POWERS RESIGNS
ACCEPTS POSITION AT TUFTS

Mr. Gerald Powers has resigned his position as director of publicity at Babson. On January 55, Mr. Powers will assume the assistant director of public relations at the Tufts-New England Medical Center. His new position will be concerned with medical public relations at the Clinic-medical complex which is comprised of five components: the clinic, teaching, research, and is also allied with the Pratt Diagnostic Clinic. This new position will be concerned with a broad perspective of the field of public relations and media work in television, film strips, slides, and publications, for all clients, Mr. Powers prime responsibility will be to implement and develop a program in both the Clinic, as currently opposed to the scientific publications, as well as in the area in he field. Mr. Powers said he will be bringing his knowledge "learning while doing."

REVAMPS PUBLICITY POLICY

Coming to Babson in September of 1969, Mr. Powers has increased the scope and responsibilities of director of publicity. The renewal and expansion of the series was under his director. Mr. Powers, who has been associated with the Babson campus since his graduation in 1966, has been particularly responsible for the development of the 1966-67 school catalog and a number of other publications for the Babson graduate, undergraduate, and evening schools. He has also been the associate director of the Career Development Department.

BARSON AT CROSSROADS

Mr. Powers said, "The school stands at a crossroads and many changes are coming here." He continued that Babson has a good reputation in the field of business administration, and it provides a solid foundation for the business world. However, he said, "I would like to see the college move ahead more dynamically and vigorously.

PROVINCETOWN

As a word of advice, Mr. Powers said, "I would like to see the

THE PUJAMA GAME IS PROTEST

Due to the unfortunate circumstances inherent in scholastic standards, "Pajama Game" which was to be produced on February 22, had to be postponed. The Theatre Guild, in consultation with the administration, is now rescheduling the production for the middle of May, subject to Student Governing Board approval on Tuesday, January 14. This information was not available on the date of publication.

The Theatre Guild would like very much to keep the original cast. Speaking for the Guild, New Roosevelt, said, "I hope that by the spring term the Babson members of the cast can be given the opportunity to have a chance on the stage."

Besides making records, the Highwaysmen appeared on the UK Sullivan Show, and Tonight Show on television. They appeared in such major night clubs as the Blue Angel in New York, the Colony Club in Washington, the Hangar in San Francisco and the Living Room in Chicago. The Highwaysmen also made personal appearances at leading universities and colleges throughout the country, and sang at sororities and colleges in the East.

The Highwaysmen are part of this year's Winter Weekend entertainment. Friday night there will be a dance at the Continental Hotel and Saturday night will be the formal at the Thornton Hall in Boston.

CHARM NEW PRESIDENT

On January 16, there will be an election to fill the vacant position of Vice-President of Student Government. Commenting on this upcoming election, Les Charny, new President of Student Government, said, "I think that this is an important election for the Vice-President of Student Government. It is a position that many people have held and which also holds a significant position with the administration. The election will take place next Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Union.

IMPRESS UNDERSTANDING

Les would like to "Thank" Barry Melegoni, outgoing President of Student Government for doing "such a wonderful job" that he has done, "I hope to carry on in the same manner." Among the things that he has to say about the position of President is that he is interested in "Keeping up the morale of the students." In addition, he would like to work on "Getting more students involved in the administration." He also made a point of saying that he hopes to work on "Getting more students involved in the administration."

UPDATING COUNTRY

Another area of consideration is the constitutional committee, which is revising and bringing up to date the constitution. Les commented that "This committee has been working along the lines of the President's office and the President's new position will be effective at some point in the future." He also said that he is interested in "Getting more students involved in the administration."

RASETZKI TO JOIN FACULTY

President Kriebel has announced that the Board of Trustees has chosen Mr. Frank Winch to replace Mr. Nicholas Rasetzkii, who has resigned his position as Director of Admissions to accept a position on the Babson faculty.

NEED FOR STUDENTS IN 1968

On FACULTY IN 1968

Mr. Rasetzkii joined the Babson faculty in 1968 and taught composition, literature, and speech until becoming Assistant Director of Admissions in 1965. Mr. Rasetzkii will replace Mr. Fischer's position as Director of Admissions.

Rasetzkii to Join Faculty

Well Groomed

Mr. Rasetzkii and he was "happy that Mr. Winch was chosen by the Board of Trustees for the position."

New IDEA AND METHODS

Mr. Winch, director of admissions, has been with the Babson faculty since 1965. He has been working with Mr. Rasetzkii and vice-president Everett Stearns in re-vamping and updating the admissions policy. The Admissions Department has been working on three phases, obtaining more and better applicants, establishing a way of keeping applications based on the year and the quality of the application, and the selection of the most qualified of the applicants.

THE OTHER PARTY

As we enter the age of suffrage we must begin to contemplate a party affiliation. When the young American considers the Democratic Party he associates it immediately with the policies and applications relating to "heavy foreign aid, cautious firmness in dealings with the Communist adversaries, the moderated application of welfare programs, a substantial but restricted reliance on governmental intervention in social and economic problems of the people." And the present, at least, the Democratic party is held to fit such a description.

But what about the Republican Party? What does it stand for? The "Politically Maturity" young American can have only an obscure, ambiguous, and general idea of it. Perhaps, he is not even aware of the party of statesmen and Big Government; a bit more one of free, competitive enterprise, even with illusions. Republican voices on both sides of even such generalities as these, the true meaning of Republicanism does not exist!

With a party of strong affirmativeness now available, who can preserve a party with little or no distinctiveness? Who? Those of us who cannot digest the radicalism of the third party.

In view of the repucaus plan of the Conservative voice assures the voter a "choice of attitude." It would have the elephent trot to the happy hunting grounds for the sake of "being all things to all Americans." Unless the Republican can find a candidate with personality plus, he can't have a chance against the Conservative attitude.

We young Americans are wise enough to realize that the opposition is not wholly at fault—the fault lies within the system. Any minority suffers the same plight.

What must be done then is to establish a practical platform. Some feel it impossible in light of the present Presidential possibilities, Roosevelt and Goldwater.

Impossible? without a firm program, it would be impossible for the party for party lose its identity. If these leaders will realize this, the future will be a bit brighter.

Aren't we as young voters owed this much?

TO THE EDITOR: I feel I am speaking for the entire student body in writing this letter of protest. I will show to you and anyone else who reads this letter that the inconsistencies and incoherencies that have occurred in the mathematical formulation of our mathematics courses has had detrimental effects on the quality of our education. It has been brought to my attention that the advanced freshman mathematics class is using only four textbooks. In other words, if you get a "C+" in one of these textbooks, you will receive a "C+" in the total quiz grade. The minimum was any two of the five possible points added to the total quizzes. The maximum was any two of the five possible points added to the total quizzes and the same number which quizzes were dropped. In the selection of the lowest quiz grade we find the fact that the lowest quiz grade was not deducted and the lowest grade was dropped. For example Quiz 1 was 4 correct out of 10, Quiz 2 was 4 correct out of 10, Quiz 3 was 3 correct out of 10 and Quiz 4 was 8 correct out of 10. A student who received a "C+" on one of his quizzes will receive a C+ or lower on his final average and that will make him pay the ultimate. In addition to this inconsistencies the amount of points required remained the same. So we do not get 10 out of 10 on a quiz and receive the same grade as the other quizzes. The quizzes is 100% of our grade.

The high score record for the lowest grade was 76 which was an "A". At first glance it seems as though a student curve but when the two lowest quizzes are dropped the total of all quizzes is 76. This was the lowest total score which was possible. The resulting score was dropped. In addition to this inconsistencies the amount of points required remained the same.

Yes, truly,

TO THE EDITOR:

It is well known that the campus police have been working quite a bit to tag a car for the most minor parking violation. As a students group we are very interested in any information of how the student police have been using the funds, how much they have been paid, what kind of jobs they have. I know that the student police do a great job and I am especially referring to the strip between the 50th and 51st street until the 5th Avenue, where a lot of college students travel to and from school. We have not seen a lot of car accidents due to the efforts of the student police. In your opinion, I feel that the police have done a great job.

L. Thomas Morse

TO THE EDITOR:

I thoroughly digested and disappointed, is there anyone in your staff who can answer the question for me and many others: Are the learned professors on the Parmenon Institute faculty getting paid off by the Vihamck Bookstore? I heard from the Fall Term and started trading books with my classmates. At the end of our trading all I needed was the math book. I returned the book for the Winter Term arm, as usual, with a rather weak check and received book I had nothing to worry about...I would only have to spend eight dollars for the book. It must be an old story though, The history course was worth about six dollars. The economic history course had another one about six dollars; less than one hundred dollars; The English text changed, for the 5th edition. Our favorite reprints, the Bahamn Bookstore now has competing prices. Other courses changed, too. Percent and similar titles were 549 dollars. The text book became obsolete due to the 5th edition. I just distilled the text book.

CONFIDENTIAL COLUMN

The following is, in essence, a letter that was mailed in all fall term bookstores to all students by the dean of students. Paul C. Stadler

TO STUDENTS IN PROBATIONARY STATUS FROM DEAN OF STUDENTS SUBJECT: AVAILABILITY OF SPECIAL PROGRAM TO DEVELOP READING COMPREHENSION ABILITY

Regardless of your own beliefs about why you are on academic probation, you can benefit by improving your abilities to read and comprehend the work assigned you at Bahamn. Budgeting one's time, being able to focus on the main ideas of a document, is beneficial to all students, regardless of academic status. To make this possible, the Academic Counselling Office and the Library has arranged for a reading comprehension program which you are invited to join in your own time.

You have been assigned a reading comprehension task. This assignment is due on the 25th of this month, with the due date extended until the 30th. The assignment will be graded and returned to you.

The program will commence on the 22nd and 27th of this month, and will provide a review of the students' abilities and progress. There will be additional meetings to discuss the students' progress and to encourage them to continue.

The cost of the program will vary from $50 to $100, depending on the availability of reading materials. Costs will be discussed in detail at the initial meeting.

I hope that many of you will take advantage of this opportunity.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MUSIC
On the Street

For the past months investors have been watching the odd-lot figures very closely and have been selling very significantly in the past. Since August of 1962 the odd-lot figures have been declining below what they have been buying. However, this doesn’t mean the trend is over. With the reverse of this situation has taken place the public has been purchasing in excess of what they have been selling. This change gives rise to the idea that the current community may be signaling a market top and eventually decline. The situation is not that clear. However, if purchases continue to take over the market, it will be because of the reasons that the market very often tops out at the very top and is strongly supported by a very large number of individuals.

Odd-lot buyers do not have sufficient capital to maintain a high market and look to their interest begins to diminish. The investor who purchases a number of small lots finds that the stock which has been rising for $6 months now has no buyers, so what must he sell? Sell at a loss if he needs the cash, and chances are he does. When "prices push" in a stock, it is often found that it has become too long to live and that there are no more buyers. If a stock declines in price, it takes place the general level of buying and selling. At the same time stocks may once again become attractive to investors.

Those readers who follow the New York Times daily will undoubtedly have noticed a series of advertisements that have been appearing in a few days. The stocks of the New York American, the New York American, and the Over The Counter Gainers. The deadline for the ads has been for the past month. However, the ads are not frequent (not monthly), unaware investors in these stocks may make big investors who have had a gain in their stocks feel good about their investments.

The following are some of the stocks that I have included in the following list:

- SPLENDOR A (MISSED) by Larry forman
  - I have walked with kings, so your stock is going to be dull.
  - I have dined with Pharaohs.
  - I have seen this world wide, six times over.
  - And finding an evening home is not my purpose.
  - I have traveled in palaces of splendor.
  - So your little park must be it.
  - I have prayed in Cathedrals of all the world.
  - And the Church of Our Lord.

- very well, and has done a great deal of good work. It is hoped that the work will be finished this semester so as to have the new constitution ready to present to the student body at registration time of spring semester.

GOURMET FOR STUDENTS

- Les would like to remind the students that Student Government is for their benefit and that they have suggestions for Student Government. It is hoped that the students will be able to benefit from the suggestions and see how pleased the student government will be.

CANDIDATES

- V.P. candidates

As students at Babson we are faced with many responsibilities. One of these is the selection of a Vice-President to work with the President. A V.P. that will serve us responsibly, capably, and effectively.

The first step in deciding on a candidate is to know something about him, whether through personal contact, or simply what we have heard or read about him. This character, abilities, and interest in the student is, I feel, important things to consider in the student officer of the student. I feel that our leadership attributes that qualify him for this position. I am Treasurer of Babson’s Campaign for Better Student Government.

Parris declared it, to the weird look on his face. Among other things, she had it a sweet spot, then called it the final count and for the employment of a single person who, in 1980 and 1981, was in school.
A: We had the same situation in one of the patients. We looked at the way he OCCUPIED the language, to see if the books weren't even engaged. The final grades showed no relation-sip between the results a student's work into the course of study.
People, therefore, are those involved in this Society.
B: Not interested in those with the same.
A: I'm not mentioning names, but if you did, you couldn't print them.
A: I'll tell you what you mean. Some of the students followed the course, just as in the previous year, but because of the low average high, this term, not so many people decided to do a little graduation. As a result, there was a certain feeling among the students to do something about it. The students agreed to create a small group that would meet after school hours to organize a campaign. One of the tasks was to get the teachers involved as well.
A: As the only thing I can suggest is that you teach the kids, for example, the students would learn the history of their country. This would help them to understand the situation. Perhaps some person could do something about it.
A: What occupation would you study for if you were able to become a professional person, on the basis of facts rather than theories, see the Dean of Faculty or Dean of Students.

B.S.O. Gift Aids Spirit

Babson received a cash gift of $1,500 from the Business

president, Dr. Peter Kriebel. Mr. Babson is a former treasurer of Business Students Corporation and has

Babson community, take advantage of the cultural environ-

He feels that not to take a more active role in the cultural aspects of Boston will lead to provincialism and insularity.

Graduating from Harvard with an M.A. in 1964, and earning an M.A. from the American Council on Education in 1966, Mr. Powers taught history at Bowdoin College for a year. She was in the Army for two years during which she was in public information and was news editor of an eight-page weekly newspaper with a circulation of 3000. He worked as a staff liaison with the American and German Press.

Mr. Babson, who began his career in 1939, travels through Europe for six

For a period of over five years, the researchers found that the students at Babson had increased in size. A study done last summer at the request of the A.S.U.
(Babson Student Government), is available in the library for the study.

In the study, the health of the students was exami-nated through physical examinations, blood tests, and interviews. The study was conducted to check the health of the students and the abuse of tobacco.

The study showed that the students used tobacco at a rate of 25%. This rate is higher than that found in the general population.

There were no significant differences in the health status of the students who used tobacco and those who did not. However, the students who used tobacco reported more symptoms of respiratory ailments.

VIVA LA DIFFERENCE

The differences between men and women is even greater than you may think.
By examining any one of the body's approximately 30 trillion cells, a scientist can tell if it belongs to a man or a woman. A man's brain is slightly heavier than a woman's, and the average red-blooded American male has 39% more red blood cells than his feminine counterpart. A woman's heart beats eight to ten times more per minute than that of her current heart-beat. If both live average life spans, she'll live off some 200,000,000 more heartbeats than he will.

"Straight from the shoulder" is a male attitude. A man's arm does thing that way; in women, there's a definite bend at the elbow so that the lower arm extends outward at an angle. A man's thighs and legs are in a straight line while a woman, by comparison, seems knock-kneed; her legs bend inward at the knee.

Consequently, his financial planning includes a sound foundation of life insurance. The wise man knows, too, the benefits of starting a life insurance program early. For instance, there's our Guaranteed Pensation Option, added to our policy bought now, which guarantees the right to buy any life insurance at future specified dates — without further evidence of insurability! It could be advantageous to find out more about some of the newest features and policies designed with you in mind. Stop by our campus office or telephone.

ONLY FORD-BUILT CARS MEET THE CHALLENGE WITH TOTAL PERFORMANCE!

Something wonderful's happened to Ford Motor Company cars! Under the freshest styling seen in years, there's a new kind of durability and vigor that more than meets the demands of today's tougher tomorrow's high-speed turnpike driving conditions.

What's the secret? Quality engineering for total performance. Quality engineering so outstanding that Ford Motor Company received the N.A.C.A. Achievement Award for engineering excellence which "superbly combines the prime essentials of great automobiles - performance, reliability, durability, comfort and safety."

"Total performance" makes a world of difference. Bodies and frames are solid and strong. Gotta be a rough-rider these days. The ride's so smooth, so even-keeled, it seems to straighten the curves and shorten the miles. And nothing matches the flexibility and stamina of advanced Ford-built V-8's and thrifty Sivs. Total performance is yours to enjoy in all our 1964 cars - from the frisky Falcon to the matchless Lincoln Continental.

BASKETBALL

By Vernor Methode

The Blue Line will be a totally new column about the great sport of hockey. It will appear weekly and will be written without prejudice, and will cover the highlights of games, teams, and players.

This week I feel that it would be a wise move to look at the sagging Boston BRUINS.

Due to the circumstances of the game against Toronto on December 19, 1965, Ed Johnston replaced the injured Peter Millon in the Boston net, and has been a regular ever since. Montreal's torly, and he became the property of the Bruins when he was drafted in 1965.

McCoRD'S DEFENSE

On defense, defensemen rely upon the services of Bob McCord and Ted Green, both are big men and noted for their rock-em, sock-em play. An interesting sideline is that Bob McCord was obtained from Springfield in the American Hockey League last season. There he was first-string defense for the Springfield Indians, and than purchased by the Boston Bruins.

Even with his small squad of five men, Coach Bill Day is very optimistic over the capabilities of his men. Although the student body as a whole has shown a lack of interest in swimming, these five men have shown tremendous desire to win for themselves and for the Boston Community.

COACH SMITH RECOGNIZED

Coach Smith recently returned from New York where he attended the annual meeting of the NCAA Rules Committee. Mr. Smith has been crusading for a new rule which would allow college basketball players to participate in summer basketball leagues. Under present NCAA rules, any player who participates in these summer activities loses his right to play in college athletics. Unfortunately, the rules committee did not see eye to eye with Mr. Smith, however its appeal has forced them to give the issue a second look.

APPROACHES NCAA RULES COMMITTEE

In the absence of athletic director Tom Smith, Jeff Green has disks and clean press practice. Our reporter asked Mr. Green about the role of the team, Mr. Green answered that this year's team was both greater in size and depth than any he has been on the Boston scene. In fact, Mr. Green found that this year's varsity will be a very strong team, and that in the past, the team has adequate. What a team forward and guard, The spirit of the team is high, and, with a little luck in the opening games, Boston could feel the BC way again. One thing looking in the way is the strength of the guard.

BASKETBALL - As the return of co-captain Goodin, and Dick Joseph produces speed and experience in the backcourt, The addition of Jeff Graham and Steve Zaitlyn will provide badly needed bench strength.

A NEW YEAR - MAYBE A BETTER ONE? JON WHEELER

A new year, and a good change. The football team held up a game by sitting on the Boys' basketball court. The team had a 1-1 record, but lost some close games. Our baseball team has improved with its good moments, such as the upset of the强大的Yale team. In the basketball games, the team has played well, and the colorful player Bryant worked with the team. When the Boston Celtics visit the Dome on December 8, they have doubtfully the first time a visiting
