Activities, Your Job, & You

Appracl and Comment

A recent study of 50 women by an Indiana University professor of administration shows that 82% of women who work part-time feel frustrated. Here are some tips for coping with the frustrations:

1. Identify your sources of frustration and find ways to reduce them.
2. Communicate with your supervisor or colleagues to address any issues.
3. Consider changing your job responsibilities or seeking a new role.
4. Engage in self-care activities, such as exercise or meditation, to reduce stress.
5. Seek support from colleagues or a mentor to help navigate challenges.

Final Exam Hints Given

With finals upon us, the BEAVER thought it might be useful to share some tips from our own past experience:

1. Start early: Begin reviewing your notes and preparing for exams as soon as the term begins.
2. Stay organized: Keep track of deadlines and allocate time for each subject.
3. Stay hydrated and well-rested: Good nutrition and sleep are crucial for mental clarity.
4. Take breaks: Regular breaks can help maintain focus and prevent burnout.
5. Seek help when needed: Don't hesitate to ask for assistance from teachers, tutors, or classmates.

Our Mutual Enterprises

A valuation model seems appropriate to the commercial extension of the Babson BEAVER. I am happy to report the passing of another milestone in Babson's growth. The college has reached an important stage in its development and has achieved national recognition of the quality of its program.

On Developing Opportunity

A slight improvement in the regional and national economy has led to slightly increased enrollment. In addition, the college has received a small increase in the number of inquiries from prospective students. These improvements are due to the efforts of the admissions department and the marketing staff.

The next step in the process of developing new opportunities is to review the existing programs and identify areas for improvement. This will require careful consideration of the needs of students and the market demands.

Stock Market Comment

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average bounded in the 200s, the highest level was reached in two decades. This was a result of the strong demand for stocks, which reflected optimism about the economy and expectations of higher corporate profits. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average consisted of 30 selected companies, each representing a different industry. The index is calculated by averaging the closing prices of these stocks and then weighting them.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average has been a widely used indicator of the overall health of the stock market. It is often referred to as the "Dow Jones Average." The index is published daily by The Wall Street Journal and is closely followed by investors and economic analysts.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average is based on the closing prices of the 30 component stocks on the New York Stock Exchange. The stocks included in the index are:

- General Electric
- AT&T
- Exxon Mobil
- Microsoft
- IBM
- General Motors
- Procter & Gamble
- Coca-Cola

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average is one of the oldest and most widely used stock market indices. It was created in 1884 by Charles Dow, a journalist and founder of Dow Jones & Company. The index is calculated using a simple average, which means that each stock is weighted equally. This results in a market capitalization-weighted index, where the largest companies have the most influence on the index.

The Dow-Jones Industrial Average is used to track the performance of the stock market and is often cited as a benchmark for the overall economy. It is also used as a short-term indicator of investor sentiment and market expectations. The index is calculated and published daily by Dow Jones & Company and is widely followed by investors, financial analysts, and policymakers.
Sports Year in Review

Football had full provided many thrills and the Off-Campus Seniors demonstrated their superiority by going undefeated. The team was honored upon winning the championship. Bryant Hall and Park Manor Left helped make the race close. But Negley, Bob Briel, and Hugh Flanders led the Seniors to a well-deserved championship. Also the fall term was the Cross-Country Race won by Roy Thrall and Jack Maker who jogged across the top for Park Manor South.

Basketball and Soccer
The Queen and White basketball team battled for first place in the league and played several games before Christmas. Team marks drew a slow tow to Church Before's hopes for a big season as several men were left to the team for their first warming. Records were found, however, and the team played well. The Queen won the winning seven and losing seven. At the close of the year the team picked Walt Turner to captain the squad next year. The Off-Campus Seniors ran away with the title with Basketball Crown by going through eight games without being defeated also seven. The Seniors provided the only opposition to the Seniors by also going 7-0 and taking the junior's title by a score of 34 to 22. Bill Burns and Dick Ehrenberg won most points for the Seniors. Seven men were chosen most Men's Athletes who was the defensive star. The Off-Campus Seniors' Team had had weather during the first part of the winter but during last part of the term did participate. In several M.N.C. Conference Muria. Bob Sites, Jack Maker, White Ehrenberg and Roy Weaver will be back again next year. Both teams have gained experience and determination to win some more.

Park Manor South, led by Graham Rock and "Doctor" de Gurney, won the league's Tennis Championship at the Mills Pool. The Seniors played against real competition but superior strength gave them the title. Much credit to the Seniors for working hard during the season. The Seniors team was the Ewing Memorial Trophy; prize of individual supremacy in tennis and basketball for the boys who entered every game. Pig-Miller. McGraw, and 20 yd. freestyle races and also won the butterfly. The place and placed well in the div.

Bryant Hall's men won the team's fifti on and candid-pin and basketball titles as White Hygger and Dick Ehrenberg captured their respective teams to decisive wins almost every night the league was at all its best. The Spencer of PHS won the Buntington Singles Crown by defeat the Deuce in Exham in a close match at the gym. Ingraham and Jim Nourse were never to be taken the doubles title. Freshman Bill Winding became the top singles champ and Red Adair fell to Bob Briel's grand slam in basketball. The Seniors' men's baseball in hand. In other indoor tournaments held during the winter term Dick Laws won the Pool Championship. Bob Briel and Jim Nourse were runners-up in the Pong Pong title holder and combined with Profressor Lios, also of Coleman South, to secure the doubles. No one will forget the argument over Pong Pong between Dick Laws and Jack Maker.

SECOND PLACE

Crissman opened the second game for CS by drawing a ace and after two being won off of him, Bob Briel was attacked and Crissman scored for Hallman threw Crissman's number one to first base. In the second inning Biesel drew a walk Dick came all the way home as Madison single to left went through Biesel. Karcer scored Madison as a single. Crissman and McGarth then followed with singles and it was obvious that Dick Negley didn't have his usual control and he was replaced by Pur- curae. Karcer scored as trusted filled to deep left. Biesel went out short to first and Biesel kept the rally alive with a free ticket and Pfeiffer singled home the extra run of the inning. Madison finally fanned to end the game.

Bryans only hit came in the first inning after two were out when Bob Briel bunted small single between short and third and stretched it to a double when Crissman was able field- ing the ball. He was stranded, however, as Pfeiffer got Crissman to pop to the outfield. Pfeiffer lost 3rd to 1st in the fourth, when after two were out, Biesel walked, stole second, and scored, as Pfeiffer threw Madison's bunt into field. Pfeiffer's first hit was demonstrated by the fact that only four ground balls were hit all isolated by Biesel himself. He struck out only once and men but got the rest on fly balls. Biesel led the first inning in the first three and times in the second and third. After the game the team chose Bob Hallman and Sen Briel to represent the team for next year. The win gave the team a record of four and one for the season which is a good record considering the opposition.

The Intercollegiate Team Team won its second game Saturday night by def- eating the Hobbes 5 to 1 at fieldhouse Park Manor. Pfeiffer allowed six hits, three in the seventh when the Hobbes tallied four times, while Pitch- ing Madison allowed three walks.

Arundie A Whirl

By Dick Stewart

The Barson band certainly whipped itself into an enthusiastic point. During the past few weeks, more than usual interest, spirit, and exuberance have taken place during the time before the preceding year. The piece was set by the Junior Picnic out at the Yellow Barn. Dave Mosley and Zen Byun obtained the sites, George is in charge prepared the meal, and the boys from the Home Economics department throughout the evening. Naturally there were five drinking.

The Freshman Chorus, that mighty group of student voices in the liquid world, provided a magnificent presentation of Sebastian's "The Masque of 1873." The 12 Club for this year was located in Wayland and Much to the amazement of all, as many ensembles attended as freshmen. The day was perfect with the exception of light showers during the evening, and had it not been for those showers it is doubtful whether there would have been many campsites inside enjoying the dance. The three groups, Huron, Fuller, and Glass, were present, and as usual provided entertainment throughout the evening. John Gregory Cleary made his debut over the P.A. system, and became even more exalted than a husband on his wedding day. The married people of Barson turned out in force and were helping Mr. and Mrs. Titus, Dr. and Mrs. McCloskey, and Dr. and Mrs. Morgan (J.P.) chase the mis- givings. From 9 p.m. on, they were helping chase the chops.

Late that evening, a group of students with ships, but after noon the sun came out, made to the outside of the members of the Alpha Chi Omega. It is said the in the proximity of the Freshman group, there are still doing "delicious young man" poisoning, which shows clearly that the pitoni was enjoyed by all. Gaston and "Tad" Turner were the leaders of the group, with the latter in a white shirt—short haired man. PERTHONA in- cluded a softball game with three hare under water, drinks removed with strawberries and salt, and large quantities of clean, cool, and water identified sufficient to satisfy the hunger of the hungriest member of the group.

The Senior picnic was held at Chenowith, but most of the members attended the ladies Freshman picnic, as very little is known as to what happened at the event.
