; Art Samuels, secretary; and Bob Jackson, treasurer. The Class Council consisted of Dave Bjornson, Joe DeFerrari, Ed Hamilton, John Russell, and Jack Woods. Weekly meetings were held to conduct the Class.

The annual class party was a huge success. It was held in the V.F.W. Hall on January 28th. The well-planned affair proved to be one of the best in recent years.

Members of the Class of '57 will long remember the traditional junior courses as well as the social life. Another page has been turned in the book of Babson Institute memories.

CLASS OFFICERS: Standing: Art Samuels, secretary; Bob Jackson, treasurer. Seated: Bob Lutz, president; Ron Grolljahn, vice-president.

YOUTH, THY WORDS NEED AN ARMY

"Only three milks and four desserts, today . . ."

"That must have been a good one.
Doctor . . ."

Who are your friends, Alex?
"Gimmie a nickel to play the CENSORED machine"

Silent meditation

"Gentlemens, Gentlemen, Good-morning, Good-morning"

So this is where you are . . .!
Egyptian Students

In July 1955, Mohamed Embaby and Soliman M. Kandi1 set foot on the Babson campus. On Founder’s Day, Soliman Kandi1 presented Babson with a flag of his native land, Egypt. He told the student body that the Egyptian government was subsidizing many students to go abroad to study. They are the first Egyptian students to go to Babson, and they show much promise for success. While here, they have participated in many activities that will benefit them a great deal. After finishing their studies at the Institute, they will resume their government posts in Cairo. It is hoped that many more men like Soliman and Mohamed will have the opportunity to study at Babson.

There’s time for work . . .

. . . and time for play.
A man, to have friends,
must be a friend. This process is speeded by organization.

- - R. E. M.