ALPHA KAPPA PSI
KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

The Sisters of Kappa Kappa Gamma had a very eventful 1987-1988. The year kicked off with the annual Kappa at the Metro party. The sisters also took part in the American Red Cross Blood Drive, and also sang Christmas carols at a nearby nursing home. On December 4, the Winter Formal took place at the Back Bay Hilton in Boston. During the spring semester, Kappa Kappa Gamma initiated six new sisters and pledged nine girls. The sisters raffled off a 34 lb. Easter Bunny to benefit the Heather Mallow Scholarship fund. And ended the year with a trip to the Metro.
SIGMA KAPPA

What is Sigma Kappa? In a word, it is friendship. There is nothing more wonderful than the feeling of belonging and the feeling of mutual understanding. Within Sigma, there is a diversity of women, each of whom brings something very unique to the sorority. Some sisters are giddy and comical, some are exceptionally sensitive and caring, and some are very intense and serious. And to add a touch of reality to this article, we are all human; so, yes, we do get cranky and we do argue, but we are almost always able to reach a compromise. Not only are the personalities within Sigma diverse, but so are the interests; Jennifer Davis is an avid skier and a Dean’s List student; Heidi Taradash enjoys painting and is a Student Manager at Trim. These are just a few examples of the variety of women who belong to Sigma. Sigma, although primarily social, has other functions as well. We try to visit the nursing home once or twice during the year, usually around Thanksgiving and Easter. As well, at least annually, we send clothes to the Maine Seacoast Organization for the Needy. In conclusion, Sigma Kappa Sorority provides Babson women with the opportunity to make new friends, to devote some time to good causes, and to gain leadership and other important skills by holding an office. Sigma is a worthwhile experience.
TAU KAPPA EPSILON

Despite increased pressure from administration, the year as a whole was a great success. TKE continued to dominate fraternity athletics. TKE Fraternity greatly added to the campus social life, while individual brothers helped provide leadership to the Babson community. As the year came to an end, we realized that not only would we be losing a great graduating class, but also our room. Though, just as those who are graduating are looking toward a bright future, so too is TKE. We are looking forward to making the new TKE tower in Keith have a positive effect on our brotherhood and the campus.
Once again, Theta Chi proved to be a social force on campus this year, holding numerous social events in our room. Who could forget our Wild Turkey Night, our Jack and Jim Party, and our socially conscious Safe Sex Party. Our year was highlighted by trips to Ohio State University for the National Theta Chi Leadership Conference, skiing in Vermont and Lake Tahoe, and an action-packed winnebago voyage to Daytona for Spring Break. The brotherhood sponsored a comedy night in Knight Auditorium in the fall, as well as broomball during Winter Weekend. In March, Theta Chi held its annual blood drive, and in April, the men of Theta Chi brought the "Convincer", a seat belt awareness crash device, to campus as a public service. Over the course of the year, the brothers and alumni of the Eta Delta chapter re instituted our alumni house corporation and once again have begun laying the ground work to be the first Greek organization to have a house on campus. The 1987-88 school year proved to be a year of transition for Theta Chi, as we instituted a new rush and pledging program which proved to be quite successful. This in turn will hopefully lead to a strong Theta Chi presence on campus for years to come.
Zeta Beta Tau

The 1987-88 academic year proved to be an excellent one for the Delta Omega chapter of the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity. The brothers faced and conquered many challenges together, and had fun at the same time.

Having lost nearly half their membership to graduation last year, and being restricted in the use of Canfield A tower this year, ZBT still flourished. Surely everyone will remember the collaboration of the brothers to bring the first annual Jail an Bail to Babson College. President Dill and others went behind bars to become a part of raising over $6500 to benefit the American Cancer Society. And of course the sounds of “HOT PIZZA, SUBS HERE!” rang through the dorms once again as the brothers stood up to their competition and maintained their very successful campus pizza delivery business in the Babson tradition of excellence.

Zeta Beta Tau reigned socially, also. One of the most successful non-alcoholic Fo’c’lile parties of the year was sponsored by the brothers. Top Boston comedians performed to a standing room only crowd, proving that Babson doesn’t need alcohol to have a good time. The Delta Omega chapter hosted some great parties in the Canfield tower, too (Goldfish anyone?), and dominated in Fraternity Feud at the Beaver Brau. And we will never forget our wild excursion to the Big Apple (New York may never forget it either).

The brotherhood will continue its tradition of service and social enlightenment for years to come. We would also like to congratulate the class of 1988 and wish them much success in their future endeavors!
