BY DOUG BURNS

After several terms of growth, the R.O.T.C. has finally found its place at BAISON. A quick look at the R.O.T.C. corps will verify the fact that it's growing in leaps and bounds.

Well Turner's is tops, and the other three units have been rising, too. After being the last of the groups to get off the ground, it's apparent that the impression has gotten around that R.O.T.C. students are draft exempt and that upon graduation they enter the armed services. These facts are only partially true.

TRAINING PROGRAM OUTLINED

Let us get at the facts. The R.O.T.C. program was first established by the National Defense Act of 1933. The United States Military Academy was given control in Military Tactics under the then Act, but the R.O.T.C. program has since expanded to include training in military science, tactics, and strategy.

This program, which is open to all male freshmen and sophomores, has two basic training periods of three hours per week, which is available to all students. The program is divided into two terms, one for freshmen and another for sophomores. The basic training course is open only to those students who have completed the basic course with a satisfactory grade and have passed the physical examination. The difficulty of the basic and the advanced courses is high. Students enrolled in the advanced course are paid by the government and are guaranteed a commission, but they must pass the physical examination again at the beginning of each term.

During normal times the R.O.T.C. is popular in those schools that have compulsory military training, such as the Land Grant Colleges, and in such cities as Boston, New York, and Chicago. In the event that the country is at war, the R.O.T.C. program is optional for the R.O.T.C. and the enrollment is small. Since the current enrollment at BAISON is 125, it has been revealed that there are colleges in which the R.O.T.C. has been established in colleges which previously hadn't had military training.

ROTTC BEGINNERS NOT DRAFT EXEMPT

Part of this happens because the average student who can enter college can join the R.O.T.C., but can't exempt himself from college and cut off from any contact with the R.O.T.C. student. Originally the R.O.T.C. at BAISON Institute is not known. But to complete the 16 hours of work in three years would require an average of more than 5 hours a week per year. It is desired that every student be enrolled in the R.O.T.C. program at BAISON Institute as soon as possible. The R.O.T.C. program requires 16 hours of instruction over four years. Just how many of the BAISON Institute students have enrolled in the R.O.T.C. program at BAISON Institute is not known. But to complete the 16 hours of work in three years would require an average of more than 5 hours a week per year. It is desired that every student be enrolled in the R.O.T.C. program at BAISON Institute as soon as possible.

Administration

If the plan at Bryant Hall selected one of the five or six freshmen, I don't know what's going to happen. There's a lack of ambition or initiative. It's due to the administration's negligence. It's clear that the administration needs an initiative and drive. This is obviously not being done at the University. It is very necessary for the R.O.T.C. course and an accelerated program in the R.O.T.C. program.

Barron Gail team continued its bad luck during the past two weeks, losing to Dartmouth 10-0, Huron 6-1, and Boston College 12-0. The losses were all the Dartmouth and Huron games were played in the same stadium, but with a brief interlude for the Harvard teams.

Barron's last home game this season.

Against Harvard, Davis Smith was his match and Joe Krusemier completed to win their lead while Charlie Allen and Walt Turvers halted their matches and tilt before. Jack McLean battled both lead matches. Charlie Allen really turned on the lead in the seventh, and he trusted the sixteenth and thirteenth holds and par ted the seventeenth to pull even with his man.

Only two matches are left on the schedule. Springfield next Thursday and Dartmouth on the third, both away. Team members are looking to bring things up and close season the season registered here by Dartmouth last week.

If You've Got Cash!
by HARRY JEFFRIES
Short and sweet, that's the order for today. Now you can always go to the Page 2 at every evening or hill a movie, and then there are the dirvue-ta; in other words, whether I write a column or not, you'll always have something to do.

Lewell and Balson are putting on another one of those endless parties; "Crazy's 90th" with Old Man Lewell in the lead, ably assisted by Marj Fager as Barker. All this and Lewell too, May 3 at 8:30 p.m., in Winslow Hall.
This looks like the last play they've ever done.

The Playhouse here in Wellesley has this week what it terms "1953's most distinguished program," with "Quo Vadis" and "The Three," followed next week by Bob Hope in "The Lemon Drop Kid."

CHOW
To conclude, here's a hot tip from Quebec: If Ken's is too swell and you want food, cross the road to the Boston Diner, where, according to Al, they have good steaks (total meal $1.75) and a ( ... someone who told him about the meal ...) For $4.50. I'd rather go to Toppy's—just this side of Ken's. We took the place there last Friday. When we couldn't get in Ken's and try, oh boy, did we have chicken! Try it!

H-38 PLANS
Mr. and Mrs. Cardwell entertained the new executive committee at their home on the evening of April 17. During the course of the evening new policies for the ensuing year were discussed. Upon the completion of this discussion the group enjoyed a very tasty lunch which was served by Mr. and Mrs. Cardwell.
The entire Coleman chapter was entertained by the Boston Bruins at a tea. The tea was on Thursday night and the group returned to the Grace Luncheon at their tea at the New Inn. The tea was on Thursday night and the group returned to the Grace Luncheon at their tea at the New Inn.

PARK MANOR NORTH
It is naturally difficult to name something you have never seen, so we shall attempt to sketch the following mental picture for you. The Junior will be approxi-ately 148 feet long and 25 feet wide. The rooms will be poorly furnished with modern furniture, and in the middle of the floor there will be a large replica of the Robson Hall. Adjusting the length there will be a terrace extending out on the Publishers side of the building. The room will be entered through French doors from the terrace.
NEW BRAIN FOOD
Now, as you sit down to read your Thursday brain for a suitable title for the Junior, you should keep these things in mind. Selection will be based on originality, ability not to wear out, and attractiveness of image. If possible, think of a title that will complement the Clip 'n' Order in Park Manor North.
The rest is up to you. Get busy and think up some new headlines, and then submit the title which you consider to be best. Don't forget, all entries must be in by June 1.
