Spring Weekend to be Dry

On Wednesday afternoon the Council on Social and Student Practices meets to review the recommendations of the school lawyers, Davis, Davis, and Davis, concerning proposed changes in the drinking regulations on campus. The lawyers' report came about as a result of a letter written to the committee by half of student government by its president E. L. Kling. The following are the questions posed by President Kling and the answers given by the lawyers.

Would it be possible to allow alcoholic beverage consumption, on a bring-your-own basis, on the Babson campus in the following instances?

1. For all-school, student government-sponsored events (e.g., Fall, Spring, and Winter Weekends).

2. To be used: Dormitory lounges.

The answer, "We would recommend that this category be approved, for the same reasons set forth in category #1.

3. While category #2 refers to a closed function, it is our opinion that such a function is still sufficiently 'public' to allow therefore being held liable in the event that a person who attended such a function caused injury to a third party.

4. For closed dormitory social functions, Premises to be used: Dormitory lounges.

The answer, "If the desired function under category #3 was truly closed and also limited solely to the residents of the dormitory, we would be able to approve it, at least in theory, as a legitimate part of the school's policy of permitting limited social functions in their rooms. However, as an practical matter, in our opinion it would be impossible to do so." (continued page 7)

Mr. Peabody's lecture, which is being sponsored by the Babson Forum of Student Government, will be presented in the Fyll's Cafe, Park Mall North, on the campus at 7:00 p.m.

The subject of Mr. Peabody's commentary will be, The Contribution of Urban Politics, 1969. This sub-topic for discussion will be: The Emerging Role of Youth in Public Affairs.

An interesting and varied evening of entertainment is in store for those who attend the International Concert, scheduled by the Knight Auditorium at Babson Institute this Sunday, April 26, at 8:00 p.m. Presented by the Boston Council for Greek Freedom, this program will include many kinds of music, ranging from classical to folk to gospel.

Heading the list of outstanding performers is Constanine El Hale, the founder of the Boston Coun- cil, Blake, who has made several records, received wide acclaim both from audiences and critics during this European tour last spring and summer. His music is unusual and provocative, Blake is returning to Boston after a concert tour which has included a performance in Minneapolis.

Several artists will present a variety of folk music at this concert. The Wellesley Guitar Quartet, which includes two ex- tremely talented Wellesley Col- lege students, has won applause from many audiences in this area.

Ricardo Gauthier from the Dominican Republic and Andy Sexton will perform several of their own works.

The Boston Council is espe- cially happy to be able to pre- sent Joe Ferrand. An outstanding baritone, Ferrand recently ap- peared on the Johnny Carson Show. He received a standing ovation at Milham's.

Classical music for this con- cert will include selections played by Gwisle Casy on the piano and William Combs on the cello.

Among the outstanding gospel singers on the program are Sister Jennifer Cox and Brother Al- phonso Thomas, who have per- formed in many gospel halls all over the country.

All of the artists who will appear in this concert have de- nied their talents free in order to bring the Boston Council for Greek Freedom. There will be an admission fee, and proceeds will be used by the Boston Council to help artists, writers, and musicians in pressing need. Contributions to this worthwhile cause will be deeply appreciated.
Letters To The Editor

Speaking for the Brotherhood of Alpha Kappa Psi

I wish to take this time to apologize for the unfortunate incident that occurred on the Morning of August 27, 1968, in Russian this past Saturday. Due to a misunderstanding between the members of the fraternity and students, the prices of the drinks were raised. This caused the members to inform the students who were at the first few couples showed, and therefore had to explain the circumstances surrounding the incident to each person that came in.

We would like to thank you for your kind cooperation at the April 24, 1968, meeting for overlooking this problem.

Sincerely,
Edward E. Levy
Social Chairmen Alpha Kappa Psi

The following has been sent to news media across the country by the Barons' Union:

"On Friday, April 26th, a number of students of Barons Institute, in accordance with a motion passed by the Barons Student Government, will boycott their classes in expression of their discontent with (1) the Administration's War policy, (2) prevalent racism in the United States and the effect of the war in perpetuating this oppression, and (3) the Board's decision to hold the draft. The boycotting students will participate in a series of programs and workshops being conducted at neighboring Wellesley College, whose students, too, have been engaged in discussion on these issues and concern.

Although we at Barons are all students of business, our scope of awareness extends beyond the campus and society. This non-racism and "micro" considerations of the business enterprise. We realize that the businessman must be an active and concerned member of the larger society. To this end, a more cohesive and authoritative General or individuals could bring civil rights to the forefront.

Yours sincerely,
Edward L. Kline, President Barons Student Government

Open Housing Bill

by Mr. E. HANAUER

The Civil Rights Bill now before the House of Representatives was passed by the Senate on March 11 by a vote of 71 to 20. Civil Rights supporters are hopeful that the House will pass the bill in the exact form as it passed the Senate, rather than allowing it to be watered down. The bill will make it a federal crime to interfere with Negroes and others in the exercise of the right to vote and the non-Voting rights in the long list of civil rights such as voting, jury service, travel and the use of public facilities and accommodations. Also, it will be a federal crime to compel someone to organize or aid in a riot.

Most controversial, however, are the Bill's open housing provisions. They are aimed at lowering the barriers by three main points:

1. Effective upon passage, discrimination would be barred in all sale or rental of property, whether owned and multi-family dwellings whose mortgages were or aren't underwritten by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration.

2. Effective December 31, 1968, any bar to discrimination in multi-family housing, such as apartment buildings, and in real estate developments, if the occupants of four or more units will be excluded.

3. Effective January 1, 1970, would bar discrimination in single-family homes sold or rented through brokers: Only if the owner sold the home him or herself, without aid of a broker, could discrimination be effective.

EFFECTS AT CONCLUSION would be conducted by the Department of Housing and Urban Development. The Act itself would not interfere with local or county laws: Only those laws which were discriminatory in any way would be made discriminatory. With the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, some legal experts believe Attorney General or individuals could bring civil rights to the forefront.

Applications for room assignments for the Fall Term will be found in students' mailboxes on May 1st.
To make the greatest number of students possible available for the year 1968-1969, a deposit of $50 is required and payable not later than June 15. Many students have already put in their room deposit with the third term billing. The deposit does not guarantee first choice of room. Unless a student requests the same room he has occupied this year, assignments will be made by a draw. Room keys are required to turn in the questionnaire to the Business Office by May 17. Those not received by this date will receive lowest priority.

On Campus with Mr. Shubin
WAS KEATS THE BOY DOLLY OF HIS DAY?
Who was the greatest of all the English Romantic Poets—Byron, Shelley or Keats? This question has given rise to many lively campus discussions and not a few skirmishes. Let us today try to find an answer.
First, Keats (or The Louisville Slugger, as he is commonly called) Keats' talent bloomed early. While still a schoolboy at St. Stephen's, he wrote his epic lines:

If I am good I get an apple,
So don't sit in the chapel.

From this distinguishes beginning he went on to write another 40 million poems, an achievement all the more remarkable when you consider that he had only five feet tall! I mention this fact only to show that physical problems never keep the true artist from creating. Byron, for example, was lame. Shelley suffered from pricked heat all winter long. Nonetheless, these three titans of literature never stopped writing poetry for one day.

Did they neglect their personal lives? Byron, a devil with the ladies, was expelled from Oxford for dipping Nel Greyn's pigments in an inkwell. Shelley, famous under the name of Gay Pewter Day, he left England to fight in the Greek war of independence. He fought bravely and well, but women were never far from his mind, as evidenced by these immortal lines:

How pleasant it is to fight for the Greek,
But I don't enjoy it half as much as dancing cheek to cheek.

While Byron fought in Greece, Shelley stayed in England, where he became an ardent champion of the Duke of Gloucester. Shelley was happy in his work, as we know from his famous poem, Hour of thine, Milrose, but no matter how bored he tried never able to get a proper edge on the Dyma razor, and he was soon banished to Coventry. (This later became known as the Linoleum Revolution.)

One wonders how Shelley's life—and the course of English poetry—would have differed if Persia's Super Stain- less Steel blades had been invented 20 years ago. For Persia is a blade that needs no sharpening, honing or whetted. It's sharp when you get it, and stays sharp by shear through lavoury shave. Here truly is a blade that's fit for a Duke or a freshman. Moreover, this Persia, this jewel of the blade-maker's art, this boon to the cheek and beauty to the desserter, comes you to both in double-edge style and Injector style. Get some now during "Be Kind to Your Razor Week."

But I digress. Byron, I say, was Greece and Shelley in England. Meanwhile Keats went to Rome to try to grow. Who does not remember the stanzas:

Although I may only stand at night,
One day I will look in an elephant's eye.

But Keats did not grow. His Friends, Shelley and Byron, turned sour the heart, rushed to Rome to strew them. This too failed. Then Byron, even the ladies man, took up with Lamartine's Borgia, Catherine of Aragon, and Anne of Cleves. Shelley, a more domestic type, stayed home with his wife Mary and wrote his famous poem

I love to stay home with the missus and write,
And hug her and kiss her and give her a bite.

Mary Shelley finally got so tired of being bitten that she went into another room and wrote Frankenstein. Upon reading the manuscript, Byron so scared they immediately booked passage home to Eng-

Blandished to go too, and Keats, instead of the clerk at the steamship office couldn't see him over the top of the counter. So Keats remained in Rome and died of smallpox.

Byron and Shelley cried a lot and then together composed this immortal epitaph:

Good old Keats, he might have been short.
But he was a great American and a heck of a good sport.

TRUTH, not poetry, is the property of Persians, and we tell you truly that you'll not find a better shaving razor than Persia and Barima-Shave, regular orメンタル.

This year's Student Government Presidential election, unlike in years past, is somewhat unusual in that the two candidates advocate, basically, the same programs and measures. It is therefore necessary to look beyond the surface assertions of the candidates and to analyze their motives, interests, past accomplishment, and qualifications.

With regard to Student Government, I have served as Chairman of the Special Projects Committee for which I am being awarded The Presidential Commission Award for Contributions to Student Government. It has been the job of my committee to investigate, analyze, and act on all proposals brought before Student Senate. By far those of a rudimentary nature. Consequently, my Special Projects Committee has been quite instrumental in the passage of much of the needed legislation handed by this year's government.

This past year my committee accomplished the following and investigated the prices of the Balboa Bookstores; (2) investigated the need for a Balboa Public Relations Department; (3) recommended a system to the Council for improvement in this area; (3) investigated the registration procedures—those which led to the new, improved system; (4) triggered off an administrative investigation of a Balboa overseas study program; (5) coordinated the first Welllesley-Balboa Exchange Program— a joint concert to be performed in Knight Auditorium on April 30th; (6) recommended the administration for an improved registration system at Balboa—The Board of Trustees has since voted and by a vote declared that I was correct.

In the fall of 1968 the positions of the President, Vice-President, and Secretary of the Student Senate were open. I had planned to seek the Vice-Presidency position. In the fall of 1968, I was elected by the junior class, a position in the Senate which I hope to use to the best advantage of the student body.

Jamie
Kiernan
My name is Jamie Kiernan and I am running for the office of Student Senate Vice-President. I am from the Egan's line and I believe that the Student Senate offices are the most important offices on the student government, and that the Student Senate Vice-President should be a leader on campus.

Last spring I was elected by the members of the Class of 1969 to represent them as their Vice-President, and I have been running in the new student elections.

This year I am a Brother of A.K.P.i.

Robert Kuratek
ELECTIONS FOR STUDENT GOVERNMENT OFFICES WILL BE HELD APRIL 29. VOTE

This means of liaison between student body and student government must be given utmost importance. I have so far considered many new ways of representation. Two of them are: (1) Election by dorms, and (2) Election by class. The space allotted doesn't allow me to go into detail regarding these plans; however, I'd be happy to talk with anyone about this important issue.

The "New Bahcos" will soon arrive, and I feel that student government can do much to bring them up to speed. I would like to continue with the trend and have more controversial speakers to give Balson some much needed publicity while at the same time giving the student body alternatives regarding their civic responsibilities.

Also, I have found the current on-campus social activities very rewarding and would like to see this type of program made available to the majority of students here at Balson.

Above all, I would like to encourage the active participation of all students in the upcoming elections.
Steve Wagner

My name is Steve Wagner and I am currently a candidate for the office of Vice-President of Babson Student Government. Having been a five-term member of the student body, I feel that I am qualified and informed enough to be presenting my candidacy to you, the student body. I hope to be able to speak to you now and Monday about the issues and programs which I feel are pertinent to us all as members of the college.

Among the programs and ideas which I propose to myriad and actualize if and when I am elected are the following:

1. Extension of present open-hours house.
2. Babson-junior-year abroad program.
3. Enlargement of the amount of national speakers on campus.
4. All-school election of judicial court members.
5. Reform of campus traffic and parking regulations.

As many of you know, next Monday is election day for the various offices of Student Government. As I am actively campaigning for the office of Vice-President, the EXECUTIVE has requested that I submit a resume of my activities since enrolling at Babson.

During my first term at Babson, I felt a need to involve myself in the extracurricular activities here on campus. In that term, I was elected to the Student Government as a representative, and I also joined the Babson Marketing Association, in which I functioned for a while as publicity chairman. During winter term of 1967, Ipledged Delta Sigma Pi and became a brother at the end of that term. I presently function as Professional chairman and a member of the executive council of that organization.

Among the positions which I have held with regard to Student Government, I have been on and am still on the following: Ad hoc service sub-committee, Ad hoc service sub-committee, Ad hoc committee to investigate the possibilities of Babson joining the National Student Association. Presently, I am a member of the Student-Faculty Attendance Review Committee, and very proud a member of the Babson Forum, the group responsible for arranging the speaking appearances of Dick Gregory and Dr. Tom Leary. I have also functioned here at Babson as a Student Advisor to the Freshman year, Freshman House, and recently became a member of the staff of Radio WEW.

I hope that the following statement has been informative to you, as the student electorate, and that it clearly outlines both my desire and qualifications to serve as your next Vice-President of Student Government.

Statement of Purpose

As I am sure all of you know by now, I am a candidate for the office of Vice-President of Babson Student Government. Having been a five-term member of the student body, I feel that I am qualified and informed enough to be presenting my candidacy to you, the student body. I hope to be able to speak to you now and Monday about the issues and programs which I feel are pertinent to us all as members of the college.

Athlete of the Week

Captain of the 1968 Golf team, Emil Menahem, is this week's Athlete of the Week. As medalist, Emil led the squad to victory over Colby in the first meet of the year.

Last year Emil paced Rabbin to its magazine U-1 record by winning individual match play while losing only one. He only lost because it was his last hole of the last match of the season against Colby. Rabbin already earned 7 letters in golf and 2 in swimming.

This year, Menahem was a diver for the Babson tankers. Although the team had a losing record, Emil consistently won and picked up many valuable points for the team.

Drinking

would be impossible to hold such a completely private function, and therefore, there could be a possibility of not being invited to the event that a third party were injured by someone in attendance this so-called function.

Considering the preceding opinions set forth by the school lawyers, the administration has decided to impose new rules concerning on-campus drinking as they now appear. Therefore, there will be no drinking in public the Spring Weekend. Drinking will be allowed in the rooms as usual, but you will not be allowed to carry a drink with you in the open. The administration has asked that the students themselves police the Spring Weekend. Perhaps Resident Government or Blue Key should undertake this task. Offenders will be dealt with by Judicial Council or the Administration, but the major factor to consider here is that both the Open-Housing policy and the Drinking Privilege will be under special scrutiny. Therefore, it is in the interest of all the students to obey the regulations because neither privilege is so solidly entrenched that it could not be revoked. It's up to you.
