Gala Week End Begins Friday
A gala week end of fun and frolic begins this week end. On Friday night Joe Delaney and his committee have planned a formal dance, the photography will be best ever. The formal to be held at the Roosevelt Hotel in Boston, if in the honor of the senior class, and Barbara will have to go sour. Since then, however, the membership of the Beaver has been remarkable, and no little credit should be attributed to Mr. Martin style of play, should satisfy all tastes as to music.

Looking back now, those early days seem so remote. The time when the staff disintegrated, and everything seemed as though the little practical experience in the field, and little money. Bill published the original Beaver News, regularly. Three were tough days in the history of the paper, and it was only through hard work, and trial and error methods, that the paper was kept up, and continued to improve.

Throughout his two years as editor of The Babson, Bill has been remarkable. Early last year when the original Babson News was distributed from Scotland to Beaver, their wishes and ideas for the future of the paper were not fully understood. But the staff disintegrated, and everything seemed to go sour. Since then, however, the membership of the Beaver has been remarkable, and no little credit should be attributed to Mr. Martin style of play, should satisfy all tastes as to music.

In the meantime, he will continue his duties next fall, and is in integral part of Babson tradition. In the meantime, he will continue his duties next fall, and is in integral part of Babson tradition.

On-Campus Social Functions

Outside of an informal dance each term and a few scattered house parties at long intervals, the Babson Institute campus is not chosen for the scene of prominent school social activities. When a formal dance is arranged, a Boston hotel is the place for it. True, the hotel has facilities far beyond those we enjoy here, but the students are overlooking campus possibilities when they start to have the bulk of social functions away from the school.

The social committee of the Student Council would do well to plan a formal party week-end for the students and devote the entire campus area to formal dancing, contests, elaborate house decorations, house parties, student-sponsored entertainment, and a formal dance in Knight Auditorium could be part of the gala program.

The students have a problem in the past and would take considerable planning and preparation. Lodging could be arranged nearby and beach wagons chartered for transportation necessities on a smooth collegiate plane. Facilities for students' dancing are far more adequate than they were in the past and would take considerable planning and preparation. Did you hear the one about the naughty Egyptian girl?

(P. S. Now she's a mummy.)

Bylines On The Sports

By DICK COUGHL

It has been requested that during this last half of the softball season there be a little more cooperation on the managing of the softball "games" that take place daily. It seems to the writer that such cooperation has the responsibility of taking charge of a game just three times a term, which should not be asked any more work. What is meant by "taking charge" is just that the appointed team has the responsibility of appointing an umpire from its own section, choosing a base umpire from the spectators, bringing the necessary gear over to the hill, taking it back to the gym when through, and make sure that everything is in shape, etc., and on.

Up to the present time there has been no section that has been outstandingly cooperative on this matter. The same situation applied during the basketball season. It seems that the men who desire intramural sports could at least pitch in a little time of their own.

The school notes with little concealed pleasure that the golf team is practicing the name of the school at several of the colleges in this section. So far, the team has only lost one match which was to Rhode Island State, and which was a hard one to lose. Captained by the able Bill Burkmayr of Bryant Hall we look forward to seeing the season wind up a victorious one.

Lo and behold, on the end of the fishing pier, the pigeons who were the only ones who showed up for the opening day of fishing, quickly regained their poise and set the final date. Mr. George H. Heddendorf led the discussion on management and labor relations. He, and those present, actively participated, and all found the discussion very worthwhile.

Fish Fall For B. O. C.'s Line

Last Sunday, twenty-one intrepid adventurers of the Bartram Outing Club set forth to demonstrate their prowess with hook, line, and skinner. The group left the campus before eight o'clock and proceeded to Hove's Wharf in Quincy, Massachusetts. The group, consisting of those who took the detour through Medford, arrived in Quincy about nine o'clock only to find the captain of the chartered boat had wandered off in search of something.

All the anglers gathered at the wharf by ten o'clock and were

The usual bad conditions. Birkmayr had the low score with a 77. This week the team meets St. P. I. at Troy, New York.

S. A. M. Discuss Labor Relations

The Society For The Advancement Of Management had a short business meeting and discussion Wednesday afternoon, May 12, but no great decisions were present. Mr. George H. Heddendorf led the discussion on management and labor relations. He, and those present, actively participated, and all found the discussion very worthwhile.

We are rapidly approaching a popular era called "Jackying For Position." Election for the Junior class officers is a time when all the people who run for public office have to lie like the devil, and con-VINCE the people that they will be good to them after they get elected and they are in office. The system that they should receive after electing so and so is not due to the benevolence of the mostest. They are not allowed to be loved in return.

"The Clock" is a very high class of books used in the course are also well to understand. The last few years told the story: "give the greatest thing you'll ever learn is to love and be loved in return."

"The Circle" is a very high class mystery picture that you will probably enjoy. The acting is excellent and the scenery is very interesting. The picture does have one rather alluring part that sort of detracts from the audience enjoyment, and that's when the most beautiful female gives herself mangled in the second reel. At least we are better off with the second reel in this picture, because we eat it right after "Mark Hel­ singer Presents" in the "Naked City."
