OCTOBER 10, 1973 — WASHINGTON POST: "Bob Woodward spoke at Babson on Watergate. Woodward is one of two reporters for the Washington Post responsible for the Post receiving the Pulitzer Prize for investigative reporting."

OCTOBER 20, 1973 — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew resigned from office pleading no contest to one account of tax evasion. Watergate hearings continue to probe the Washington politicians.
The night has a thousand eyes,
The day but one;
Yet the light of the bright world dies
With the dying sun.
