Student Government ratifies amendment

By ANNE BROWN
News Editor

Babson College’s Student Government held its first meeting, and voted in one new amendment to the Constitution. Students representing each residence hall attended the meetings, and vote on important issues as they are presented.

This week’s amendments to the Constitution dealt with the Student Traffic Court. Jeff Fenston, Chairman of the court, proposed two amendments at the first Student Government meeting of last semester. The first provides that any member of the Student Traffic Court, including the alternate, who misses three meetings in one semester shall “at the discretion of the chairman, be dismissed and the alternate shall take the member’s chair, therefore becoming a permanent member of the court.”

Fenston stated that attendance is very important, as precedents are set and followed, and members missing more than three meetings should be removed from the court. Student Government passed this amendment.

The second amendment read that the alternate position only be held for a one year duration, at the end of which the student would be required to reapply for membership on the court. After much discussion and controversy, the representatives voted not to pass this amendment, and it must now be rewritten and be resubmitted for the Student Government’s approval.

Each week the vice presidents give their reports. Peter Hemingway, V.P. Licensing, explained the procedure for obtaining an application for a temporary or permanent license. The Licensing Committee meets every Monday at 3:30 in Kriebel 209.

Lynn Cooper, V.P. Communications, announced that constitutions will be available in two or three weeks. Her office hours will be for 1 hour each Tuesday after the Student Government meeting.

V.P. Finance, Rich Bernstein, told representatives that this year Student Government received $36,000 to be distributed to student organizations. A budget was given to reps, and will be voted on next week. Bernstein’s office hours are from 4:30-5:30 every Monday in the Student Government office.

Joel Saslaw, V.P. Social, announced that Homecoming weekend will be held from Friday to Sunday. Tickets go on sale Tuesday afternoon, and will be $7 in advance and $9 at the door. The first SoCo meeting is Wednesday at 6:15 in Trim. Saslaw’s office hours will be Sunday nights from 6 to 9 in the Student Government office. He encourages anyone with questions about how to get bands or hold functions to stop by.

Four student businesses were approved at the meeting. Two are new aerobic classes. One is run by Pam Vander Male called “Aerobics and Rhythm” and is worth two gym credits if all 16 classes are attended. The second, worth one gym credit, is “Body Magic” and run by Anne Spiewak. Mark Zablasky will run “Racquets Unlimited”, and will reserve racquets. The last permanent license was granted to the Marketing Association who will sell MCI phone service to Babson students.

Two temporary licenses were granted. The Class of 1984 will be selling gold and sterling earrings in the mailroom October 3. Sigma Kappa was granted a temporary license to sell plants October 4 and 6 in the mailroom. Temporary licenses are granted by the licensing committee, and are not voted on by Student Government.

The next meeting will be held in Kriebel 209 at 6:45 next Tuesday, October 4. Meetings are open to all interested students.

Bars shut down

By ANNE BROWN
News Editor

In the last two weeks, bar windows at Knight Auditorium parties have been closed down by Babson Security. According to Babson security officer Robert Thorpe, the windows were closed because the organization hosting the party failed to adhere to the campus drinking policy.

The first problem arose at Theta Chi’s rush party Friday night. Campus police saw that the students passing out alcohol weren’t checking stamped hands, so after several warnings police closed one bar. The second was allowed to remain open as long as the fraternity ran it in accordance with the rules.

The following evening Zeta Beta Tau experienced the same problem. Thorpe stated that the campus police saw the fraternity not checking stamps, and after several warnings closed one window. Forty-five minutes later they saw continuous infractions of the rules, so the entire bar was closed and all remaining alcohol was confiscated.

At present, police were undecided as to what will happen to the three kegs and one and a half cases of vodka confiscated. Thorpe said if the alcohol became property of the college to be used at a college function.

At 11:40 Saturday night, Zeta Beta Tau decided to close the party after both bars had been closed. Fraternity President John Peyrot felt the campus police were quite strict in closing both windows. According to the fraternity, the first window was closed because they served a

Carrying on the AK tradition of bringing great music and partying to Babson is no easy task for the brothers of Alpha Kappa Psi, especially after last year’s “Jon Butcher, Axis!” concert. But after a month of searching, we truly believe we have found a band that will blow the roof off of Knight Auditorium: “Panorama.”

“Panorama” is undoubtedly one of the most exciting dance rock groups to come out of the Boston area in recent years. From the hits of The Police, Men at Work, Stray Cats, Duran Duran, and Robert Palmer to the songs of Michael Jackson, Prince, and Rick James, to the group’s original material, this band will amaze you with their remarkable tight sound and high energy stage performance.

Along with Panorama, Alpha Kappa Psi brings along its bar experience to get your Vodka tonic, Beer, Maddox, Coke

Coddor, etc. to you without the usual waiting in long lines. Advertisement for this show will be heavy at Babson and on many surrounding campuses, so we recommend that you get to Knight Auditorium before it sells out and you’re left in the cold. The show will begin promptly at 9:00 p.m. on Friday, September 30. See you there!

KKG

The sisters of Kappa Kappa Gamma are happy to announce the recent initiation of 18 new members to the chapter. We are looking forward to their help in making Kappa an outstanding campus organization.

We would also like to extend an invitation to all campus females to join us this coming week of Rush. Our first party will be Sunday, October 2 at 8 P.M. in Pierz lounge. We’re looking forward to meeting you.

Proposed Organizational Budgets

Following are the proposed Student Government organizational budgets. These will be discussed and voted on at the next Student Government meeting, Tuesday, October 4 at 6:45 in Tomasso Hall. Student Government Vice President of Finance Richard Bernstein is available to answer any questions concerning the budgets, funding events, etc. during his office hours, Monday, 4:30-5:30 P.M. in the Student Government office located in Central.

Tenure candidates

The following faculty members are eligible for tenure consideration this fall: Allan Cohen, Wayne Crouch, Christopher Hennessey, Larry Israaason, M. Kelly Lynch, Sydell Sokovitz, and John Stevens.

Tenure decisions are extremely important both to the future of the individual candidate and to Babson College. The Tenure Committee invites all members of the Babson community to submit any information felt to be relevant to the above candidates’ qualifications for tenure including, but not limited to, teaching performance. This material will be kept strictly confidential and should be submitted directly to Dr. Michael Fettcr, Chairman, Tenure Committee as soon as possible since tenure considerations are now under way.

Board of Overseers

Applications are now available for 2 positions on the Board of Overseers of the Beaver Brau. Responsibilities include monthly meetings to review and to determine policies, pricing, programs and facilities. Interested students (graduate and undergraduate) can pick up applications at Student Activities Office.

Deadline is October 7.

Health workshop

A workshop on eating disorders on campus will be sponsored jointly by the Health Center, Office of Student Activities and Office of Residential Life on Wednesday, October 5 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Park Manor South Lounge.

The workshop will be presented by Dr. Ede Rassiga and is open to any interested member of the college community.

The workshop will focus on:

1. The cultural factors related to women (especially) and their relationships with food and body image.
2. The characteristics of specific eating disorders.
3. Management strategies for addressing these disorders on campus.

Rainbow sessions

To facilitate the proper use of the Rainbow computers by students, daily 15 minute sessions will be held to demonstrate the mechanics of the machine, not on the software. Several experienced student User Services staff members will conduct the demonstrations in the Rainbow Lab (Horn 202 C and D) twice on weekdays and twice on the weekend beginning October 3.

Students are strongly encouraged to attend one of these sessions before using the Rainbow computers.

Students familiar with the Rainbows who are interested in supervising the initiation of students should contact Kathy Maloney, Manager of Computer User Services, at ext. 423 to reserve the Rainbow Lab.

Schedule of demonstrations:

Mon. - Fri. 1:30 p.m., 7:30 p.m.

OPINION/COMMENTARY

Power means not needing to raise your voice. -George Will

Safety vs. Student's rights

The administration at Babson really concerned about underage drinking and student safety or is it just trying to avoid a liability suit like the one encountered by Pomona College? In that case the judge ruled that colleges have a responsibility to protect students, against the actions of third parties. Because of the case and the rapes on campus last year, Babson is attempting to "step up security measures to meet this responsibility," according to the administration.

EDITORIAL

Upperclassmen returning to campus this Fall have been hit with restrictions and regulations regarding everything from getting into the Pub to getting into a friend's hall after 11 P.M. to being able to have a beer at a Knight Auditorium party.

While no one is against making Babson a safer campus, a balance must be struck between safety controls and students' rights.

"Babo Security is just enforcing the school's alcohol policy. They closed down ZBT's party on Saturday night, because alcohol was being served to people with un stamped hands. Security confiscated 3 keys and a case. What I want to know is, did anyone check security's hands to see if they were stamped? ZBT wants to know what happened to their beer. Maybe security swal lowed the evidence."

"Sorry to hear about all you people who took off for Newport last weekend to see the America's Cup. Considering the outcome, you were probably better off that it was postponed."

"In an effort to collect the $30 registration fee, Babo security has been ticketing all cars in the Maxi-Lot for non-display of sticker. I wish someone would tell me what kind of privileges we get for $30. Face it, the Maxi-Lot is not all that convenient for a lot of us and there's no real protection. Babo Five-O doesn't guard the cars - they just ticket them."

"Everyone's trying to figure out what's going on with The Exchange's new patio. From a bystanders point of view, it appears that the crew is digging up what they just put down. That's typical - they probably finished ahead of schedule and don't want to seem too efficient. The only problem is the epidemic of headaches - not to mention a lot of sleepy people in Central due to the jackhammers. Maybe the crew could pass out those soundproof ear coverings to all Central residents..."

"Central is really having its share of problems lately. Security is going to start locking all the doors between the floors of Central at 10 pm on weeknights and 11 pm on weekends. Talk about being locked in. Sounds like Central is housing a bunch of juvenile delinquents, not mature college students."

"Did anyone notice something missing at the Pub on Friday? Yup, CORD. Was the rug really going to be shampooed on Saturday morning or was the absent popcorn merely a ploy to get us to buy the Pub's snacks?"

"I'm all for everyone being able to express their own views - and that includes the BGLA. But is there any reason why last week's Open Forum took up 16 percent of the paper when gays only account for 10 percent of the population?"

Bookstore unfair

Dear Editor,

I would like to inform Babson College students of a recent incident I encountered at the bookstore. On the first day of classes I received notice that I had not completed all the prerequisites necessary for one of my courses. I went to Drop/Add and fulfilled the necessary changes. Upon completion of my changes, I went to the bookstore to get my books. One book had already been sold out so I got the books for the remaining three courses.

On the following class day there were several people adding the class, like myself, resulting in a shortage of syllabi. The next class I received my syllabus and realized I had been given sixty-five dollars of wrong books.

Yesterday, 9/19/83, I tried to return these books but my refund was refused because the person who did the charge only gave me the second page of the receipt which only had a subtotal at the top from the previous page. I then went to the manager where I requested to see the copies made when the bill was written. My sixty-five dollar refund was still refused because of policy dictating that no refunds will be given without a full receipt. I ask the Babson students, the editor, and the bookstore manager, Why should I have to pay for the mistakes made by both the employee getting the books and the cashier? The manager answered me, “Haven’t you ever made a mistake?” My answer is simple, “Yes, of course, but it never cost anyone else anything! Sixty-five dollars is still no drop in the bucket to me!”

Very angry customer,
David K. Cox

How to kill a social life

To the editor:

How many ways are there to kill a social life? Just come to Babson and find out.

Last year’s “flaxcoat” shows just how far administration and security can go to ruin the social atmosphere at Babson. What exactly did closing down a party with 100 people prove? Sure, there were underage students drinking but what so? It wasn’t a case of blatant disregard for school policies as the action by security suggests but rather an error on the part of a few people serving alcohol. Did this error constitute such a ludicrous action or was security just showing their power in an inappropriate manner? It seems to me that the latter is the logical answer.

The point is this. The school has adopted (or was forced to adopt) at Babson has been led to believe) a drinking policy that is in great disfavor with the student body. The purpose of the policy was basically to protect the school from certain liabilities. However, there is a point where the school, being a private institution, can turn its head as it had been the practice many times in the past. As long as proper procedures at the entrance to a party is followed (the I.D./stamping procedure), the school has protected itself. If security finds it necessary to conduct random spot checks on people once inside the party then be it. Those individuals caught drinking illegally should have to discard their drinks but, to close down a party for this reason is asinine.

Finally, many find it dispointing that the social atmosphere (or any other school) revolves so strongly around alcohol but this is an issue that will never be resolved. This being the case, isn’t it better that students, whether they be of legal drinking age or not, drink here on campus rather than in Boston where the possibility of an alcohol related car accident comes into the picture? Who is it the school really concerned about anyway?

It is time for the student body to take a stand on this issue, especially underclassmen who will be affected by the repercussions of the policy for the rest of their stay here at Babson. It is just as important for administration and security to become more reasonable in their actions as against underage drinkers. If a compromise cannot be achieved, the social life at Babson will continue to deteriorate to a point where all other aspects of Babson life will suffer.

Lewis D. Simon

Clarification needed

To the editor:

In the September 22nd edition of the Babson Free Press OPEN FORUM/You’re Not Alone, pp. 4 & 5, the statement was made, “The American Psychological Association considers homosexuality to be normal.” I would like to clarify Dave Childers’ statement by quoting from three sources:

“Allowing many people still view homosexuality as unnatural, most psychologists and psychiatrists still consider it to be a variant rather than a perversion of sexual expression and not, in itself, an indication or cause of mental illness.” (Hilgard et al., 1983).

Woody Allen's Zelig shines

By STEPHEN J. TURNER
Features Staff

What Walt Disney did for cartoons, Woody Allen is doing for comedy. Zelig, his latest effort, will leave you dazed and wondering how one person can be so brilliant. Watching this movie titillates the intellect to the max by serving up superb cinematography, incredible detail, and a script that leaves no desire but the longing for more.

The film is in documentary format and the excellence in presentation kept me pinching myself as a reminder that it wasn’t really a serious documentary. Of course, if the pinch didn’t do it, then the humor did by loading on the classic Allenese with precision timing. I kept wondering how one person can be so funny, so great a writer and so excellent a director without being a certified genius?

See this movie and I know you will agree that Woody Allen’s Zelig places him among the greatest minds of our time:

...And life goes on at Babson

By KIM JOHNSON
Features Staff

Hey, kiddies! How are we all this week? Just dying for the weekend, aren't we? Well, let's hope it's a slight improvement over last weekend! Where was everyone? Don't tell me they all went home, so soon? Missing Momie and Dada already?

I couldn't understand it. No one showed up at Knight either night. North was a little empty on Saturday, too. What's wrong with you people? No school spirits? Where's your sense of adventure? OK, so you're not into the torn-sweatshirt-off-the-shoulder-look. You at least could have shown up and spent the loopy two bucks to watch "It's Raining Men" performed live, and dance a few steps yourself. The party wasn't all that bad.

I'm really looking forward to the grand opening of the Exchange's porch. That damned noise is driving me nuts! They're out there hammering away at 7:30 a.m. every morning. No way can anyone in Central sleep. I couldn't understand why no one showed up for work on Friday, yet there they were hanging away on Saturday. Any Central residents interested in napping or studying after brunch had to abolish those ideas due to the noise pollution. Some piece of machinery they were using sounded a lot like a machine gun. I thought for a while they were coming, searching for a Korean jet or something.

While I'm on the subject of little things that bother me, there are three small obstacles that really pester my mind. For starters, there's the telephone. Yes, it finally works, but there are supposed to be four little rubber gaskets on the bottom so it doesn't scratch up our shiny desk tops, and one is missing. So the whole thing is off balance when I dial each of the seven or so digits. The ring to my classy French-style phone is enough to wake anyone from a deep sleep. The sound is somewhere between a smoke detector, a loud alarm clock, and my father in a fit of fury.

My closet door won't open unless I pull up the carpet eight inches, so, in my sleepy stupor in the morning I trip over the rug as I search for something to wear. Once I've selected my skirt and blouse, I back out of the closet and once again trip on the rug, and either get a run in my nylon or break a nail as I grab hold of a chair to steady myself.

Last but not least, the ridiculous electrical outlet crisis! I need at least six more! I get intense head-aches from having to reach in the dark because there's no outlet even close to my desk. The extension cord with the adaptor is behind the bed, so when the time comes, tiringly, I have to plug in the 'ol hair dryer, hot curlers, and curling iron as well as the make-up mirror and iron for my clothes. I have to drag the bed out and pull up the adaptor attached to the extension cord to plug all these appliances in. The amazing part is that I haven't even started any fires or blown any fuses.

Aside from these hassles, I'm having a hell of a time! Aren't you? We finally got hot water (most of the time) here in Central, but we wrote a petition to Dave Ellis anyway, just to let him know we weren't letting this one slide without a few words.

A Re Ride Up the Dial

For those of you who are from out of state, you may have noticed that there is a fairly wide variety of music programming available on Boston radio. To help you decide which station best suits your taste buds, here is a quick rundown of the FM stations.

WLTY (92.5): This new station plays easy listening, "mellow-cut" music. If you like softrock and adult contemparory, you'll like WLTY.

WBOS (92.9): Last year this was one of the more popular stations with their impressive mixture of new and old rock hits. However, they recently changed formats and are now totally country.

WCGY (93.7): This is the station to listen to for oldies from the 50's and 60's. The roots of Rock 'n Roll.

WCZO (94.5): Three short years ago COZ was far by the most popular FM station in the Boston area and one of the most popular rock stations in the country. Their popularity has greatly decreased but they are still very good to listen to for some good 'ole rock 'n roll.

WJIB (96.9): Elevator music, anyone?

WROR (98.5): Billed as Music Radio, they concentrate mainly on the Top 40. Also, you can count down the Billboard Top 40 with Casey Kasem on Sunday morning at 9:00 and again at 6:00 p.m.

WFNX (101.7): This new addition replaces the old WLTY. Their playlist is rather varied, seemingly to be similar to WBCN. Local bands can also get limited exposure here.

WEIT (103.3): Hit radio came out of nowhere to become the most popular FM station in the area. But they seem to be based on a Top 10 playlist, playing the same songs over and over. Listen this week for one hour and you're almost guaranteed to hear "Tell Her About It." Saturation radio lives.

WBCN (104.1): Life is not complete unless you've at least tried WBCN, one of the best all-around stations you'll find. They'll play the local bands and the music no one else will touch. Make it a point to catch Charles Laquidara and the 5:00 comedy. WBCN is famous for exposing the popular bands long before they were popular.

WVBF (105.7) and WMJX (106.7): Similar to WLTY; these two stations prefer softrock and ballads. Sometimes relaxing, sometimes sleep-inducing... Of the three major stations in the easy listening category, WMJX (Magic 106) is the best.

WAFF (107.3): Depending on your radio, you could have some trouble picking up this Worcester based station. They often lean toward the heavy metal sound, but they're a fairly good alternative to WCZO for rock.

WXKS (107.9): Kiss 108 is considered "urban contemporary" but a lot of what they play is simply disco. No thanks. Lastly, if news is your thing it's better to switch to AM. Best bets are WEEI (930), WHDH (850) and WBZ (1030).

Field Hockey chalks up first win

By JULIE VIGLIONE
Sports Staff

After a close 1-0 loss last week to Rivier, Babson Women’s Field Hockey went their first game on Monday with a 2-1 victory over St. Anselm’s.

Babson’s offense totally dominated the first half of the game. Junior Sandy Krawczyk scored the first goal and sophomore Jodi McGill followed it up with a smooth drive that trickled by St. A’s goalkeeper. Babson continued to rush the goal throughout the game and kept the pressure on.

During the second half of the game goalie DeWittman stopped a strong, high drive with a fantastic save off her knee. The defensive line played a strong game against a tough St. Anselm’s team.

The Babson team is increasing in size with a couple of new players. The women played well together and hopefully will continue to do so in their game today at Pine Manor at 4 pm. Their next game is Tuesday, October 4th at Dean Junior College.

SPORTING A FEW THOUGHTS...

By TOM HOYT
Sports Staff

I’ve heard all the complaints: it’s boring, who outside of New England cares about it, it’s only for the rich. Well no matter what I’ve heard I have to admit that the Australian winning of the America’s Cup hurts. Heck, it was ours for 132 years and now it has been taken away. I can’t find blame in Dennis Conner or his crew but perhaps the New York Yacht Club who sponsored the boat got a bit too cocky and didn’t prepare quite as well as they should have. Anyway it’s all over now.

A few post scripts from the race. The country of Australia certainly is enjoying the win. Tuesday was declared a national holiday. But from all of it the classic move I’ve seen in sports. Alan Bond, head of the Australian syndicate responsible for winning the Cup, has assured us that it will retain the name America’s Cup and won’t be changed. And finally if any Australians try to rub it in just remember that we lead the series 2-1.

Now that we are nearing the end of the baseball season I’d like to voice my opinion on what I feel is baseball’s two biggest mistakes. First they call the lines and poles, foul lines and foul poles. No way! If a ball hits either one it is ruled fair, so why not smarter up and call them fair lines and fair poles. Secondly, say a game is rained out in the fourth inning. They start from scratch again, it’s absurd. Why penalize the players for what they’ve already done. In tennis or golf do they go back to the beginning if there’s rain? NO!

While on the subject of what upsets me, follow this one. Celtics game. Bird gets a pass and steps on the line, refs say he’s out-of-bounds, OK I can accept that. What bugs me is that if Irving steps on the line while putting the ball in play they say he is in-bounds. Hey NBA, make up your mind. Either a guy is in or out. What is the line, some type of magical thing that changes according to the situation? Would someone on this campus please take the time and make up a detailed map of the Frisbee Golf Course. I mean here I am a senior and I don’t have the foggiest as to where to start. While your at it include pins for each hole and perhaps a bit of the history.

In basketball news it looks certain that we will have Larry Bird for the remainder of his playing career, it’s a nice feeling. Meantime, Robert Parish wants more than this $650,000 per year. Kevin McHale remember signed for a million per season so don’t be surprised if the Celtics’ new owners give him what he wants.

A bit of a change in concluding this week. Make sure that if you were ever a Yazz fan that you don’t miss TV’s “Tribute to Yazz” on Monday during the 6 o’clock news. It could be really big.

Women's Volleyball

By PAUL J. CUNEG
Sports staff

The women's volleyball team went one for two during the past week. Last Saturday the lady Beavers hosted Regis for their first home match of the season. In the previous three contests between the two conference rivals, Babson had easily defeated Regis and went into this match confident of making it four straight. It was a different Regis team though, equipped with a multiple offense, which utilized three hitters on the front line as compared to the regular two. This was the first such team Babson has played with such an offense structure. Though Regis was obviously a much improved team, Babson took them in the opening, but lost five games series, 15-3.

Regis came back in the second game, going point for point with Babson. Half way through the game, Babson co-captain Deb Bordenover played the strong side position, i.e. left front line, hit a ball Coach Caruso described as being "One of the hardest and most intense hits Deb has ever set. She placed it right behind their middle blocker and with such velocity that it was unreturnable." The shot proved to be one of the turning points in the game. Though never actually behind, the momentum clearly had moved in favor of Babson. Regis never fully caught up, losing the second game 15-11.

Down by two games, Babson expected Regis to come out strong, but it was just not to be. The strong serving of Babson, their main asset, proved to be the deciding factor in the match. The senior Lisa Romaniuci gave some clutch points late in the game to give Babson a comfortable lead. Regis made a last ditch effort to catch up by getting some crucial points of their own, but was unable to fully bridge the gap as Babson edged them out in the third game 15-3, blanking Regis three games to love.

The team was not as successful -1 in an away match versus Stonehill on Thursday. They started out well, controlling and winning the opening game 15-11. However, that point forth, Babson steadily became unavail- able. They lost the next three games 9-15, 13-15, and 1-15.

Donna Caruso stated that "the team had poor service reception, court reception and an overall lack of organization out on the court. She went on to comment on the opposing saying, "we were playing an equally talented team in Stonehill, but we were never mentally involved in the game."

This defeat marked the first loss for the men's volleyball team this season. The upcoming match is against Saint Leo on Nov. 28, away at Framingham and with M.E. Boston. It is only 10 minutes away, so come support the ladies. Game time is 6 pm.

Beavers gain Colby; lose MIT

By TOM HOYT
Sports Staff

Maine: lovely state, great coastline, picturesque scenery, road games: travel, unfriendly crowds, unfamiliar fields. Road games in Maine; get a win and get out quickly. That is just how it worked for the men's soccer team this past Saturday as they traveled to Waterville, ME and returned home with a 2-1 win at the hands of Colby.

Playing with referees whose abilities rivaled those of any Marcel Marceau School of Public Speaking graduate the Beavers struck for two goals in the first half and then hung on to raise their record to 3-0-1.

With the duldrums of the long bus ride still playing a part in the match stopper Mark McNabb lofted a free kick to the near post and the head to Tim Nugent. Nugent directed the ball in front and soon it was on the head of Glen Caldwell and Babson had a 1-0 lead. Playing what was no doubt their most sluggish half of the season it remained 1-0 until less than 30 seconds remained in the half. Striker Shaun Cunningham beat the White Mule defense to the end-line and fired a pass to Brady Bobman. The Yarmouth, ME, junior, playing in front of a home hometown crowd, struck a right footed blast into the netting while Colby keeper Tim McCrystal could only watch.

With midfielder Rob Galusse and sweeper Mark Sullivan both playing with crippling leg injuries, the Colby side mounted its only serious threat 15 minutes into half two. Striker Matt Burke took a cross literally off the face of wingback Andy Sten-

The Engineers came into the match at 1-3 and parlayed a stingy defense to go along with Babson's continuing goal mouth problems into the deadlock. Most of the fans who witnessed the Saturday afternoon match were not around for the best chance of the day. Just 20 seconds into play junior striker Cunningham fired to the right of MIT keeper Mike Schoen and only a fine diving save kept Babson off the board. Again in the second half Babson Failed to capitalize on goal scoring opportunities. Mid-

In an effort to find the right combination head Coach Bill Rogers juggled his strikers throughout the afternoon to no avail. In overtime number one fullback Tim Smith drove to the goal and fired from the top of 18, his shot however skimmed off the crossbar and out of the reach of the last minute offensive punch comes across the most fans must remember be the last defensive efforts of Mark Sullivan, Mark McNabb, Andy Stenno, and senior defender Bob Muscarelli who recorded his third shutout of the season.

Baseball is in action again on Saturday when they will host Middlebury at the Babson Corbeville field, game time is 2 pm.

The first week of intramural football brought some exciting defensive battles to the Back 40. On a sour note, there were two forfeits in the women's division, McCullough, South/Central, and the Grads emerged victorious in the men's league and South prevailed in the women's league.

In the season opener, McCullough edged Pietz 12-10 in a battle that ended with a Jeff Patulak interception with no time left on the clock. Scott (Mr. Fix) Smith showed great leaping ability as he hauled in a touchdown pass in the first half. McCullough's defense came up with three interceptions, and their quarterback threw two wobbly touchdown passes, but he disappeared immediately after the game, and no one caught his name. Mark Roth was sensational offensively and defensively in a losing effort for Pietz.

South/Central, in a surprising victory, shut-out Publishers 8-0. The only score of the game was a 55 yard bomb thrown by John Burwick. Linebucker Dave Servello claims that he should be mentioned for great defensive play, so ladies and gentlemen, Dave Servello played a great defensive game. In another surprising victory, the Grads won a squeaker against Forest 1-8.

The winning score was on a Tim Bridges to Alex Zabek touchdown pass, with the two point conversion a Bridges to Aradian pass. Forest's only points of the day were on a James Colin 20 yard interception return. Kent/Caniield outlasted North I in the final game of the week, 10-0. The only touchdown of the day was a Chris Pederson to Mianer touchdown pass, and a Pederson to Bill Gannon conversion.

In the only women's intramural game, South defeated Green Gables 14-6. Betty Haley opened the scoring with a sixty yard touchdown run in the first half for South. Green Gables tied the score when Maureen McGee scrambled a from ten yards out. South then took the lead for good when freshman Terry Radcliff of South threw a 45 yard strike to Jeanette Stare for the decisive points.

Radcliff appears to be a budding superstar for South, and she has the potential to dominate the powder puff football league.

The first week of the season was an enthusiastic success, and for those who missed their team's first games, there are plenty more. The women's powder puff football needs participants, so anyone interested in playing sign up with your I.V. rep.

Women’s Soccer on a roll

By JIM WARREN
Sports Staff

The women’s soccer team finished the week with two impressive wins to boost their record to 3-1. After soundly beating Brandeis, 1-0, the Beacons rallied from behind to defeat Framingham State in overtime, 2-1. A fast break by Coach Feveng, “very, very pleased.”

Archival, Brandeis, was not to be competition for the well drilled Babson team. Babson outplayed Brandeis the whole game. They outshot Brandeis by a 36 to 12 margin, but managed to score only one goal.

The team had many scoring opportunities, but as described by Coach Feveng, “We were close, but we just couldn’t finish the plays off.” The lone goal of the game was scored by senior, tri-captain Mi Mi Hajiarr.

Thanks to an outstanding defensive effort, led by tri-captain Ellen McCarthy, and freshman Claudine Cappellini, one goal was all that was needed to secure the Babson victory.

Saturday, Babson hosted Framingham State in an exciting come from behind, overtime win. First half action was Framingham State jump out to a 2-0 lead with Babson unable to put it together.

“We seemed to be a step behind,” noted Babson midfielder Pam Murray.

After regrouping at halftime, Babson came out in the second half and took it right to the Framingham team. Added offensive pressure was the result when Coach Feveng moved Ellen McCarthy from stopper to striker in the second half. The team was also sparked by freshman Gloria Gutierrez, who came in off the bench and literally turned the game around by creating many scoring opportunities.

With these adjustments made, Babson struck twice to tie the score at 2-2. Both goals were scored by fine playmaker, Denise Cohen. With neither team able to score again in regulation, the game went into a two period (10 minutes apiece) overtime.

In the first overtime period, Babson’s Tricia Brown was awarded a penalty kick because a Framingham defender used her hands to block the Babson shot on net. The freshman calmly blasted the ball past the Framingham goalie for the game winner.

Later in the overtime period Mi Mi Hajiarr added an insurance goal and Babson went on to win, 4-2. An outstanding performance was also put in by senior, tri-captain Val leaf, who made the move from forward to goalie in the second half of the game. Coach Feveng summed up the victory, “The exciting comeback was a total team effort.”

This Saturday, Babson will host a tough University of Rhode Island team. The action begins at 11:00 a.m.

Ruggers take UMass to the Limit

By BIF BOCAROBA
Sports Staff

This past weekend the Babson United Rugby Club traveled to the University of Massachusetts to take on the 3-time New England champions. The first game, played by the "A" side was a defensive battle. The first half saw no scoring as both teams could not convert their opportunities into points.

Late in the second half UMass made a penalty kick to go ahead 3 to 0. However, moments later, under tremendous pressure, Jeff McGill also kicked the ball through the posts to tie the score at 3 a piece.

Babson continued to dominate play as the pack (Andy F. Graham, Jay Simpson, T.C. Conroy, Keri Smith, Andy Papadimitriou, Rob Wahlers, Dave Codger and Brian O’Connell) pushed UMass all over the field.

Babson, however, just could not get the points to win. With just minutes to play, UMass converted another penalty kick to break Babson’s hearts. Final score UMass 6, Babson 3.

The "B" game was an incredible seesaw battle with the lead switching hands five times. Although Babson lost another heartbreaker 18-16, they had nothing to be ashamed of. Both the "B" and back teams played extremely well. In the pack, newcomer Jim Kenefick flew the rugby as he dismembered opponents.

Overall, Babson played well against a fine UMass rugby team. This Saturday Babson faces another powerhouse in the second round of the newly organized New England League as Boston University will travel to the back 40. Game time is 1:30 to come down to the field and cheer on the proud and bloody gentlemen of the B.U.R.C.
