Babson wrote this book to discuss his experiences with money. Separated into two parts, the book begins by discussing the uses and abuses of wealth, and stock and bond investments are analyzed according to their endurance. In the second part, investments of life, such as health and happiness, are considered.

Babson College Archives copy: Purchased by the Babson College Library 5 x 7 ½”, brown cloth cover, 190 pp.

Archives
HB
257
B3
C.3