Dedication

This year, the Babson Players would like to dedicate their spring production of Godspell to a man that has supported the organization through thick and thin, year in and year out. He is not an actor. He doesn't work the spotlights, or the sound board. He is not a director, stage manager, or producer. Robert Curatola is the creative genius behind the Babson Players sets for the past three years. Throughout his incredibly busy schedule, with each new semester, he donates his valuable time, ready, willing and able to work with countless directing styles and as a result, we have had some of the most amazing settings for our performances.

Thinking back to the house he designed in Rumors, the farm houses and countrystyle life in Oklahoma!, the town of Kulyenchikov in Fools, a cruise ship in Anything Goes, an eight door home in Noises Off, and now, the set you see before you for our current production of Godspell, Robert has been a part of the Babson Players for as long as some of us can remember. He has a warm, heartfelt attitude towards the Players which has helped to foster true friendships over the years. He has incredible talent and we feel honored to be able to finally recognize him here.

Thank you with sincere gratitude from all those who have had the pleasure of being a Babson Player.

Our Message

No curtain. A small budget. A great lecture hall but not a great theatrical stage. No wings for prop storage. The list goes on... These are but a few of the obstacles that the Babson Players face performance after performance, semester after semester, year after year. Why, you then ask, should we bother with the hours of rehearsal, the bruises from missing the nail and hitting the thumb while constructing the sets, the unrecognized work that goes on behind the scenes?

Each member of the cast and crew has their own reason; a laugh from the crowd, applause, seeing their name in the program; and yes, the cast party. However, interwoven in all these reasons is one common bond - belonging to a hard-working, extremely dedicated group that strives to achieve a single purpose. A sense of unity is created, and from this unity excellence is bred.

Quotes

Tanya: "Long Live God" "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord" "Marcia...Marcia...Marcia!"

Henry: "Jeff, now I'm down to three lines" "Where's Fred?" "Buh-Bye"

Christi: "Altos, move away from Katie." "Tracy, do you have something to show Jesus?" "Paul, I want your boobies." "Tracy, where are you going, where are you going." "Brad, I need help with the stairs." "To the cast and crew of Godspell, you are all the best."

Kelly: "Paul, quit grabbing Christi's, um, hands!"
"I can see a swath of sinners settin' yonder, and they look like they're having a lot more fun than me."
"What the hell is a chasm?"

Tracy: "Herb, get over here and let me suck on your ear!"
"Christi, where are you going..." "Katie, is Jeff old or constipated?" "Altos - over here, away from those sopranos!"

Katie: "Jeff, you're supposed to be an old man, not constipated."
"Is it 'they go about wearing broad phylactenes...?' I thought it was 'bras and prophelactics.'" "See ya...I'm outta here...!"

The Carman Family

To Katie:
A fantastic sister and daughter who can accomplish whatever her heart desires. We are so proud of you and love you so very much. Look to the stars always...and you shall never be alone...ever!

Love,
Debbie, Becky, and
Who's Who in the Cast?

Bradford Carman — Brad is a freshman from Belmont, MA. He played for the men's soccer team in the fall and has an intended major in accounting. In high school he was active in drama and sports. He has performed in "Bye Bye Birdie", "Pirates of Penzance", "As You Like It", "Guys & Dolls" and a variety of musicals and straight plays for his high school and community theater group. Brad decided to attend Babson after turning down a number of basketball scholarships to Duke, Indiana, Boston College, & Michigan. When asked why he chose Babson, he said he had done all he wanted to in basketball and would try to play baseball for the Chicago White Sox after he got out of college.

Katie Dunklee — Katie is currently finishing her last term here at Babson. This will be her fourth and final show, along with Henry, at this school. Katie would like to thank the Plovers for the opportunity to let her enjoy her few moments in the spotlight. They have been a constant source of friendship, enjoyment, adventure, and support for three years. After graduation, Katie will continue to work somewhere in Boston, and hopefully she will one day be a teacher. As always, she gives her love and thanks to Mom, Deb, Becky, Gram, and Ed.

Tracy Favreau — Tracy is a 24 year old bungee jumper from Nassau. This is her first production here at Babson College. She has previously performed with singing partners Kristen Grady, and Jordana Schneiderman (Suite O'Babes Club—Senior Week '94). When asked about how she felt about her role in "Godspell" she replied: "It's really a stretch for me...I only hope I can be convincing enough." To all that helped to support her during the rough times, a big thanx and one bit of advice -- "Hakuna Matata!"

Jeff Fettes — Jeff is a 22 year old junior at Babson with a major in Marketing. This is his second production with the Babson Players, his first being last year's "Anything Goes". He enjoys drawing and painting (see cover), but music is his first love. He is just learning to sing and is not jealous that Tracy has a vibrato and he doesn't. Really -- he's not. Sue's advice to Jeff when asked what to do when you find you have to go to that bathroom right as the curtain is opening: "Pee-eeeee' pare ye! The way of the lord!"

Riley Garrigan — Riley, originally from Nebraska is thrilled to be returning to the Players after playing Tim in last term's play "Noises Off". He has been involved in theater for as long as he can remember. Having attended Occidental College in Los Angeles, Riley was fortunate enough to be able to work in both film and television. After graduation, Riley plans on pursuing a career in entertainment management.

Christi Okun — Christi has been an active member of the Babson Players for two years. However, "Godspell" is her first Babson stage debut. Christi stage managed "Anything Goes" and "Noises Off". She would like to especially thank Emma Yates for all her hard work. Without her efforts, the Babson Players would not be where they are today.
Kelly A. Gryncel — This is Kelly's third show with the Babson Players and so far she's having a blast. She was previously seen as Chastity in "Anything Goes" and Poppy in "Noises Off". Kelly would like to thank the cast for being so wonderful to work with. She would like to thank Jeff for his help with publicity and Tracy for helping with the program, and especially Christi for bearing with me in our duet. Thanks to Sue, Elaina, and Erin for being so patient. To Mom, Lisa, and the munchkin, "I love you all." To Scott, thanks for putting up with me and helping me to keep everything under control, "I love you too."

Paul Guarino — Paul is a Finance/Investments major who has been in a few plays in his time. He has done such plays as "Brigadoon", "Wizard of Oz", and his personal favorite, "Noises Off". He would like to leave you with this quote of wisdom: "We are Borg. Resistance is futile. Prepare to...OH! Donuts!"

Tanya J. Hagopian — Tanya is a sophomore here at Babson and "Godspell" is her first production with the Babson Players. In high school, she performed in "The Cherry Orchard" by Chekhov and sang in the Chorale. Tanya is from nearby Waltham, MA and is very excited about his musical. She hopes that everyone will enjoy the show as much as she enjoyed being in it. It has been a very meaningful production for her.

Henry Huang — Along with Katie, this is his fourth and final role in a Babson Player production. He hopes to challenge is amateur acting limits in this year's play. Again, he thanks his parents, friends, and the Babson Community for their unconditional support. He will be remaining in the Boston area working as a staff accountant at Price Waterhouse. Some of his fondest memories will remain here in Knight Auditorium and he gives fond wishes to the past, present, and future Players.

Erin O'Halloran (Stage Manager) — Erin is a freshman from St. Louis, MO and has been involved in theater for the past 13 years. Among her most recent shows, she has performed in "Carnival", "Joseph and the Amazing Dreamcoat", "A View from the Bridge", "Brigadoon", and "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum". This is Erin's first show with the Babson Players and she is glad to be a part of the Players.

Sue Susi (Musical Director) — Sue is happy to return to Babson for a second year after musical directing their production of "Anything Goes" last spring. Sue is currently musical directing "Tuck Everlasting" which will appear at Emerson Umbrella in Concord in June as well as directing two other childrens theater projects in Acton which also open in June. In all her spare time, Sue also performs locally with the Quarterdeck Singers and with the Mystery Cafe. Some of her other credits include: Cinderella in "Into the Woods", Eliza Dolittle in "My Fair Lady", and Rosa Budd in "The Mystery of Edwin Drood". Sue would like to congratulate the cast for a job well done!

Elaina Vratkos (Director) — This critically acclaimed actress/singer/director is fast becoming a familiar face in New England Theatre. Among her recent credits, she was Jack's Mother in "Into the Woods", Truvy in "Steel Magnolias", and Vera in "The Incident at San Bajo" which won her the Best Supporting Actress Award from the New England Theatre Conference. Among Elain's directing credits, which have also been honored with several awards, are: "A Chorus Line", "H.M.S. Pinafore", "Anything Goes", "Godspell", "Working", & "Bye Bye, Birdie". Elaina can now be seen around Boston weekly in "The Wake of Matty O'Mally" with Darlene Franklin Prod.
