NAVAL OFFICER COMMISSIONS OPEN TO BABSON GRADS

On Thursday, October 27, a Navy team in charge of Lieutenant Commander Robert Greer, U.S.N., will make its annual visit to our campus for the purpose of discussing and explaining the commissioned officer programs available to qualified college seniors and graduate students. These officers will initiate the processing of any student who desires to apply for officer training. Personal attention will be given to the special point and may start work immediately after graduation. A

The Navy's officer Candidate School has long enjoyed a top reputation and offers an interesting program of training.

One special graduate school will be made directly to the graduate student who submits the best advertising slogan with supporting brief of not more than 300 words for House of Edgworth smoking tobacco. The beauty of the second $500 award will be the graduate student who submits the best mass mailing slogan to the college market.

A plaque bearing Col. May's name will be hung on the wall.

Among those attending the ceremony were Dr. Gordon T. Trim, and Mrs. Victoria Mayes of 24 Andrew Road, Wellesley.

Gil. May served on the Babson faculty from 1947 until his death on January 1, 1960. He was the coordinator of the Army program at the Institute as well as the executive director of the Placement Council last June.

ANNOUNCES JOB COMPETITION

NEW YORK CIVIL SERVICE

Opportunity knocks at the doors of college junior, senior, graduate and graduate students. December 3. The PROFESSIONAL CAREER TESTING on that day offer a chance to start a challenging and rewarding career in New York State Government. Applications should be submitted by November 27.

The tests open the way to a great variety of jobs for college graduates. Successful candidates, if appointed, may start work immediately after graduation. A bachelor's degree, regardless of the field provided, is required for some positions. Other requirements include training or practical experiences.

Most appointments will be subject to a year as a trainee at a salary of $4,600 after which the salary rises to $4,998 with five years earning not less than $9,800. Successful candidates will be placed in the civil service at the $4,998 level. The State Department of Civil Service reports that opportunities for advancement are excellent.

Most top civil service positions are reached by promotion from within the ranks. Directors and other top administrators earn salaries up to $15,700. Appointments are made continuously throughout the year and especially at graduation when many students become available for work. Citizenship is a requirement for appointment but candidates need not be residents of New York State.

The Department of Civil Service urges graduates and students pursuing graduate work who are thinking seriously about entering State service to apply at once. Applications for professional and full information may be obtained at college placement offices or by writing to the Recruitment Unit, State Department of Civil Service, The State Capitol, Albany, N.Y.

U.S.R. MAGAZINE SUBSCRIPTION BRINGS F.B.I. SCRUTINY

BETTILEHEM, PA. (UPI) — A chance subscription to a State magazine by a junior business major has touched off a thorough investigation by the F.B.I. into his background and standing as an American citizen.

The junior told the Brown and White that the magazine he subscribed to, U.S.R., is considered by the F.B.I. to be subversive and a general source of Communist propaganda.

The biannual story began two years ago when, as a green freshman, he entered into a conversation with his roommate about the subscription to the magazine. Usually he then took a copy of U.S.R. from the magazine rack.

On the inside cover he observed the following subscription:

"The magazine is published by red/green agreement between underground groups in the U.S. and the Soviet Union. The agreement provides for publication and circulation of the magazine U.S.R. in the U.S. and the magazine America in the Soviet Union."

It appeared to be an interesting and informative magazine. Glancing through its pages, he became aware of an editorial concerning the Presidential Election today.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION TODAY

Jumping the gun somewhat, the student body of Babson Institute is today conducting a mock election, giving the voters opportunity to express their preferences. No vote for the President of the United States. While a mock election is not a unique thing on a college campus in general, this is the first, it is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level. It is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level.

The room will be used as a mock voting booth of Babson Institute's Student Government. The room will be used as a polling place.

DEAN STEPHENS WINS NATIONAL HONORS

Henry E. Stephens, Dean of Students and Director of Placement recently attended a conference of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association in Manchester, Vermont.

Dean Stephens was elected a national vice-president in charge of association relations at an executive meeting of the College Placement Council last June.

The magazine was published by a national liberal publisher in charge of association relations at an executive meeting of the College Placement Council last June.

Winning the second $500 award was the student body of Babson Institute. It is today conducting a mock election, giving the voters opportunity to express their preferences. No vote for the President of the United States. While a mock election is not a unique thing on a college campus in general, this is the first, it is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level. It is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level.

The room will be used as a mock voting booth of Babson Institute's Student Government. The room will be used as a polling place.

DEAN STEPHENS WINS NATIONAL HONORS

Henry E. Stephens, Dean of Students and Director of Placement recently attended a conference of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association in Manchester, Vermont.

Dean Stephens was elected a national vice-president in charge of association relations at an executive meeting of the College Placement Council last June.

Winning the second $500 award was the student body of Babson Institute. It is today conducting a mock election, giving the voters opportunity to express their preferences. No vote for the President of the United States. While a mock election is not a unique thing on a college campus in general, this is the first, it is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level. It is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level.

The room will be used as a mock voting booth of Babson Institute's Student Government. The room will be used as a polling place.

DEAN STEPHENS WINS NATIONAL HONORS

Henry E. Stephens, Dean of Students and Director of Placement recently attended a conference of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association in Manchester, Vermont.

Dean Stephens was elected a national vice-president in charge of association relations at an executive meeting of the College Placement Council last June.

Winning the second $500 award was the student body of Babson Institute. It is today conducting a mock election, giving the voters opportunity to express their preferences. No vote for the President of the United States. While a mock election is not a unique thing on a college campus in general, this is the first, it is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level. It is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level.

The room will be used as a mock voting booth of Babson Institute's Student Government. The room will be used as a polling place.

DEAN STEPHENS WINS NATIONAL HONORS

Henry E. Stephens, Dean of Students and Director of Placement recently attended a conference of the Eastern College Personnel Officers Association in Manchester, Vermont.

Dean Stephens was elected a national vice-president in charge of association relations at an executive meeting of the College Placement Council last June.

Winning the second $500 award was the student body of Babson Institute. It is today conducting a mock election, giving the voters opportunity to express their preferences. No vote for the President of the United States. While a mock election is not a unique thing on a college campus in general, this is the first, it is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level. It is to be conducted at Babson, to the $4,988 level.

The room will be used as a mock voting booth of Babson Institute's Student Government. The room will be used as a polling place.
Men's Mirror

During October of 1959 the American student returning to campus was greeted by radical changes in men's clothing. Magazines and shops were filled with pictures of the free market, Cuba was forced to accept, willing or not. Possibly this was our first mistake, for had we responded by at least matching Russian fashion, we might have been accepted. But instead we waited until too late, and then refused to protect the Russian crude oil at the suffering families in Cuba which were owned by American oil companies. Castro thus may have been able to turn the Russian fold by the unwillingness of American business and/or government to stop foraying into a saving hand to a new government here in our own hemisphere.

This is not intended to justify Cuba's return of foreign business interests on the island, any more than it is intended to justify Castro's actions at Khruschev's coattails in New York. Rather, it is hoped that some few of us may put two and two together and begin to realize that the days are gone when a "hands off" policy would work, that in an era where national feeling is burgeoning forth all over the world we must act quickly or lose our chance; and that we must act with constructive programs, real economic assistance, and deep understanding of the interests and aspirations of the people.

CAMPUS SOUNDINGS

By Larry Frohman

In the year 1958 Stephen Arnold Douglas and Abraham Lincoln met to debate such topics as slavery, succession, and the method of voting. This debate marked the first formal arguments between two presidential candidates.

Today beltless fashion is the second historical debate that have taken place between such men, whose fashions have been variously described as the "Vest Club".

The question this week is: Have the debates in any way influenced your opinion of either of the presidential candidates?

I was a confirmed Republican at the beginning of the debate and I still am. I think Nixon gave the better argument of equals. Given the difference in the current and style today, it is difficult to criticize this concept of fashion. I am certainly what some would call a "liberal person" and I feel that some critics in the form of criticism can be safely made by the observant person: Pants people and authors, and the like, are important, change and cut jackets are obviously too obtrusive. Change is a gradual process. You can't draw the line. A line is your starting point. Your doesn't necessarily mean that it's not a good or bad thing. There are lines. There are patterns. Extremes look out of place. Change is a gradual process. You can cut and change.

Wait! Don't buy your clothes without a thought. No, the debate has not affected my opinion concerning the candidates. I have not decided who my final choice is. This is due to the different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Your choice of documents is your own. I have been greatly influenced by the debates. I have watched them carefully since they have been under discussion. My opinion has been saved in different directions by the different debates. I have not yet decided who my final choice is. This is due to different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Robert C. Edward Ordnance Corps

CAMAUS SOUNDINGS

By Larry Frohman

In the year 1958 Stephen Arnold Douglas and Abraham Lincoln met to debate such topics as slavery, succession, and the method of voting. This debate marked the first formal arguments between two presidential candidates.

Today beltless fashion is the second historical debate that have taken place between such men, whose fashions have been variously described as the "Vest Club".

The question this week is: Have the debates in any way influenced your opinion of either of the presidential candidates?

I was a confirmed Republican at the beginning of the debate and I still am. I think Nixon gave the better argument of equals. Given the difference in the current and style today, it is difficult to criticize this concept of fashion. I am certainly what some would call a "liberal person" and I feel that some critics in the form of criticism can be safely made by the observant person: Pants people and authors, and the like, are important, change and cut jackets are obviously too obtrusive. Change is a gradual process. You can't draw the line. A line is your starting point. Your doesn't necessarily mean that it's not a good or bad thing. There are lines. There are patterns. Extremes look out of place. Change is a gradual process. You can cut and change.

Wait! Don't buy your clothes without a thought. No, the debate has not affected my opinion concerning the candidates. I have not decided who my final choice is. This is due to the different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Your choice of documents is your own. I have been greatly influenced by the debates. I have watched them carefully since they have been under discussion. My opinion has been saved in different directions by the different debates. I have not yet decided who my final choice is. This is due to different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Robert C. Edward Ordnance Corps

CAMAUS SOUNDINGS

By Larry Frohman

In the year 1958 Stephen Arnold Douglas and Abraham Lincoln met to debate such topics as slavery, succession, and the method of voting. This debate marked the first formal arguments between two presidential candidates.

Today beltless fashion is the second historical debate that have taken place between such men, whose fashions have been variously described as the "Vest Club".

The question this week is: Have the debates in any way influenced your opinion of either of the presidential candidates?

I was a confirmed Republican at the beginning of the debate and I still am. I think Nixon gave the better argument of equals. Given the difference in the current and style today, it is difficult to criticize this concept of fashion. I am certainly what some would call a "liberal person" and I feel that some critics in the form of criticism can be safely made by the observant person: Pants people and authors, and the like, are important, change and cut jackets are obviously too obtrusive. Change is a gradual process. You can't draw the line. A line is your starting point. Your doesn't necessarily mean that it's not a good or bad thing. There are lines. There are patterns. Extremes look out of place. Change is a gradual process. You can cut and change.

Wait! Don't buy your clothes without a thought. No, the debate has not affected my opinion concerning the candidates. I have not decided who my final choice is. This is due to the different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Your choice of documents is your own. I have been greatly influenced by the debates. I have watched them carefully since they have been under discussion. My opinion has been saved in different directions by the different debates. I have not yet decided who my final choice is. This is due to different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Robert C. Edward Ordnance Corps

CAMAUS SOUNDINGS

By Larry Frohman

In the year 1958 Stephen Arnold Douglas and Abraham Lincoln met to debate such topics as slavery, succession, and the method of voting. This debate marked the first formal arguments between two presidential candidates.

Today beltless fashion is the second historical debate that have taken place between such men, whose fashions have been variously described as the "Vest Club".

The question this week is: Have the debates in any way influenced your opinion of either of the presidential candidates?

I was a confirmed Republican at the beginning of the debate and I still am. I think Nixon gave the better argument of equals. Given the difference in the current and style today, it is difficult to criticize this concept of fashion. I am certainly what some would call a "liberal person" and I feel that some critics in the form of criticism can be safely made by the observant person: Pants people and authors, and the like, are important, change and cut jackets are obviously too obtrusive. Change is a gradual process. You can't draw the line. A line is your starting point. Your doesn't necessarily mean that it's not a good or bad thing. There are lines. There are patterns. Extremes look out of place. Change is a gradual process. You can cut and change.

Wait! Don't buy your clothes without a thought. No, the debate has not affected my opinion concerning the candidates. I have not decided who my final choice is. This is due to the different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.

Your choice of documents is your own. I have been greatly influenced by the debates. I have watched them carefully since they have been under discussion. My opinion has been saved in different directions by the different debates. I have not yet decided who my final choice is. This is due to different opinions that have been brought up concerning economics, foreign affairs.
SPORTS

BRANDIES BOMBS BEAVERS

Oct. 11. The Babson Beaver soccer squad suffered its third defeat of the young season as the Jesuits from Fordham ran over the Babson defense in the first half.

The Beavers played a good game but the cards were stacked against them. Substitutes for Fordham which Beavan tried in vain to stop the too- strong offensive of the St. Francis SHUTS OUT

A spirited Babson squad traveled to Belfield, Maine last Saturday to meet the Lasaks of St. Francis College and were edged 2-1, as the large Parent’s Day crowd witnessed one of the better games of the soccer season. The Beavers attempted 36 shots at the St. Francis goal but could not crush the strong defense of the Lasaks. Babson showed excellent team work and accurate passing for the first time this season. Although St. Francis lost to New England College and Babson beat them, coach Tom Smith called all “a moral victory; the boys were spiritual, but that’s the breaks of the game.”

The outstanding offensive drive of St. Francis’ Berard and Millett forced Ken Polhemus to make many saves. The Lasaks never saw to stop the accurate goal shots of these two men.

Standouts for Babson were defencemen Flores and Thomas, their hawk-eyed backfield play enabled the Beavers to hold St. Francis to only two goals.

BEAVERS IN SOCCER

Mon., Oct. 17. Amid the grunts of having to carry the ball, the four50-man, 18-inch muscular, and tired feet, the first basketball tryout of the 90 season got under way with coach Tom Smith leading the group of 19 Freshmen, 2 Juniors, plus 5 returning letter-winners through a few light-upring exercises.

Although the new recruits lack height they show an abundance of spirit which had so well marked the Freshman Class to date.

Coach Tom Smith is extremely fortunate in that the nucleus of his new squad will be composed of five excellent letterman, Ken Polhemus, Stan Briggs, Don Padman, Bill Lunnine, and Mike DaMelia. This strong core of starters plus an eager bench of Freshmen and Juniors should equip Babson with the depth it has so often lacked in the past.

Behind the scenes Ronald Ward will handle the managerial details.

INTRAMURAL

On Oct. 11 Park Manor met the rebels of Pub-Coleman in the first intramural football game of the year. Both teams made a strong showing, and the spirit was high. The final score was Pub-Coleman 49, Park Manor 0. As the game got under way the rebels picked up a quick two points, when Bob Crotty scored a safety on the opening kickoff.

As the game moved on both sides dug in and refused to give an inch. Except for the first score, there was no other scoring until late in the fourth quarter.

With about three minutes left in the game, one of the Pub-men recovered a Park Manor fumble, Danny Gottlieb then completed two passes to Pete Lewis for the first score of the game. Just after the conversion, the game was finally over.

Suddenly Pub-Coleman 2 and 0. It looks like South is going to be the team to beat. They have a strong attack lead by Dick Deffy and Stan Briggs.

In their first game, they knocked off Off-Campus by a score of 18-0. Stan Briggs scored two of the touchdowns for South.

PUB-COL 9

MANOR 0

On Oct. 11 Park Manor met the rebels of Pub-Coleman in the first intramural football game of the year. Both teams made a strong showing, and the spirit was high. The final score was Pub-Coleman 49, Park Manor 0. As the game got under way the rebels picked up a quick two points, when Bob Crotty scored a safety on the opening kickoff.

As the game moved on both sides dug in and refused to give an inch. Except for the first score, there was no other scoring until late in the fourth quarter.

With about three minutes left in the game, one of the Pub-men recovered a Park Manor fumble, Danny Gottlieb then completed two passes to Pete Lewis for the first score of the game. Just after the conversion, the game was finally over.

Suddenly Pub-Coleman 2 and 0. It looks like South is going to be the team to beat. They have a strong attack lead by Dick Deffy and Stan Briggs.

In their first game, they knocked off Off-Campus by a score of 18-0. Stan Briggs scored two of the touchdowns for South.

GOLF TOURNAMENT

Thirty seven eager entrants signed up for the Fall Intramural Golf Tournament this week. Getting under way by next week the tournament will run well into the chilly days of November. All matches are to be played at the Sandy Burr Country Club in Wayland, with regulation match play rules being enforced.

JOE & SON BARBER SHOP

545 WASHINGTON ST.

WELLESLEY, MASS.

Tel. Cedar 5-9738

If We Please You — Tell Others

If We Don’t — Tell Us

WELCOME TO WELLESLEY SQUARE

WHEN THE LONE WOLF WENT ON A BLIND DATE THE GUY WAS A TERRIBLE WOLF...BUT YOU CAN’T ALWAYS BE THAT LUCKY.

ROMA ITALIAN-AMERICAN RESTAURANT

Pizza and Submarine Sandwiches

Weekdays until 12 P.M.

Fri., Sat., Sun., until 1:00 P.M.

Take Out Orders
Social Depreciation

By LEE G. GEORGIOUS

A wealth of fine music fills this season of connection, mostly smooth and perfectly synchronized by Dirk Bo­ speaker, Jorge Bolet is amaz­ ful to a March" and "The

With Vinny, will hold its annual mixer, "Hernetera for the new season last weekend.

For every calendar I longs to old Hip. Like him, and equipment. This gradual love in usefulli­ but arts of the home is most

for the home ownership maybe by thou­ ness, for one reason or anothe1·, to as well as with those who value, first time it the usefulness and amount of rent you pay each with the cost of depreciation.

The prices we pay and the succein cars up to 1912 or 1913, things

In computing the costs of deprecia­

and impurtant aspect s of depre­

of the understood what depreciation io, cost.'' gracious picture, one tion - as well there is nothing for them to do. home ownership maybe by thouamaz­

ful to a March" and "The Roosevelt rose to deliver his

the prices we pay and the success of our country in internationa

if you own a car, or twenty years. It makes no difference which of the of pianist Jorge Bolet is amaz­ ful to a March" and "The

as well.

HIDDE EFFECTS

"A Triple-Deckers" weekend policy

at 7:45 Mats Wed & Sat at 2

3.

homes, cars, busines­

for every calendar I

and impurtant aspect s of depre­

the prices we pay and the success of our country in internationa

of Mustangs, ownership, dry cleaner, gas station in one of the Quality Food Moderate Prices

For Sale

"We Sunshine Dairy

whom you deal — including even your doctor and dentist—

FOR SALE

"SUNSHINE DAIRY

FOR SALE

"The useful value of the buggy­

for the home ownership maybe by thou­

It makes no sense to let any of those things happen first. The

SUNSHINE DAIRY

FOR SALE

The useful value of the buggy­

for the home ownership maybe by thou­

It makes no sense to let any of those things happen first. The

SUNSHINE DAIRY

FOR SALE

The useful value of the buggy­

for the home ownership maybe by thou­

It makes no sense to let any of those things happen first. The