Where's the black leather jacket, Fran?

Is this the chow line, chef?

Senior class officers in confab with business executives.

Gee, my first letter this year.
With the purpose of fostering a closer cooperation between the administration and the student body, the Student Council has a great responsibility. Such duties as issuing licenses, estimating organization budgets, and validating student grievances are only a few of the numerous duties of the student council. As the school has grown in size the problems of the "Council" have grown in number and complexity. However, with the help of the administration, their function has been performed admirably.

Student Council gets down to business.

The Student Cabinet might be called the "executive suite" of the campus since its membership is made up of the presidents of all campus organizations. It deals with things of an inter-organizational nature, such as meeting times, communication problems, and related developments. The cabinet helped greatly in the success of the Mayoreality and is looking forward to expanded activities in the future.

Student coordinator Paul C. Staake looks on as Student Cabinet member Dick Kirschbaum presents achievement award.

BABSONIAN

Editor R. Kirschbaum and Business Manager J. Cappiali

The challenge of creating a yearbook is truly a rewarding experience. Our staff, though small in numbers, worked diligently in order to produce the finest yearbook ever at Babson. The personal satisfaction achieved by each member of the Babsonian can not be measured in a materialistic way. Only persons who have been a part of such a project can truly appreciate the satisfaction one receives in cooperating in order to achieve a common goal—a yearbook the students and school can be proud of.

Our task at times seemed endless and unrewarding. Yet when it was complete all the difficulties we encountered were minute in comparison with the strong feeling of accomplishment we felt.

The Babson Aviation Club, Inc. was founded in 1948 for the purpose of giving students of Babson the opportunity to learn to fly for business or pleasure at a cost considerably lower than customarily encountered in flying schools. The club airplane, an Aeronca Champion, is based at Westboro, Mass., where licensed instructors are available. The club meets on the first and last Thursdays of every month on campus, and are open to all interested in aviation.
HONORS DAY AWARDS ANNOUNCED

Dwinell Speaks At Graduation

The speaker for the 90th Annual Commencement will be the Honorable Louis Dwinell, Governor of the State of New Hampshire. He has been announced by President Gordon M. Trues. The Commencement exercises will be held at Ruggles Auditorium on June 23. Governor Dwinell's address will be entitled "The Businessman's View."

In making the announcement, Dr. Trues said, "In view of the present emphasis that I announce the appearance of Governor Dwinell, Governor of the State of New Hampshire." The address will be given at the 90th Commencement.

The services will start at 4:30 P.M. to be followed by the Faculty reception and supper in the Parlor. The convocation exercises for men receiving honors are under the commission of thealoan commission at the Preservation of Scholastic, Athletic Awards Made—Smith Given Four

Carroll Gets Three Awards Plus Three Varsity Letters

Dietrich, Boutilier, St. George Also Take Major Prizes

At the annual Honors Day held in foreign institutions, this morning Babson's outstanding students were presented with major scholastic and athletic awards.

Lionard Stitho, president of Blue Key, accepted the Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Award, the Delta Sigma Pi Honor Society award, a student activities award, and a Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges Award to the most individual scholastic achievement.

President Gordon M. Trues and Director of Athletics Richard A. Thomas gave out memorial certificates to the former who were members of the basketball team for one year and to the other two seniors.

Carroll, a three-year letterman in basketball, soccer, and tennis as well as having been a member of the basketball team for one year and of the other two seniors, was given the scholar

BABSON GLOBE-NEWS

STUDENT ACTIVITY KEYS were given by James O. Allenback, Richard M. Boullion, Donald B. Coulbourn, Robert B. Cottrell, Ralph W. Counce, Robert A. Corbin, and Robert E. Smith.

The Wall Street Journal Medal for the student having written the most distinguished article in the division of finance was given to Robert O. Dietrich, a senior from Burlington, Mass.

The Alpha Kappa Psi Scholarship Award and the Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Award both went to Leonard J. Smith, as the senior with the highest academic average in graduation.

152 STUDENT PARKERS
SHOW PERFECT SCORE

Since the beginning of the school year in October up to the present time 152 students have a perfect score as to parking violations. None of these 152 students have received any criminal tickets because of these violations.
BEAVER DEFUNCT

The principal objective of the Globe was to bring to the student body a weekly newspaper of high caliber. With the funds that were made available to the Student Publication, the Globe staff was able to publish weekly until the later part of the third semester. Twenty nine men were responsible for the success of the Globe during the year. A temporary staff with members of Globe staff and new additions produced one of the most successful Parody issues ever published at Babson Institute.

During the second semester, the staff of the Babson Beaver voted in favor of confining the school mascot to the sports page. With the approval of the Student Council, the Administration, and the Student Body, the Babson Globe News came into being.
The chapter's activities during the past year have been expanded and improved in conventional as well as in new areas of programming. The chapter has conducted and sponsored three conferences or clinics in the past year. The New England Empire Regional S.A.M. Conference at Boston which was held in November, 1957 S.A.M.'s Job Clinics here at Babson ran continuously from December, 1957 to February, 1958, and the Spring Bay State Conference on CREATIVE ACTION FOR TOMORROWS MANAGEMENT was held on April 14, 1958.

The Society also sponsored, planned, and conducted, the winning candidacy of the First Babson Mayor to reign at a Babson Winter Carnival. With six candidates in the running for the coveted position, S.A.M.'s DUKE FAROUK, Fred Leighton, became "Mr. Spirit of 1958" and proved his point that Pleasure Mixes With Business.

To supplement speakers, panels, and clinics, the members attended five field seminars including Bethlehem Steel Company's Quincy Shipyard, General Motor's Assembly Plant in Framingham, and Sanborn Company of Waltham, manufacturers of electrocardiogram and medical equipment.

In conclusion, S.A.M. has had a very successful and profitable year. This is indicated by the fact that the Babson chapter is FIRST IN THE NATION in performance rating. This rating is based on a competitive program conducted among the National Organization of 131 College and University Chapter in the Western Hemisphere. This is in keeping with the chapter's idea that "BETTER ORGANIZATIONS BUILD BETTER MEN," and we of S.A.M have attempted to prove this contention by actions.
OF MANAGEMENT

Officers, Seated — Raymond St. George, President and Nathaniel Wright, Vice-President. Standing—Randolph Goodwin, Treasurer, and Robert Carroll, Secretary.
Members of the club, both foreign and American, meet to develop interests in international affairs. The club hopes that these interests, in turn, will inspire keener understanding and better relations between all countries.

People contributing towards this goal throughout the past year have included: Dr. John Rueling, a lecturer and authority on African affairs—"South Africa Today;" Mr. Bertrand Canfield of the faculty—"Russia 1957;" Dr. Edward Katzenback, defense program director at Harvard University — "Outer Space, Russia's Challenge and American Response."

The club is presently considering affiliation with the World University Service, an organization which each year aims at co-ordinating the efforts and contributions of innumerable students and teachers from all continents of the world in a united enterprise toward the greater well being of university communities everywhere.

To have a good balance among its activities, the club tries to organize a varied social program. The social highlight this year was a dinner dance at one of Boston's famous nightspots.

Faculty advisors for the club are Dr. Raymond Wheeler and Dr. John Gibson.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The purpose of the Babson Theatre Guild is to prepare a show for the annual Winter Carnival, and to participate in dramatic productions of neighboring colleges.

This year, the largest acting and production crews ever assembled at Babson, combined their talents to present “Call Me Madam,” by Irving Berlin, to the holiday audience. The show was presented on the afternoon of February 22, to a capacity crowd. Needless to say, the show was a resounding success.

Congratulations are in order to members of the Lasell Dramatics Club who exhibited not only talent, but beauty also, on the Babson stage. A special thanks to Lydia Lloyd Foster for her very able direction.
Under the able leadership of Mr. Frederick Harris, the Babson Glee Club had its most active year. At such important occasions as Founders Day, Honors Day and Commencement exercise, the Glee Club sang to appreciative audiences. The Winter Carnival Formal dance was further enlivened by an informal show put on by various members of the Glee Club. It was quite evident from the immediate response to any requests made from the audience that the "club" had made considerable preparation for such events.

With an ever increasing membership, the Glee club is rapidly becoming one of the finest organizations on campus.

Officers, William B. Leonard, President and Peter B. Wilson, Vice-President

GLEE CLUB

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

The Babson Photography Club has been growing steadily since its reorganization two years ago. The club is the chief source of photographic work on the campus, helping organizations like the Babsonian.

One of the outstanding accomplishments of the club is construction of their new darkroom in the basement of Coleman Hall. It is up to professional standards in all respects.

There is an excellent opportunity for students to practice their present hobby, or develop a new one by participating in this active organization.
During the Fall term, the club sponsored the semi-annual blood drive and Ivy Limb project. This blood drive will be remembered as the one won by Babson Institute from Pine Manor.

The highlight for the Winter term was the magic show “Play for Your Life” put on at the open meeting January 20, 1958 by Mr. Thomas Call who is connected with the Liberty Mutual Insurance Co. The Suite Party at the Winter Carnival took care of the social activities for the term. It was a big success.

With the Spring term, we saw a new drive added to the public service activities of the Vet’s Club. This was the Tuberculin Test put on by the Norfolk County Tuberculosis and Health Association in the Cup ‘n’ Saucer. In April we saw the defeat for the first time of Babson Institute by Pine Manor in the Blood Drive. Miss Carol Munsell was on hand on Honor’s day to receive the trophy from Bill Allan and a kiss from Roger W. Babson himself.

The new officers Bob Roberts, Bill Allan, Ken Bennet, and Frank Campinell all hope to make the school year as big a year or bigger than this one.

VETERANS CLUB

The Business Economics Club was organized by Dr. Genovese and a handful of interested students to further information about current news in economics. In its last three years, the club has made many interesting programs and speakers available to the school along with building itself into one of the most respected organizations on campus. It is open to students in all fields who are interested in hearing speakers, seeing films and discussing economic problems and developments. Special thanks are extended to all the club officers who led the organization to its most successful year on the Babson campus.
Having a unique distinction of being the only organization on the Babson campus comprised solely of women, the Student Wives had a highly enjoyable and contributory year. The square dance was "lots of laughs" and met with fine cooperation on the part of the Institute. Frequent meetings provided the occasion for comparison of domestic problems and anecdotes. The club aided the Charity Bazaar at Spring Carnival by selling chances for a pair of Red Sox baseball tickets. With the highest membership since its inception, the Student Wives Club longs for bigger and better things in the future.
THE NEWMAN CLUB

The Babson Newman Club is a Roman Catholic Club of culture and fellowship that has as its purpose a deepening of the spiritual, enrichment of the temporal lives of its members through a program of religious, intellectual and social activities, to weld the Roman Catholic students into a common union.

Although this past year was only the second year on campus for the Club and the first year that the organization had a regular meeting night, it proved to be a highly enjoyable and successful one. The program of the Newman Club included: speaker meetings on many varied subjects, informal bi-weekly discussions led by Rev. Stock of the Dominican House of Philosophy in Dover, and communion breakfasts.

The Club rounded out its year with a booth at the Spring Carnival charity drive, a communion breakfast and an open school meeting at which Father Norman J. O'Connor, a renouned jazz expert, spoke.
