Student Government discusses ten meal plan at last meeting

by Gary Dressler

How many meals does the average student attend at Trim Dining Hall? According to Saga Foods, a student is only expected to dine at Trim 70 percent of the time. It was also pointed out by Anita Pereljan, the student representative for the Food Committee, that the students are only charged on the basis of this 70 percent. In Anita’s report to Student Government, she announced that there had been a proposal for a ten meal plan in which a student will have the option to go to any ten meals of his choice. It was also pointed out that the proposal was passed by the prices of all meals plans would go up. Anita and Student government Representative said the reason for this was that “Saga makes its money on people not going to meals. If you take this away (people with the ten meal plan not missing meals), then Saga will lose money.” Anita also said that the question of whether or not it was possible for a student to be able to go to the Dry Dock instead of Trim for a meal was brought up during a recent meeting. The two problems with this are the need for a computer in both Trim and the Dry Dock, and the fact that there is currently not enough space in the Dry Dock to serve that many people.

In discussing the problems of the Dry Dock being too small, the idea for the construction of a Student Center was considered in which this problem would be solved, President Friedman said, “There are no plans to build a Student Center in the near future.” He added, “It’s up to the students to do something, or in ten years students will still be asking for a center.” It was pointed out that other schools like Northastern had the students finance the construction of the Student Center by paying about $30 every semester. There were mixed emotions on this suggestion by the representatives and this issue will be discussed at future meetings.

During a recent Student Affairs meeting, there was a vote on whether or not every student should be forced to live off campus for a year. This would grant all freshmen housing. This proposal was not accepted by the committee.

Vice-President Paul Weiner announced a renewal of a license for Campus Student Services. This business is run by John Demerit and Phil Ofhalikey. Weiner also asked the representatives the following. “How do you feel about competition between businesses?” Most of the people at the meeting were in favor and the concern was the few possible instances which businesses will be completely in an extremely limited market.

The report on the last Faculty Committee meeting was given by Lynn Billups, who is the Freshman representative. She told Student Government that December graduate Debbie Johnson invited all the faculty to attend the graduation banquet. Johnson said that the banquet has been declining in attendance in recent years and because of this there has been a change in the proceedings this year. The formal banquet will occur at 3:30 pm on December 13 which will be followed by a reception. An under-graduate project-oriented work experience course was canceled by the faculty at the meeting.

President Friedman announced the dates set aside for the election and the events related to them. They are as follows: March 30, Candidates’ Night; March 25 and 26, Primary; March 30 and 31, Elections; and on April 7 the new officers will take office. At its first meeting next semester, Student Government will be discussing Financial Aid.

December graduation plans outlined

by Helen C. Joy

December and September graduates will participate in a graduation ceremony on Saturday, December 13 in Trim Dining Hall. The ceremony begins at 3:30 with an introduction by Mary Dunn, Coordinator of Student Affairs. Following the introduction, President Sorenson will address the probable graduates and invited guests. Glen Friedman will act as the undergraduate speaker, with Visiting Professor John Stamm concluding. Announcements of nominations to Who’s Who will take place, followed by a presentation of a momento of the event to each probable graduate. No diplomas will be distributed due to the fact that grades for this semester will not be out yet. All December and September graduates (students who have completed the requirements for degree in the second summer session) will be invited to graduation ceremony in May and can receive their diplomas at that ceremony. Diplomas will otherwise be mailed.

This year’s format for December Graduation, which consists of the ceremony 3:30-4:30 and a reception 4:30-6:00, is a newly developed one. The need for a change was expressed by last year’s December graduates. Previously the program consisted of a banquet at Trim. The new program was formulated by the Senior Steering Committee and the December graduates themselves.

Fifty-five undergraduates will be graduating, along with 135 part-time graduate students and 23 full time graduate students.

Concert to be held Friday

By Veronica Grant

The Babson Social Committee and Student Government will present “The Final Party” featuring James Cotton and James Montgomery on Friday night.

Social Committee Chairman Peter Rotvedt said that “it is going to be a dynamic time, and by far the best show that they (Scoo) have had all semester”. Rotvedt is very enthusiastic about being able to have these nationally known acts appear here at Babson.

Tickets for the event are now on sale, and students are urged to buy early as there are a limited number of seats.

Eliot Richardson to speak in Boston

On Thursday, December 4, 1980, at 2:30 p.m., Elliot L. Richardson, the former Ambassador at Large and Special Representative of the President for the Law of the Sea Conference, will speak at the Boston University Law School Auditorium. The Ambassador’s speech will cover a wide range of United Nations issues with special emphasis on the Law of the Sea Conference. The event is being cosponsored by the United Nations Association of Greater Boston and the Distinguished Lecture Series of Boston University. Admission is free. Information on other international happenings in the Boston area can be obtained from Karen Heller, box 1001.

Traditionally the major film studios release their most touted movies during the Christmas season. This year is no exception. After a year in which the number of flops outnumbered the hits, the studios are hoping these films will put them firmly in the black and maybe garner an academy award nomination too.

Columbia is releasing three pictures: “Stir Crazy,” starring Richard Pryor and Gene Wilder, which smacks of a zany comedy with a lot of potential; “ Seems Like Old Times,” headlining Goldie Hawn, Chevy Chase and Charles Grodin, which is billed as a comedy on a slightly more sophisticated level; and “The Competition,” with Richard Dreyfuss, Amy Irving and Lee Remick, which deals with two piano contestants who fall in love.

Paramount’s sole release is the greatly awaited “Popeye”, marking Robin William’s starring debut. Sheely DuVall plays Olive Oyl in this cartoon-based film.

Two releases from 20th Century Fox are “Change of Seasons”, Bob Derek’s first film since “10”, which also stars Shirley MacLaine and Anthony Hopkins. “Seasons” details the involvement of a professor with one of his students. Also soon to be released is “9 to 5”, starring Jane Fonda, Lily Tomlin and Dolly Parton in a film examining male chauvinism in an office setting.

United Artists is hoping that its two films “Formula” and “Raging Bull” will offset the tremendous loss of the “Heaven’s Gate” catastrophe. ‘The Formula” showcases the prodigious talents of Marlon Brando and George C. Scott vying for ownership of a WWIIformula which details an efficient synthetic fuel, obviously a film with topical overtones. Their second release has Robert DeNiro starring as Jack LaMotta, the ex-middleweight boxing champ. Its New York release prompted

Vincent Canby to refer to DeNiro as giving “...the performance of his career.”

Warner Brothers is banking on Clint Eastwood in “Every Which Way You Can”, his followup to the enormously popular “Every Which Way But Loose”. They are equally hopeful that “First Family”, a spoof of the White House headlining the comic talents of Gilda Radner, Bob Newhart and Madeline Kahn will do well at the box office.

Universal is also counting on the cartoon-based genre with “Flash Gordon”, promoting a newcomer, Sam J. Jones, in the title role.

As one can see, the possibility exists for a superb season. 70-O is always the case, some will succeed and some will fail. Choices as to what we see are purely subjective—so happy film going.

The semester is closing, and this is the last edition of the paper in 1980. I hopefully will continue to write this column next semester, and in order to get an idea of what the campus musical tastes are, I have prepared this questionnaire. It will only take a minute to fill out, and can be dropped off in the mailbox as is. Thank you, and have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

A Community Open House aware of Babson, how big it is, what courses are taught, what facilities are offered, even where it is located?

The ideal solution is to have a giant "Community Open House." The residents and families of Needham and Wellesley would be invited to see what Babson is like. Students could give tours of the campus. BEEP kits could be given out. The Babson softball, soccer, basketball, hockey teams could give miniclinics for the local kids. The slide show "A Day in the Life of..." could be shown. There could be a big reception with punch and hors d'oeuvres, and faculty, staff and students mingling with the residents. Guest lectures on subjects of interest could be offered. Tours of the library, management lab and gym could be given.

What would all this accomplish? The benefits to many different college groups are obvious. Continuing Education could use this as a forum to advertise their services. Facilities would be available for rent to the community, such as the Scandinavian Fair. Part-time employment could get a new pool of prospective employees. Perhaps even a few doctors could be found! Also, a large number of Babson employees reside in Wellesley and Needham and could give Babson a "social face off," where they work to family and friends.

Of course, the chief benefit and objective of a "Community Open House" would be to further good will between Babson and the local residents. It would be a fun time for both and would help foster greater understanding, pride and cooperation between everyone involved. In the quest for recognition and publicity in an ever expanding sphere, let's not ignore the home base. A "Community Open House" is an easy, ideal way to accomplish this.

In order to provide the survey information about tests that is needed the following changes should be made. First, the question about exams as valuable learning experiences should be dropped. Second, in its place the following question: "How many exams were given during the semester (excluding the final)?" How many of these were major objective examinations? Many of these were mostly essay? Were the exams a fair test of your knowledge of the subject matter? Was there a final exam? Was it cumulative? "Third", an area of questions designed to ascertain grading policies should also be included. Questions such as the following should be asked. What percentage of your grade did the following count for: semester exam(s), final exam, paper(s) and class participation? The usefulness of the survey would be enhanced if these changes and similar changes were implemented.

Alum News

To the Editor:
On behalf of Babson College I would like to thank all those students, faculty and administrators who joined alumni volunteers these past few weeks in the successful capital campaign phone drive.
Nearly $100,000 was raised from 1116 contributors in 11 evenings of telephoning Babson alumni and parents. We would especially like to thank the student teams who raised nearly half of the total.
The student team from Canfield won the competition for most pledges in one evening with 43 pledges received.
The student team from Park manor South (B team) won the prize for most dollars raised on November 19.
In addition, we would like to thank specifically the following students who worked several evenings and really make the difference in the successful effort: Charles Gerber, Peter Hilmer, Beth Marconi, Mark Perry and Mike Stearns.

BABSON WINS 3RD NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Babson College, fresh off a four overtime victory last Friday versus Glassboro State in a driving rainstorm, showed the heart and poise of a true champion Saturday as they defeated the University of Scranton 1-0 in one overtime to win the NCAA Division III soccer championship for the second consecutive year.

Babson now becomes the first team to win three championships in Division III. They had previously won in 1975 and in 1979, under Coach Hartwell and Rogers, respectively.

The Beavers entered the tournament ranked fifth in the nation and beat the number one rated team (Glassboro) and the number four rated team (Scranton).

Babson vs. Scranton

The Beavers faced Scranton in the final game on Saturday. Scranton had beaten Washington to advance to Saturday's game.

The playing surface was very paste-like and the concern was that Babson might have been worn down from the previous day's four overtime affair. The Beavers started the game slow and were not helped at all by the sloppy conditions. Scranton carried the play early but had no real scoring opportunities.

Babson's Bob LeBlanc had the best chance for a score when he took a pass from Vone Berg 15 minutes into the first period and faced an open net but shot the ball wide.

Much of the same followed in the second half with each team having its flurries but nothing turning up on the score sheet.

The game now faced a 15 minute overtime period and Babson alertly picked up the pace and started to gain control. The Beavers applied pressure and finally at 13:54, senior John Sisk took a pass from sophomore Jim Fisher 35 yards out on the right side and fired it by goalie Bill McNeil into the left corner of the net. It was Sisk's first career goal and couldn't have come at a better time as it gave Babson the national crown.

Babson vs. Glassboro

In Friday's game, Babson had to play come-from-behind soccer as Glassboro's Pat Lacroix scored on an 18 yard head shot to put the Profs up 1-0 at 8:58. Babson's Gary Newcomb tied it 26 minutes later when he took a pass across the middle from Rudy Vone Berg and found himself face to face with Glassboro goalie Walt Gottrell. Newcomb fired it by Gottrell and the game was tied.

Both teams went through the second half in a downpour and could not score.

The game faced four overtime periods and with the wind, rain, and cold, it was going to be a long afternoon.

After two overtimes in which both teams had their chances at scoring but came up empty, it was ruled by NCAA officials that two five minute overtime periods would be played instead of 15 minutes due to the condition of the athletes.

In the final overtime, Babson came through as Mark Silva scored in front of the Glassboro net in a crowd and Babson had advanced to the finals.

Babson’s Driving Force: Coach Bill Rogers

When it comes to Babson College soccer, he has been through it all. Four years as a player, five years as an assistant coach, and three years as a head coach in which he’s lost only eight games in 57 tries. Around the area they’ve started calling him the Wizard of Wellesley but at Babson they call him Bill Rogers.

For the second straight year he has taken a group of 26 soccer players and steered them to a National Championship. On the whole, Babson has won three national titles, which is more than any other school in Division III.

The success this season was definitely a hard fought success. Following a three game winning streak that included wins over Bentley Bowdoin, and St. Anselm’s, Babson hit a serious dry spell with losses to New Hampshire and Brandeis. It looked like the slide was going to be the beginning of the end, Rogers made some quick adjustments and Babson found itself winning its next six games and another national title.

What next season holds only the wand that is in the hands of the Wizard of Wellesley knows.

John Sisk digging in against Scranton

John Sisk

John Sisk undoubtedly deserves the Comeback of the Year Award. It was speculative whether “Sisko” would be able to play at all this year. Sisk, plagued by a recurring ankle injury, had worked hard to get in shape over the summer. Unfortunately, he reinjured it in the beginning of the season and had to be dropped off the roster. That would have been enough for most players to give up soccer. However, Sisk came back everyday and worked out with the team and trainer Chris Troyanos, even though he couldn’t play. It finally paid off, however, as he was able to see some action late in the season.

Going into the national championship game against Scranton, John was asked to cover Codric DeSilva, Scranton’s leading scorer. Sisk responded superbly, by not only shutting out DeSilva, but by scoring the first goal of his career and the winning goal of the game.

Gary Newcomb "the seeker" the goalie prior to his Glassboro goal.

Gary Newcomb

After three years of injury-plagued play, Newcomb completed his first full season of play. In the beginning of the year “Newk” was starting and playing well. However, when Babson changed its system he wasn’t starting. Coach Rogers commented, “Newk never complained. Instead he came into his own as a leader - being positive and psyched throughout the games and practices.” Newcomb came in against Glassboro to net Babson’s first score.

VICTORY PARTY

Come and honor our National Champions tonight at Knight Auditorium from 9:00 p.m. to midnight. The Babson heroes deserve a warm tribute from the Babson community for their outstanding season. So come to the victory celebration which will feature the musical rock group “GAMES.” Beer and soft drinks will be served. Admission is free to all those with a Babson I.D. Join the party.
John Sexton

"Sexton was in the same kind of situation as Newcomb. When people were moved around he never complained. John has perhaps the best shot on the team and we could depend on him for some shots on goal. Playing in a tough position (midfield), "John really came through for us," said Coach Rogers. Sexton had the game-winner against Westfield State in the New England semi-finals."

Tim Marken

Coach Rogers description: "Tim Marken 'loves' Babson soccer. He worked hard for four years and helped out in many ways not apparent to the common soccer fan. His attitude never changed over the years, whether he was on the bench or on the field. Everyone on the team respects him for that. It was apparent when he scored a few goals this season—everyone was excited for him."

Women's hoop opens with win

by Koren Kolf

The Women's Basketball team started off their season on the first of December with a well-deserved win over Brandeis University. Monday night the girls displayed good spirit when they found the success of undercoaching at the start. The score after the first half was 34-24 with twelve fast breaks resulting in eight baskets. Shooting overall was not too successful but strong passing and the well-executed and frequent fast break kept them ahead of the tiring opponent. In the second half, Babson remained strong, a result of the efficient conditioning efforts, but Brandeis struck back making sure the gap in the score did not widen. The game ended with a final score of 56-46.

Coach Dizio feels the team were very well matched making a game winnable challenge. Through her aggressive coaching she has motivated the girls to a higher degree than in past years. In future practices, improvements in defense will be the focus of attention. Dizio reasons that with a bit more defense the opponent will not have much of a chance to score and this will be reflected in Babson's present level of shooting. If the performance of M. Dorsch, who lacks any indication of the trend for Babson Women's Basketball, their future should be bright. Fans are welcome to share in the sunshine at the team's next home game on December 6 against Amherst College at 7:30.

Successful season for women's soccer team

by Richard Vandervoo

The 1980-81 Babson College varsity soccer team dropped their season opener to a tough Harvard squad with a 2-0 record. Although not an impressive record by Babson soccer standards, the girls were determined to win a game and were heard from in local soccer circles.

The team was composed of twenty (20) girls including 5 freshmen, 3 sophomores, 8 juniors, and 4 seniors. Coach by junior Mike Belanger and senior Dave Ryan, the girls generated enough enthusiasm to complete the season in full stride including big victories over Leslie College and a new found rival in Brandeis University.

In the season opener against Bridgewater State College, it quickly became evident to the two coaches that not only were the girls serious indeed about having a good season, but they were quite intent on victory. In a memorable 1-0 loss in their own backyard, this fact became apparent after witnessing a total bombardment on the opponent's goal only to be denied by the clock. It was in the first game that the zone was set for the season.

The offensive surge continued in the second game against Leslie College. Four different girls scored goals in a 4-0 whitewashing. Junior Lori Sullivan and senior Maureen McQuillan not only controlled the tempo of the game, but were setting a standard for the younger girls to look up to in which they responded to.

The third game featured an overtime game ending in a 1-1 tie with Framingham State College. A superb defensive performance by seniors Valerie Lau and classmate Andrew Kowalski. Attendance was high as the surge launched upon the opponent's goal was ended abruptly when a shot by Maureen McQuillan bounced off of the crossbar and safely into the hands of the Framingham goalkeeper.

The fourth game was one in which the girls worked hard and for. Branceis soccer as established by their men's team is not unheard of in the field of sports. If this element did not present enough of a challenge, the Brandeis women continued to push on the varsity level. Neverthe- less, the Babson women responded to the season's greatest challenge with a smashing 3-0 victory. Celeste Kneeland and senior Steve Hines, highlighted the game by scoring the proverbial hat-trick. Defensively junior Dee Marsh and sophomore Sigrid Woek shut down a more polished Brandeis unit.

The season finale took the Babson team to Bryant College in Rhode Island where a pouring rain dampened the playing field and dampened our spirits. For a change, the girls put on a good showing in the short end of a 5-0 score.

Soccer Intramurals be completed in spring

by Steve Connelly

The Intramural Program was slowed by the recent snow and cold weather which pushed schedules back. Soccer will be continued in the spring where the four remaining teams will complete for the championship. Maple Manor is still undefeated in the tournament, while Forest, Coleman and the ALA have one loss in the race.

The football championship will be played Thursday afternoon between Maple Manor and Forest. Forest edged North Tuesday for the right to advance to the finals.

The basketball tournament is under way this week and the championship will be played Sunday night. That will wrap up the Intramural Program for the Top of the Basket goes to the soccer team for winning their game against M.S. Staff and to Mike Mastro, Allen Wells and Bob Elliott of B&B for getting the field in shape to allow us home fans to watch their games.

Flash to Jack the Ripper and his Maple Manor Mistress: If you’re going to watch General Hospital, do the same in a different room. A Friendly Fire.

Flash to my roommate: Have a great time in "snow country"! I’ll never forget our three years at Babo, the committed crimes were great. Love, your ever waiting.

Flash to Barry M-O: Sure, we all like you, but then again, we all like caffeine.

Flash to whoever stole my windshield wipers: I know who you are. Revenge is sweet! Signed, P.O.O. Please return them or you won’t have a windshield to wipe.

Happy Holidays to all Enjoy your vacation! From your friendly Free Press staff!

Flash to all Bruce-goers: Get ready for the best 4 hours of your life! Only 12 days till his Boss-tan day! Your music editor.

Flash to red-head in Central: Do you know we are waiting on it.

Flash to Carl N.: The Bocarobas are in town! Bawwaw.

Flash to the lucky 10... 12 days and counting!

Flash to those who keep tearing up Central on the weekends: I wouldn’t want to be in your shoes.

Flash to Michelle and Gail: Thanks for the publicity, I may never "type" again. Really, it was especially fun and exhibits C.B.

Flash to Santa Claus: Once again thanks so much. We all loved you! The sisters and pledges cambio adios.

AMF: Get psyched!

The feeling is mutual. - thanks Hal.

Flash to JCB: Thanks for everything last year.

Flash to Campus: 1980 National Championship Mud: $300.00

Flash to the Soccer Team: Thanks for the beautiful ROSES, GUYS! You all really know how to win a game. Thanks to Susie and Karen Flash to the Athletic Department: No wonder why the NCAA picked Babson!! Another tournament well done!!

Flash: Ride needed to Virginia for the X-MAS Holidays. Will share expenses. Contact Box 1665 or call 255-2415.

Flash: Furniture for sale. Moving to Virginia 10 days from now. $250. Contact Box 1665 or call 326-6564 for details.

Flash to another: "I used to have a great job, but don’t you think whistles at 6:30 a.m. is overdoing it a bit?" How about 7:00 A.M.?

Flash to Dashar: She’ll never know, but we do and love it.

SENIORS: All senior pictures scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 11. All senior pictures scheduled for Wednesday should drop in anytime before then.

Flash to Keith: Nice meeting you, hope you’re around next semester.

Flash to Robbie: It’s only superficial. He wants the tickets. When the Boss goes, he’s gone! The Skin and Olive.

Flash to Lg Coffee: You have got to lose some weight, it’s just unhealthy. Curious behind the counter. With love, the man of your dreams.

Flash to Janice: Shall we make a toast to devousness? H.D.Y.S.B.?

Flash to Winnifred: Do chickens have lips? Rachel

Tickets are now available for all General Cinema Theater (Chestnut Hill Mall, Shopper’s World and Boston) for any and all movies - $5. Why pay $5 when you can buy them at the Student Activities Office now and all second semester?

Flash to D.K.: Wanna invite those "celestial bodies" over ?? J.D.

Flash: See the boss, two seats, Dec. 15, Sec. 57 row L. Best offer, box 327.

Flash to Weegy: L. Yes you wobble, but you don’t fall down (much!).

Flash to Jim and Archie: Quarter’s over.

Flash to Mark: Confusius say squirreling toes in between your toes can be hazardous to one’s health.

B-4 the Hyatt!!!

Flash to President Glen Friedman: What’s this about being a "person of influence" from Needham? Signed, the N.A.A.P.

Contrasts to the president of SK, and all the other new officers. Good luck next year.

What do you mean a GUY could get an inferiority complex??

Flash to Suite 31: When’s dinner? Love Sweet Suite 32

E-Z-C. The only business people look up to is for sale. I need to be at Stone’s, I’ll drop by Dec. 15. Contact John Wadman, box 2025, for more information.

Flash to Cathy: "Bubbles" Lankering: Happy day before your birthday! Love, N.D.K.J. & L.

Congratulations to the Babson Community for being chosen as one of the top ten prep-sports schools in the country!!! Keep up the good work and remember to keep flashing those alligators. P.S. - Congratulations to the student body.

Flash to Babo 50: Please do something about cars speeding up Map Hill Dr. It’s really out of hand.

Flash to Prof. Galper: In all the courses I’ve taken at Babo, I’ve never received more than a simple participation grade. Thanks for the critique, it was really helpful.

Flash to LBob R: You will surely be missed, thanks for everything! Forest Hall boys.

Flash to Wimpette: I do not write funny words.

Flash to Janeola: Congratulations, I’ll miss you for sure. Love, kisses and M&M’s.

What is it that seems none of the members of the Finance Dept. can add?

The Free Press needs a circulation manager for next semester. Duties include weekly distribution to students and mail subscriptions.

Interested? Reply to box 162.

Flash to my drinking buddies: Don’t drink too many beers without me next semester. Thanks for everything. See you in Sept.

Flash to a tall Smithe Sister: Like I always say if you can’t be good be consistent. Consistency will never be in your vocabulary.

Flash to Brillo Pad at Green Gables: With hair like that you shouldn’t waste time fretting about cookies. Think of the day you would be in the junior league.

Flash to the Brillo pad at Green Gables: Where did you buy your bush? At CVST.

Flash to the Deadly Duo: When we say we are going to something we sure do it. But next time we should try to be sober enough to remember, those unknown bruises are really strange. Signed: Visitor to the 4th Dimension (especially on Fridays).

Flash to the guys at Forest: Have a good weekend!!!

Flash to Forest Annex: Thanks for adding Christmas lights to our campus. Makes the trees look good.

Flash to Sister Vanessa Virginia and her Three Vamps: Thanks for the cookies. Think you should go on a U.S.O. roadshow with your act. Thanks, the two informed C.G.’s.

Flash to Garofano: I confess - I did it; Had you fooled?? KKK

Flash to S.B. Playboy: this is the last flash - I will definitely miss you buddy- Thanks for making this semester special. Love S.B. Playboy Bottom of the Basket goes to any professor who schedules an exam during the last week of class. No one ever wins professor of the year that way.
