PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES CHANGE IN CURRICULUM

In his report to the corporation of Babson Institute at the annual Trustees' meeting on November 13, Dr. Gordon Trim announced a change in the curriculum effective September 1, 1959. The proposed change will be made to meet the requirements of the New York State Department of Education to allow Babson graduates to qualify for the New York Certified Public Accountant Examination.

To meet the New York State requirements, one hour will be added to the course in Economics, a three hour course in Sociology will be made a requirement for all Juniors, and a course in the pre-professional curriculum.

Fraternities Hold First Combined Meeting

The first joint fraternity meeting in the history of Babson Institute was held on the campus November 18, 1958 with Alpha Delta Sigma having as its guest the Gamma Upsilons Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

Both fraternities held their respective business meetings in separate quarters and then met in the Fo'c'sle at 8:00 P.M. to hear a brilliant talk by Charles McCarthy, a Babson graduate, from the class of 1950. The combined meeting was opened by ADS President Dave Bamberger, who stated that this joint meeting served a triple purpose, "to fulfill our national professional objectives, to promote better interfraternity relations on the campus, and to share an excellent speaker." Richard Kates, program chairman of ADS, then introduced Mr. McCarthy, General Sales Manager for the Balfour Products Division of General Tire and Rubber Company and a past president of ADS.

Mr. McCarthy's talk was highlighted by a story of his job, which specifically is in charge of BOLTAFLEX automotive upholstery, a material used as original equipment for new cars. He talked to both fraternity members about the great advancement Balfour Company is making with their plastics. He stated "we shipped more plastics to Ford last October than Dunlop shipped to GM all last year."

In closing, Mr. McCarthy discussed the tact of text-book sales as compared to its price-

Heald Elected Alumni Head

The Babson Institute Alumni Association has elected as its new President, Philip B. Heald of Worcester. A graduate of 1951, Mr. Heald is presently employed by the Heald Machine Company of Worcester.

While at Babson he founded and was first President of the Camera Club, and received a citation for student activities at graduation.

PLAN ALUMNI HELP PROGRAM

A proposed program for increasing alumni assistance to Babson undergraduates was presented by Gerald Knauff, 56 at a recent meeting of the Alumni-Student Relations Committee. The program, formulated by the Class of 1959 Alumni Relations Committee in consultation with undergraduates, received the unanimous endorsement of the Alumni Association.

The suggestions advanced by the student committee are aimed primarily at providing additional emotional guidance for Babson undergraduates and at encouraging outstanding in their respective fields of business. Such assistance is to be made available to students in a variety of ways. Alumni are being asked to cooperate, not only by donating their time for personal conferences with individual students or groups of students, but also by serving as advisors or teachers.

The Class of '79 Alumni Relations Committee also indicated its support of the plan and its willingness to contribute to the fund drive in support of the program.

BOOTERS WIN FINAL GAME

The soccer team ended their 1958 season by defeating Bowdoin College seven to three. Co-Captains Yeany excelled in this last game scoring four of Babson's seven tallies. The other three Babson goals were scored by Mendenhall, Escoho, and a Knuckles respectively. Throughout the first three periods Bowdoin Booters threatened the Big Green goal.

The Babsonmen played their best soccer of the last period when they pushed the ball by the Bowdoin goalie twice. This ended any hopes that the Meine Booters may have had in mind about winning.

BALFOUR PLANT

Thursday, November 18th, marked one of the most interesting functions of the year for the 24 brothers and pledges of the Gamma Nu Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi who toured the L.G. Balfour factories at Attleboro, Mass., Balfour, long the leading creator of custom jewelry for schools, fraternities and other organizations, operates two plants at Attleboro; one specializing in jewelry products, the other producing ceramic mugs, ash trays and other ornamented glass products. Both plants were gracious hosts to the brothers.

JUNIORS TO ELECT

Elections for Junior Class officers will take place on November 24th and November 25th in Lyon Hall. The voting will take place during the ten minute breaks between classes. The Brother's of Blue Key will be stationed on the first floor of Lyon Hall until 12:30. Votes may be cast from 12:30 until 1:00 at the switchboard.

The following men are running for the respective offices: President: Joseph Cohen; Vice President: Stanley Ivesco, Bob Crenier; Secretary: George Dunnington; Treasurer: David Prohaska and Peter Wilson. The election Monday will be a primary, and the final candidates will be announced.

If there are no write-in candidates for the offices of President, Vice President and Secretary, the above mentioned juniors will fill the offices.

If there are no write-in candidates for the office of Treasurer, the man with the majority of votes Monday will become the Class Treasurer.
The Student Council has placed a proposal before the administration asking that classes and other activities taking place on the second Monday in November be cancelled. In the proposal the council advanced the following reasons for the cancellation:

1. Students should be able to arrive home sooner, thereby not affecting their holiday.
2. Students should eliminate night driving in most cases.
3. It will to a great extent alleviate late night speeding.
4. In the letter sent to Dr. Kriebel, Dean of Faculty, the council stated: "We ask this proposal as this will be a step toward reduction of traffic accidents; a most honorable goal. Thanksgiving is on, holiday when as many people as possible return home to be with their families. At any time of year this causes a severe traffic situation because most persons aren't able to leave their jobs until late afternoon and are apt to increase their speed in order to make up for lost time.

At this time of year, with its early darkness and possibly slippery conditions, a late start on our campus is certainly involved in what amounts to near hazardous traffic situations. We ask the powers that be to consider the possible circumstances. THE LIFE YOU SAVE MAY BE MINE. W.E.F.

A Note of Courtesy

Babson Institute is a business administration college for men. The students of B.I. are likewise treated like men. Last week at the Founder's Day Assembly approximately 50% of the students attending came dressed for the occasion.

The administration would grant the proposal on the basis of its concern for the welfare of the students and not just because most other colleges and universities do it."

WHY CHAPERONING

At Babson Institute policy requires that faculty attend all on and off campus activities which represent Babson Institute. In the course of the year many social events take place in hotels, restaurants and the like. A point which is often overlooked by many students is that these establishments require that chaperones be present for student affairs.

COURTESY

For some strange reason a vast group of students who have their dates on their arm consider the idea of a faculty member going with them, impossible to understand. It is a matter of common courtesy for students and their dates to pay their respects to the ladies who don't hurt — it is really very enjoyable.

THE CHAPERON'S SIDE

Faculty members are asked to be chaperones many times in the course of the year. They do and are always very happy to be asked. In some instances, however, the men who are responsible for asking a particular chaperone are apt to insist that the student be there. In such cases the student is not required to go, but should be able to explain why he is not going. This is very helpful, however, if the chaperone is given more notice.

The next social event that you attend, make it a point to pay your respects to the chaperone. They are nice enough to chaperone for you; you are nice enough to appreciate it.
Football 1958 is in the home stretch, but still ahead are the so-called traditional games that always make a fitting climax of the season. This is no exception; there are many fine attractions. These are the games where they say you can throw the record out the window. A team doesn't play on their ability, but on their emotions.

HARVARD AND YALE

On Saturday the grandaddy of them all, the Harvard-Yale game, will be played at the Stadium. Neither team has been too spectacular this season, but can still make the season successful by beating Harvard. Harvard still remembers the 54-0 drubbing they absorbed last year at Yale and will be going all out to win. As of now, Harvard should rate the role of favorite, but don't bet on it.

Many Ivy League traditional games will be played this weekend or on Thanksgiving Day. The "Coca-Cola mouth game" will be played on Saturday, and like last year, could determine the Ivy League champion. On Thanksgiving Day, Army and Navy will clash in their annual classic. Thanksgiving Day would not be Thanksgiving Day if those teams didn't play. Also, on this day is the Brown-Colgate which is an annual Turkey Day game at Providence. This long series has produced numerous thrillers and exciting games.

ABRAMS-MADE NAVY GOAT

On Saturday following Thanksgiving, the two service teams, Army and Navy will meet in Philadelphia. No game draws the interest more than this game. Either Army or Navy would be glad to have all the publicity that would be able to beat the other. This is how much this game means. This year Army should be installed as a favorite because of their better record, but Navy will be up for it. It should be one of the best games in the long and colorful series.

On December 6 in this area is a top tradition game between Boston College and Holy Cross. These two Catholic schools always put on a good game, and this year, will be no exception. The game will be a duel between Boston College's Don Allard and Holy Cross's Tom Greene. They are both great quarterbacks as well as team leaders.

FOOTBALL GREATS

Many Ivy League teams will have their first scrimmage of the season, which is a perfect time to start getting ready for their other games if they were to be both a Varsity and a Freshman team. If, however, the schedule will be cancelled. The coach would like to point out that you will need to be a Bob Petit or a Bill Russell to play. Any Freshman who has a definite interest in football will be welcome to try out for the team.

NOV. 20TH SCRAMMAGE

The Varsity basketball team will have its first scrimmage of the season against Mass. Optometry on November 20. Babson's first game will be on the road. Before this game our new gym will be dedicated and as a preliminary to the Varsity basketball game between Babson and Dartmouth Tech, Pine Manor will play Lasell.

SOUTH WINS BEATS OFF-CAMPUS TEAM FOR FOOTBALL CROWN

Park Manor South got off on the right foot in search of the Paul Roos Award best by beating the Off-campus 19-2 last Wednesday to win the football portion of the intramural contest. The winner of this game to be the winner of the football league.

Off-campus scored first when Bob Libbey caught Bob Blount behind his own goal line for a safety. You can expect the usage of the same defense in front of Sawchuk which contrasts Montreal's style of playing the puck.

Chicago has improved in his personnel through off-season acquisitions and the improvement of past players on the team. However, this is a team that in the past has played a wide open game of hockey and although interesting to watch, it nevertheless places the team behind in the standings. The author doubts that Glen Hall will repeat his stellar performance of last year in the nets and unless he gets more protection from his defense and the back checking of the forwards, his play may be found wanting as the season progresses.

If one is inclined to favor a smooth passing team supplemented with all of its members, the Rangers fill this description. Just like the Bruins, the Rangers believe in setting up goal scoring chances through their passing which is in contrast with Detroit's who believe in firing the puck into the zone, or at the goalie and then trying to collect the rebound with the theory that if you shoot enough, the puck is bound to go in.

BRYANT PRACTICES CROSS COUNTRY

Monday night four intramural barriers departed from the "casin in the wilderness" for a cross country race warmup. Clad in Bermudas, sneakers, ski caps, scarves and gloves, Fred Gueden, Ed Karsa, Bill Knowles, and Ken Gould set out on the two mile trek to Pine Manor. Karsa was the only man with enough stamina to complete the course. The others dropped out of contention after the first mile. At last report the sole finisher had disappeared into a P. M. dorm and search parties were looking for him.

KILLERS from p. 2

prominent tire and petroleum companies (names on request). Before they report their comments and suggestions, here's an eight-point program to keep you out of the killer category.

(1) Be sure you're physically fit to drive — If you don't feel well, don't get behind the wheel. A simple headache, for example, can upset your judgment. If you only want to rest, stop. So simple, yet so often neglected. If you have an upset stomach, don't drive. A cup of water and a few minutes of relaxation may snap you out of it.

(2) Practice mentally to drive — This means: shrug off worries before you get in the car. Concentrate on the road: a potential weapon is not the same as a roadblock.

(3) Know your car — Automobiles, like people, have their peculiarities. And as a car becomes more expensive, its traits are exaggerated. Whether it's your own, a friend's or a rental, you must learn its "blind spots" and where they are. Expect unexpected side-road traffic, unexpected stoplights, unexpected roadblocks.

(4) Be sure your car is in top condition — This means checking the brakes, fuel, fan belts, windshield wipers, wheel alignment, lights, horns and rear mirror. Use well-maintained tires with good tread. If you need new tires, those with rayon tire cord are your best buy. Rayon is the only cord that grows stronger as tire heat builds up. Sure tire pressure is up to snuff.

(5) Master the fundamentals of night driving — If you drive at night frequently, buy a good pair of special night driving glasses — they reduce the glare of oncoming headlights.

(6) Check your motor and engine — New color, new paint, new upholstery may not mean a new motor. If you're not wearing night glasses, the best way for your headlights to function is to be turned off. Also, stay alert for "fatigue glasses" on the road. Be sure you drive to the right side of the road.

(7) Learn to handle your car in bad weather — The basic rule for riding out a storm is to steer in the direction of the wind and keep off the roads. You should use chains on snow or — if you live in the northern states —inent ice. For safety's sake, keep a couple of bags of sand in your trunk and an ice-ax (if you have one) in your glove compartment.

(8) Don't speed, don't drink, don't smoke.

USE OLD METHODS

The jewelry plant, a despri- Pit known large building, is com- posed of just 100 men. The small, adjoinning rooms and is obvi- ously a product of expansion rather than design. There is no apparent flow of work through the plant, no particular match among the individual departments, no rigid departmental specialization, little mo- dern machinery. Yet as the job gets done — and some job it is, too — nearly every operation per- formed here is done by hand.

Balfour is not oblivious of mo- dern technology, but is simply too proud to degrade the quality of its product by the substitution of machines for exceedingly skilled hands.

Discovery of the multitude of operations was given, the average age of em- ployees in the more skilled jobs must be nearly 55. We were told that 70 or 80 years old men or women are employed. One die cutter in response to a question about job training explained that he had taken about six years for the average man to become "ready for the mill".

MANY OPERATIONS

Arrangements may be made to handle types of work. The jewelry plant of por- tions of operations performed in the manufacture of each individual article was one of the most am- using features of the tour. For example, a jeweled fra- mework is done by hand. But the factory is proud to depreciate the hand process.

The ceramic plant, much smaller than the jewelry plant, specializes in the decoration of ceramics and glass ware. A sixty foot kiln moving one inch per minute is the heart of the ceramic operation. Personalized- ed fraternity beer mugs are the chief source of revenue. While individual orders run from one to two dozen, yearly sales ex- ceed 100,000 units.

The Balfour tour proved to be a unique experience. It is the best of the general course of field trips.

Alumni are being asked to volunteer as speakers for meetings of campus organizations or assemblies of students interested in a particular field of business, to discuss vocational opportunities, current developments and trends, and to answer questions concerning the particular phase of business in which the alumni are engaged.

At the direction of the Alumni-Student Relations Committee, letters and questionnaires are now being sent to a number of Boston area alumni requesting their cooperation with Babson students in any or all of these proposed activities. Out-of-state alumni will be contacted through the Alumni Bulletin and at regional and local alumni club meetings so that students may be able to secure assistance from businessmen throughout the country.

The eventual objective of this program is to compile an extensive listing of alumni volunteers from all fields of business and manufacturing who will be available to aid undergraduates whenever called upon. At school or in the students' own home towns.
