To The Babson Community:

This year's theme reflects a snapshot of all of the events that occurred in the past year. The staff wanted to find a way to go beyond all of the tragic events and find a way to show how important it is to “leave your mark” on the world.

It started, as footprints in the sand, and in thinking about the different ways in which as members of the Babson Community it slowly came together as a unity theme. We wanted to make a statement about how the “Beaver Pride” works in many different ways forming a close-knit community through unity and teamwork. Whether it be cheering on the athletics or attending a CAB event we wanted to show how much Babson College cares about its members.

“Leaving your mark” at Babson means that you have fostered a connection with the community and wherever you may go in life you are forever connected to Babson and your time spent here. We hope that enjoy looking through these pages and that they rekindle the ties that you have.

"Faculty members, students, alumni, and staff mourned the loss of Kelly Lynch, associate professor of English, Arts and Humanities Division, who died on February 17... Lynch had been a member of the division since 1979... She was active in campus life as a faculty member and as a community member. She designed several courses in modern drama and organized a special Wintersession course based on plays showing in and around Boston. Eventually, she moved the course to London, and taught it there. She also Directed the Babson Cluster Program for five years. She was a member of various co-curricular committees, such as student advising, diversity, orientation, and the AIDS Quilt."

- Courtesy of The Babson Bulletin

"I would like to remember two things about Kelly. One is Kelly's love of literature and the arts - she dedicated her life to nurturing and encouraging that love in herself and in others. The other is Kelly's great gift as a story maker and story teller - those little stories that might provoke anything from a mild chuckle to a roar of laughter. I think what made Kelly extraordinary was that these two aspects of her life were inseparable... Semester after semester, after saying how much fun it was to be in her class, how funny she was, they would say with equal emphasis things like: "She cares about us." "She teaches us about life." "Before this class I never knew anything about European drama and now I want to know everything." One of Kelly's favorite comments: "She sings to us, the only professor I ever had who sings to her class."

- Kathleen Kelly, Division Chair of Arts and Humanities

"I had learned much about Kelly's teaching through my years in the Class Deans Office and in speaking with students, but I was overwhelmed with the responses to the announcement of her death this past spring. Alumni from all over the world sent stories and memories of a beloved teacher who taught them so much more than any single text or course could. Their admiration, genuine fondness, as well as their profound sadness, upon hearing of her death, brought us to tears as we read their words and tributes. We should all leave this world honored by those whose lives we have so positively affected!

I will miss Kelly. We will miss Kelly. The world will miss Kelly."

- Carol Hacker, Dean of Student Affairs
When to the sessions of sweet silent thought
I summon up remembrance of things past,
I sigh the lack of many a thing I sought,
And with old woes new wail my dear time's waste:
Then can I drown an eye, unused to flow,
For precious friends hid in death's dateless night,
And weep afresh love's long since cancelled woe,
And moan the expense of many a vanished sight.
Then can I grieve at grievances foregone,
And heavily from woe to woe tell o'er
The sad account of fore-bemoaned moan,
Which I new pay as if not paid before.
But if the while I think on thee, dear friend,
All losses are restored and sorrows end.

Professor Steven Turner

Dr. Turner taught at universities in Canada, Maine, and Ohio, before coming to Babson and is known internationally both for his theoretical work on the Fibonacci-T sequence and the Pascal-T triangle and for his innovative approaches to pedagogy. In the former work he created the principal components of a random variable introduced in 1979 in an article published in the Fibonacci Quarterly, a paper that produced many citations by authors from all over the world.

He has published more than a dozen other research papers in peer-reviewed professional journals in the areas of statistical theory, pedagogical applications of spreadsheet modeling, and reference collection management. Dr. Turner is coauthor of Statistical Analysis for Business Decisions, Fishing for Data Using the Net, and author of Concepts in Decision Analysis, Finance, and Simulation. Throughout his career, Dr. Turner's overriding concern has been to clarify difficult concepts for his students using explanatory essays. He has written over 100 of these pedagogical essays over the last 25 years. His current teaching and research interest is in solving applied business problems using a technology and software intensive approach. Areas of expertise include spreadsheet-based pedagogy in mathematics courses, web page design using Microsoft Front Page and Microsoft Paint Draw, and electronic commerce for small businesses using web auction sites.

“Professor Stephen Turner will be remembered as an instructor who, in a kind and reassuring manner, could coach his students to achieve remarkably high standards of personal excellence. He supported and encouraged any individual, regardless of his or her level of ability, as long as the student was willing to work.”

-Professor Steven Eriksen
There are so many people that need to be acknowledged in the making of the 2001-2002 Babsonian Yearbook, because without them there would not be a book in front of you right now. First and foremost I would personally like to thank… The 2002 yearbook staff, you guys are the best! Corey, you have a way of making up when I need you, and whenever I need boxes to be lifted I know who to call! Marissa thanks for being my partner in crime. (I’m glad one of us knew what we were doing, most of the time anyway). Olivia, thank you for your photography. Holly and Mindy, you will be missed! Thank you for your artistry. Jenny, your dedication and hard work never ceased to amaze me, thank you so much! Michelle thanks for being there with me and never failing to offer a helping hand. All of you helped me maintain my sanity in putting this book out.

The yearbook staff would like to thank: Laura DeVau for your undying support and for always believing that this book would come to be. You are never failed to see the light at the end of the tunnel, as well as the end of all our emails. Carol Hacker and Student Affairs, for your constant support and for allowing the staff to work in a brand new office. Sylvia Anderson and Facilities for their patience in our moves and providing us with a brand new office! Scott Hirsch, and Marie Prokopets for helping resurrect the Babson College Student Media Council. Scott, thank you for the constant support and never-ending ideas on how to run our organizations. Marie, thank you so much for the use of Free Press Photos and your helping hand.

We would also like to thank other members of the Babson College Community, especially the Athletics Department and Chris Buck, Maura Goggin and the Registrar’s Office, Kim Trelogan and the Alumni Office, Professor Steven Erickson, Professor Kathleen Kelly, The Babson Bulletin, SGA, Steve Lerner, Christine Merlo and the Class Deans Office, Fred Grant and the Office of Campus Life, and President Barefoot.

A special thanks goes out to John Neister and Jostens Publishing, without whom this book would be filled with empty pages. John, thank you so much for offering all of your knowledge and expertise! Caren Korin and DaVor Photography for your beautiful photography. Caren, thank you for your creativity and endless patience!

On a final note… taken from the 1966 edition of the Babsonian, “This small space set aside for the editor to evidence his appreciation of the efforts put forth by so many hardly does justice to those who have given so much of themselves” in order to make the 2002 Babsonian Yearbook a reality, and to that I say thank you all!

On Sunday, August 29, 2001, the Class of 2005 and their families arrived on campus. There was a feeling of excitement in the air. Knight Auditorium was filled with the smiling faces of Peer Mentors, faculty and staff eagerly awaiting the opportunity to welcome the Class of 2005. This first day was filled with group exercises to get to know one another and become familiar with the campus. President Barefoot led the Babson community in formally welcoming its newest members.

Celebration continued on the lawn of Park Manor South, where the freshmen class enjoyed dinner with their families before having to say goodbye. After families departed, Babson entertained the Class of 2005 with “Playfair” where many new friends were made. Orientation continued with guest speakers, The Improbable Players, First Year Experience, the Boston Harbor Cruise and hours of socializing. Before they knew it, classes had begun and the freshmen were already hard at work.

Family Weekend

Friday, October 19th through Sunday, October 21st.

Family weekend is time in the fall during which families from near and far are invited on campus to spend the weekend. This year, the weather was beautiful allowing families to walk around the campus, socialize, and enjoy many of the planned festivities. The activities began on Friday in the late afternoon with a tour of the Stephen D. Cutler Investment Management Center. Later, the Babson Players presented Drop Dead, a murder mystery play. Friday ended with a dessert extravaganza at the new Sorenson Visual Arts Center. There, parents were able to view the student art exhibition.

The weekend continued on Saturday with a Fall Festival Brunch in Trim Dining Hall, the State of the College Address and Undergraduate Awards Ceremony, the Student Club and Organization Carnival, the Family Weekend Cabaret, and Casino Night. Sunday brought a close to the fun weekend as parents said goodbye to their loved ones and departed from campus.

Casino Night

Saturday, October 20, 2001

This year's Casino Night was on Saturday, October 20th and was one of the many fun activities during Family Weekend. The evening was sponsored by the Campus Activities Board. Casino Night was a time for families and various members of the College Community to gather around some of their favorite casino games, including BINGO, a Roulette wheel, Black Jack, Poker, and Craps. Also during Casino Night there was a raffle during which one's chips could be turned in for raffle tickets. Some of the prizes being raffled off included: a DVD player, a television, and free tuition. Families were able to enjoy some music and food during the night. Casino Night concluded with a performance by the Babson Dance Ensemble, after which families gathered on the dance floor for some dancing of their own.

Oktoberfest

The "Hunting of Gordon's Ghost" Murder Mystery play, CAB Pub Night, Psychic Fair and Halloween Fest, and of course... "Things That Go Bump in the Night" Knight Party, were all part of this year's Oktoberfest.

The weekend started out with a murder mystery play where the audience interacted with the actors to find out "who dunit?" The play was followed by a Pub Night sponsored by the Campus Activities Board.

On Friday the main event was a Psychic Fair and Halloween Fest. Students were able to have their palms read, their fortunes told, and carve pumpkins.

The following night was the "Things That Go Bump in the Night" Knight Party. Members of the Babson community were able to show off their best costumes and dance the night away.

Miss Babson

This year, Seth and Jeff of the SethandJeff show on Babson College Radio brought back an old Babson tradition with the Miss Babson contest. Female members of the Babson Community were urged to participate. Contestants went into the BCR studio one-by-one and were broadcasted over the air with Seth and Jeff. They were asked to perform a few tasks for the all male panel of judges. Some of these tasks included reading poetry and giving a back massage. After all of the contestants had been on the radio show, the judges made their decision and the new Miss Babson for the 2001-2002 school year was crowned. This year's Miss Babson was sophomore Katrina Sundberg.

Mr. Babson

After the Miss Babson contest, hosted by juniors Seth Ginsberg and Jeff Greenberg immensely popular across campus, Seth and Jeff decided the year wouldn't be complete without continuing the tradition in the spring with a Mr. Babson contest. Seth and Jeff decided to hold the contest in Knight Auditorium. There was a runway set up so the Mr. Babson contestants could walk down the runway for the panel of judges and the audience.

The judges included Dean of Student Affairs, Carol Hacker, Woody, students, and the crowd favorite, Pam Barefoot, President Barefoot's wife! Mrs. Barefoot even danced with a contestant. After a successful night of fun and laughter, Mrs. Barefoot and the rest of the panel of judges decided on the winner of the spring 2002 Mr. Babson contest. The winner of the contest was senior Hammel Husbands.

Homecoming

Friday, September 21 through Saturday, September 22.

This year's Homecoming Weekend was particularly patriotic, with red, white and blue balloons decorating the entrance to the College. Alumni from near and far gathered for a weekend of catching up with old friends, sporting events, the Homecoming Barbeque and of course, an overwhelming feeling of unity in this close-knit community. Although a happy time for many returning Babson graduates, there was a somber feeling in the air given the events of September 11th. The weekend began with a service of concern led by Director of Spiritual Life, Reverend Thomas Sullivan. There was also a moment of silence to remember all those connected to the Babson College community who were in some way affected by the tragedy.

Not only did the alumni enjoy the events, but so did their children. To entertain the children there were many activities such as a petting zoo and pumpkin decorating.

Overall, Homecoming 2001 proved to be a wonderful opportunity for alumni to catch up with one another, have some fun and display a remarkable sense of unity during difficult times.

Winter Weekend
Thursday, February 14 through Sunday, February 17, 2002.

This year, the slogan for Winter Weekend was "Take the bite out of winter: cold days, hot nights." The weekend started off on Thursday night with comedian Bill Bellamy entertaining the College community in Knight Auditorium. The mood shifted slightly on Friday evening with the "Snow Ball" semi-formal dance in the PepsiCo Pavilion. Students dressed up for the occasion and danced the night away. The fun continued on Saturday with an Ice Skating party from 11pm until 1am at the Babson Skating Center. Many students of all skati-

On Tuesday, April 9, 2002 Babson College students, faculty and staff attended Founder's Day. Founder's Day is Babson's annual celebration of entrepreneurship where the newest members of the Academy of Distinguished Entrepreneurs are honored. This year, Babson College honored two distinguished entrepreneurs. The entrepreneurs honored during the festivities were Steven B. Dodge, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of American Tower Corporation and Leonard Riggio, Founder and Chairman of Barnes and Noble, Inc.

This year's program began at 10:30 with the Student Business Fair in Olin Hall. At the Fair, both undergraduate and graduate student-created businesses were featured. The program was moved to Knight Auditorium in the afternoon where there was the presentation of student awards and the induction and comments by the distinguished entrepreneurs. The afternoon session was followed by discussion sessions in Olin Hall with the distinguished entrepreneurs. The program concluded in the evening at the Boston Marriott where there were presentations of the entrepreneurs to President Barefoot.

Spring Weekend

Thursday, April 25 through Sunday, April 28, 2002

Spring Weekend is considered by many as the last chance a Babson student gets to have fun with friends before finals begin. This year Spring Weekend consisted of a lot of fun outdoor activities. On Thursday, April 25, Babson students headed to the fields to cheer on the Women’s Lacrosse team and the Baseball team. The fun continued on Friday and Saturday with the Men’s Lacrosse team and Baseball team hosting games on Saturday. Another major event of Spring Weekend was on Saturday when there was the Powder Puff and Ultimate Frisbee. BCR was on the fields DJing these popular events. Nearly the entire student population went out to cheer on their friends and participate in the fun. Later, on Saturday, the celebration moved to the front of Coleman where a large group of students gathered for a barbecue and some live music.

This year's Beaver Bowl took place in Roger's Pub on a Monday night. It was an excellent way to boost school spirit as many students gathered for the evening's activities. In fact, this year's Beaver Bowl was one of the most successful competitions in recent years.

This year, the SGA Senate ran the Beaver Bowl Competition. It was hosted by BCR's Seth and Jeff. The questions used in the competition were supplied by SGA Senate members, Jay Strong and Melony Isaac.

Students formed teams to answer the various Babson trivia questions to win a variety of prizes. For example, one of the questions asked during the competition was, What is the most popular food at Trim? Answer: Bananas! Prizes for correct answers included cash, stuffed animals, stays at the CEE, digital cameras, and gift certificates.

This year's Beaver Bowl proved to be a fun experience for all involved.

The Beavers return 17 letterwinners from last year's squad, including an entire defense that recorded seven shutouts a year ago. In the midfield, this year's team featured several versatile athletes that have a major impact at both ends of the field. This group includes junior Mark Abraham, who scored three goals and added two assists last season, and sophomore Joe Plaisance, who finished third on the squad with seven goals and seven helpers for 21 points last fall. Other key members of the midfield are junior Matt Kersker, junior Michael Krisko, and junior Peter DiDominico. All three enjoyed tremendous campaigns in 2000, and make Babson's midfield one of the deepest. Leading the Beavers' dangerous core of strikers is junior Jonah Frisch. The team's second-leading scorer last year, Frisch earned NEWMAC All-Conference and NSCAA All-New England honors after finishing second on the team with eight goals and six assists for 22 points.

After just two seasons, Frisch ranks 16th on the school's all-time scoring list with 46 career points. Joining Frisch up front are sophomores Patrick Spicer, Nick Richio, and Dario Cornelio. All three showed flashes of brilliance last season, and are counted on to provide increased scoring production this fall.

With two consecutive regular season titles under its belt, head coach Jon Anderson believes that his squad can challenge for the NEWMAC title and an NCAA Tournament berth. "We've shown steady improvement over each of the last three seasons, and I'm hoping that trend will continue in 2001," Anderson says. "However, if we are to challenge for the NEWMAC championship again, we'll need to work hard all year long to improve our skills and become a better overall team. If we do that, I'm confident that we'll have the talent and ability to compete with anybody."

Women's Soccer

A rash of injuries last year resulted in a limited bench, a number of different starting lineups, and several position changes. However, that fact could not stop the Beavers' favor this past fall, as the team features an extremely deep and experienced group of returning players.

Leading the way the season was senior tri-captains Kate Ryan, Meghan Norton, and Amber Benoit. A two-time captain, Ryan battled through a grueling leg injury in 2000 to play during this year. The talented midfielder finished third on the team with three goals and one assist for seven points. Norton and Benoit each played every game for the Beavers, combining for five assists. Both played a vital role in the team's success this season.

Also this season is the dangerous duo of seniors Karyn Gronke and Tara Haverty. Other key contributors on this year's team are junior Chartene Caputo, and sophomores Katrina Majak and Laura Davis. All three enjoyed solid seasons last fall, and improved in 2001.

"We battled through a lot of diversity last season, but I believe it made our team that much stronger," Bliman says. "We have a lot of talent and experience coming back this fall, and if we can continue to work hard and improve, we will have an excellent shot at winning the conference title and returning to the postseason."
The 2002 season has been another strong one for the Babson men’s and women’s cross-country teams. With an excellent mix of returning veterans and talented first-years on both squads, the Beavers look to perform well in a number of competitive meets all over New England.

Despite losing six runners to graduation, the men’s team featured an outstanding group of returning athletes in 2002. Four of the Beavers’ top five runners returned, including junior standout Chris Perry. Senior tri-captains Mike Connelly, Ben Dillon, and Vin Framularo added depth to the Babson line-up, as did junior Matt Rowell and a host of first-year athletes.

“Both the men and women had great leadership this fall,” says head coach Scott Hutchinson. “With the combination of experienced veterans and talented underclassmen, we certainly had another excellent season.”

The 2002 season has been another strong one for the Babson men’s and women’s cross-country teams. With an excellent mix of returning veterans and talented first-years on both squads, the Beavers look to perform well in a number of competitive meets all over New England.

With all of their top runners having returned, the Babson women show great improvement this fall. Seniors and two-year co-captains Kim Page and Melissa Nelson once again lead the way for the Beavers, while sophomore Lydia Halloran look to build on a fantastic rookie campaign. Halloran and Page are the team. The women’s squad also received contributions from senior Jackie Savage, who did very well in her first collegiate season last fall, as well as a number of incoming first-years.

“Both the men and women had great leadership this fall,” says head coach Scott Hutchinson. “With the combination of experienced veterans and talented underclassmen, we certainly had another excellent season.”

One of the biggest factors in Babson's success this season is the play of its dominating defense. Allowing just 1.23 goals per game last fall, the backfield features several talented returners, including junior Deb Morris, sophomore Kate Graham, and junior Abby Howe. All three enjoyed excellent seasons a year ago and were counted upon heavily in the upcoming campaign.

Anchoring the defensive unit in 2001 are sophomore goalkeeper Colleen Kelly, who recorded .673 save percentage in 15 games during her rookie season. She was backed up by junior tri-captain Zemira Khan, who sports a 1.01 career GAA after two seasons.

The midfield was anchored by junior tri-captain Shannon Hawley, who ranked fourth on the team in scoring with eight total points in 2000 while starting 16 of 19 games. She joined sophomore trio of Erin Lockwood, Kristy Mellinger, and Lauren Glavin, who all saw extensive playing time during their rookie seasons. Lockwood and Mellinger each recorded one goal, while Glavin added one goal and one assist.

Up front, the Beavers are bolstered by the return of juniors Sarah Lange and Cara Campo. One of the team's two co-captains, Lange set a new Babson single-season record last fall when she dished out a team-high 11 assists.

Sophomore Torry Cullen also had an impact on the front line this fall, as could sophomore Allison Armstrong. Cullen recorded two goals for four points in 17 games last season, while Armstrong played well in limited action.

"This team showed a lot of promise last year," third-year head coach Laurie Magoon says. "Hopefully, with hard work and preparation, we will be able to build on that momentum and challenge for the NEWMAC title in 2001."

Pacing the Beavers in 2001 is senior tri-captain Michelle Malone, a defensive specialist who ranked 11th in the nation last season with 0.85 aces per game. She is joined by fellow tri-captains Stephanie Roge, who recorded 179 kills and 226 digs as a sophomore last fall, and Rachel Seraphin, who tallied 92 digs in 71 games played during her junior campaign.

Other key performers on the 2001 squad are junior Jill Conrad, who led the team in hitting percentage last year, and sophomore Erica Yuan, who led the Beavers with 371 assists and 307 digs while placing 15th in the country with 0.80 aces per game. Junior Alyson Yablonskie led Babson with 181 kills a year ago, and is again a major contributor in the team's success. Senior Phanney Kim also plays a valuable roll this season, as will sophomores Michelle Danis and Stephanie Lifshin.

Babson once again faced a very challenging schedule in 2001. The Beavers played a full schedule in the NEWMAC, which features NCAA Tournament qualifier Wellesley College, as well as regional powers Springfield College and MIT. In addition, the team continues to battle several top teams outside of the conference, and will participated in several top-level tournaments.

"This year's returning players include leaders in assists (371), kills (179 and 181) and service aces (nationally ranked 9th and 11th). The combination of a large returning class along with a talented freshmen class offers us the opportunity to build upon our success from last year. I am confident that we can improve our overall record as well as our conference record and anticipate returning to the Conference Tournament."
After finishing 15th in the nation at last year, our 2001 NCAA Division III Championship Tournament, the Babson College golf 2001-2002 brought success for one of New England’s most prestigious programs.

As a result of their stellar play last year, the Beavers earned their second straight bid to the NCAA Division III Tournament, where they improved to from 22nd in 2000 to 15th overall in 2001.

Now, with three of its top performers lost to graduation, the Babson golf program has looked to a new core of talented linksters as it looks to remain at the top of the New England golf scene. Leading the way in 2001-2002 is returning junior and team captain Steven Eklund, who was named to the All-New England team last season after tying for third at the NEIGA Championships. He is being joined by sophomore Brandon Eldredge, who claimed NEWMAC Rookie of the Year honors last fall, and junior Tom Krimmel, who played a key role in the team’s success after transferring from Northeastern prior to his sophomore year.

Other contributors on this year’s team could include senior Evan Carlson, who enters his second season after joining the squad last fall, and junior Andy Dratch, who has shown tremendous potential in his first two collegiate campaigns. In addition, two-time NEWMAC Coach of the Year Mike Vassalotti will look to a talented group of incoming first-years as he hopes to guide his team back to the NCAA Tournament.

“There’s no question that we’ll miss our three seniors from a year ago,” Vassalotti says. “However, our returning players have gained valuable championship experience over the last couple of seasons, and I’m confident that they can mold this team into yet another NCAA Tournament contender.”

The Babson College men’s basketball team came back this year with a vengeance. Key to the team’s success this winter was the play of its talented and athletic frontcourt. Senior Giles Westie and junior Mark Lussier returned to lead the veteran group after both enjoyed fine seasons a year ago.

Among Babson’s highly talented freshmen who will be trying for time this year are forward Jeff Nicholson and guard Phil Riffe. Nicholson is an explosive athlete who earned Boston Globe All-Academic honors last season, while Riffe is an extremely dangerous three-point shooter. Other potential contributors from the incoming class include guard Otdan Lowery and forward Brooks Brown. Rounding out this year’s squad are first-years Jamaal Mitchell, Dan Elliman, and Ben Stone.

While the Beavers will have the talent and the experience necessary to once again be one of the top teams in New England, they faced an extremely challenging schedule. In the NEWMAC, Babson was against several top postseason contenders, including Clark, which advanced to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament last year, and regional powers Springfield and Wheaton. In addition, the team battled a host of outstanding non-conference opponents, including Salem State, Tufts, and NAIA Division II standout Flagler.
Women’s Basketball

Leading Babson this winter will be senior forward Meredith Eddy. The team’s most pleasant surprise last season, Eddy established herself as one of the premier players in New England by averaging a team-high 15.4 points per game to go along with 6.9 rebounds per contest. An outstanding athlete on both ends of the court, Eddy also paced the Beavers with 42 steals as she earned NEWMAC All-Conference honors for the first time in her career. In addition to Eddy, the team’s extraordinary front court will also include junior center Ingrid Miller. A former NEWMAC Rookie of the Year and All-Conference selection, Miller enjoyed another fine season in 2000-2001. Her 12.3 points per contest placed her second on the squad in scoring, while her 7.6 rebounds per outing was tops on the team and eighth in the conference. Miller was also Babson’s top shot blocker, recording 46 swats to go along with 33 steals. Providing depth in the paint will be junior Patricia Leahy, who ranked third on the team with 4.0 rebounds per game last winter, and sophomore Rebecca Krawczyk, who averaged a solid 7.2 points and 3.7 boards per contest while hitting 16 of 30 three-point attempts during her rookie season. The Babson back court will be led by senior Kerri Lally, who dished out a team-high 50 assists a year ago. Also an excellent defender, Lally pulled down 2.1 rebounds per game while picking up 27 steals during her junior season. She will be joined by junior guard Joanna Maher, who emerged as the team’s top perimeter threat last winter. An outstanding shooter, Maher nailed 38 of her 119 attempts from three-point range as she ranked third on the squad with 7.3 points per game. She also played well at the defensive end, recording 33 steals. Other potential contributors this season include junior Patricia Robichaud and sophomores Katie McMackin and Tanya Maskaluk. All three played well in limited action last year, and should see increased playing time this winter. Despite the fact that the Beavers will once again battle one of the toughest schedules in the region, long time head coach Judy Blinstrub likes her team’s chances during the upcoming season. “We’re going to face a number of excellent teams this winter, including several from within our own conference,” Blinstrub says. “However, I believe that we have both the talent and the experience to compete with any of them. To do that, we’ll need to continue to work hard and remain consistent throughout the season.” -Courtesy of the Athletics Department
Men’s Hockey

Leading the Beavers this winter will be ECAC East All-Star goaltender Greg Berard. Now in his senior season, Berard had a career year in 2000-2001, going 14-8-4 with a 3.01 goals-against-average and a .901 save percentage in 26 games. He was also spectacular in league play, recording eight wins while giving up just 2.95 goals per contest. He will be backed up by junior Ben Johnson and sophomore Jason Hart, who both played well in limited action last year. Anchoring the defense in front of Berard will be junior Pat Dolezal and sophomore Drew Lindow. Dolezal was the team’s top scoring defenseman in 2000-2001, dishing out 10 assists for 10 points. Lindow, who started 22 games for Babson in his rookie season, added seven assists from the blue line. Juniors Kyle Fnetel and Andy Dratch will add depth to the defensive unit, which allowed only 3.10 goals per game last season. Offensively, the Beavers will need to fill the huge void left by Eric Bookbinder and Rob Winslow, who combined for 207 career points before graduating this past spring. However, Babson will have plenty of firepower in their place, as the sensational sophomore trio of Eric Tkacz, Derek Nisula, and Rob Harvey return. Tkacz tied for third on the team in scoring in 2000-2001, tallying nine goals and 15 assists for 24 points. Nisula was closed behind with 10 goals and 12 helpers for 22 points, while Harvey placed sixth with 12 goals and seven assists for 19 points. The trio will be joined up front by senior Corey Zahn, junior John Lobisser, and junior Joe Gianantonio. All three made solid offensive contributions last winter, and will counted upon for even more production this season. With national powerhouses like Norwich, Middlebury, and Williams on the schedule, Babson will have plenty of competition this winter. However, 2000-2001 ECAC East Coach of the Year Paul Donato is confident that this team will be right in the thick of things come playoff time. “This team has a wealth of talent, and although we’re pretty young, we also have a great deal of big game experience,” Donato says. “If we can continue to work hard and improve, I believe that we’ll be able to compete with anyone in the country.” -Courtesy of Athletics Department
Leading the men’s team this winter will be the talented sophomore tandem of Andrew Waples and Andrew Thorpy. Both showed great promise in their rookie seasons and should be among the team’s top performers in 2001-2002. Adding depth to the men’s squad will be seniors Rob Strauss and Dave Robbins, who both enjoyed great success last winter and will be counted upon for their leadership and experience.

On the women’s side, senior Anna Erickson and sophomore Lina Heje return for what could be a breakout season for the Beavers. Erickson has consistently turned in some of the team’s top finishes over the past three years, while Heje had a terrific rookie season a year ago.

“With most of our top skiers returning on both teams, and several strong recruits coming in, we should be in position to break the top five (in the Osborne Division) this year,” Castataro says. “However, in order to do that, we’ll need to beat some very talented teams, and that means all of our athletes will need to continue to work hard and improve during the off-season.”

Both the men and women compete in the Osborne Division of the United States Collegiate Skiing Association against a mix of Division I, II, and III schools. In addition to team competitions based on the cumulative performances of the individuals, racers can qualify for NCAA competition through the Middlebury Carnival each February. The program has been in existence for 18 years, producing several All-Americans in that time. The men have advanced to the regionals 10 times with six division titles, made a USCSA National appearance in 1990, and had an NCAA National qualifier in 1999. The women have qualified for the regionals on 11 occasions with seven division titles and National appearances in 1991, 1996, and 1997.

The Babson College baseball team enjoyed yet another stellar season in 2001, posting a 19-13 record and earning its ninth ECAC Tournament bid in the last 11 years. Now, armed with one of the finest young pitching staffs in New England and a notoriously dangerous offense, first-year head coach Mike Reed believes his team is ready to step up to the next level in 2002.

“There’s no question that this team is loaded with talent,” Reed says. “However, to be successful, every single athlete must work hard everyday to become a better ball player. Based on what I’ve seen over the last two years as an assistant here, I’m confident that our guys are willing to do that on a daily basis. If that’s the case, then there’s no question that we will have the tools necessary to win a conference championship and move on to the NCAA Tournament.”

Key contributors are junior Bill Fitzgerald, who earned NEWMAC All-Conference honors after going 5-2 with a 2.97 ERA last spring. He is joined by junior Joe Forte, who has won seven games in his first two collegiate seasons, and by senior Ryan Fergus, who was leading the conference with a 0.95 ERA last year before suffering an injury in early April.

Also having a major impact on this year’s staff are sophomores Jason Kosow, Dave Volante, Matt Bigda, Luke Delvecchio, Jim Battista, and Jeff Heighington. All six turned in solid rookie seasons in 2001, and will continue to play vital rolls this spring.

Among those vying for time will be sophomore Mike Muccio, who hit three homers and scored 27 runs in 29 games last year, as well as sophomore Keith Vera and junior Matt Nolan. Vera hit .289 with a team-leading seven doubles last spring, while Nolan was the squad’s most versatile outfielder, starting at least one game at all three positions.

Softball

One of Babson’s biggest success stories in 2001 was that of its outstanding young softball team. After posting an 11-23 mark two years ago, the Beavers faced a difficult challenge this past season, as their roster featured just two players with two or more years of collegiate experience. However, thanks to a brilliant first-year class that was led by NEWMAC Rookie of the Year and All-Conference selection Colleen Kelly, Babson improved its record to 18-17 overall and established itself as one of the top young teams in New England.

Now, with all but one player returning from last year’s team, the Beavers appear to be on the verge of a true breakout season in 2002. Leading the way will be senior captain Michelle Malone, who enjoyed the finest season of her career last spring, and Kelly, who was the team’s top all-around player in 2001. A three-year starter in centerfield, Malone led the team with a .388 batting joining Malone and Kelly this season will be a host of talented returners. Junior Jessica Barry came roaring back after an early season slump to hit .357 with 41 hits and 14 RBIs a year ago. Sophomore Allison Armstrong also hit well, recording a .330 batting average with two homers and 18 RBIs. Sophomore Dawn Tyrrell finished second on the team with 20 runs driven in, and junior Tanya Mercure was hitting a remarkable .438 through 17 games before suffering a season-ending injury.

Despite Babson’s relative youth and inexperience, head coach Dave Canan believes that his team is on the verge of something special this spring. "Last year’s team was one of the youngest that I’ve ever seen at this level."

Men’s Swimming

Sporting two of the most talented rosters in the region, the Babson College men’s and women’s swimming and diving teams should be in for an exciting ride in 2001-2002. With 14 letterwinners returning on each squad, longtime head coach Rick Echlov once again has the Beavers in position to rank among the top teams in New England.

On the men’s side, senior captain Mike Boys returns to lead a team that went 10-4 and finished fourth at the NEWMAC Championships a year ago. Boys was a major factor in the Beavers’ success, winning the conference title and earning All-NEWMAC honors in both the 200 and the 400 individual medley events. In addition, Boys was named All-New England in the 200 IM, the 400 IM, and the 100 freestyle. One of the most versatile swimmers in program history, Boys enters his senior season as the school record holder in the 100 IM, the 50 fly, and the 50 backstroke.

Other key leaders on this year’s team will be senior Ramon Lopez and junior Rich Chute. An All-American as a sophomore, Lopez enjoyed another fine season last winter, earning All-New England honors in both the 50 and 100 freestyle events. Another freestyle specialist, Chute also dominated the competition in 2000-2001, winning the NEWMAC title in the 200 and 500 free, and gaining All-New England selections in the 200, 500, and 1650 free. Together, Lopez and Chute hold all six individual freestyle records at Babson. Joining them will be fellow senior Jeff Carbone, who will add depth and experience to a powerful group of freestyle swimmers.

While the Beavers’ outstanding core of veterans will lead the way, a number of talented young swimmers will also play a major role in the upcoming season. Sophomore Corey Landry turned in a fantastic rookie campaign, winning the NEWMAC Championship and setting a new Babson record in the 200 IM. In addition, Landry earned individual All-New England honors in the 200 IM, the 400 IM, and the 200 backstroke, and he was a member of two separate All-New England relay teams. Fellow sophomore Justin Pfister joined Landry on one of those relay squads, and will provide Babson with much-needed depth in the IM and breaststroke events.

Babson’s diving contingent will be led by senior Chris Zobler and junior Jonathan Gillis. Both had solid seasons in 2000-2001, with Gillis earning All-New England distinction in the one-meter event. Both have shown continuous improvement throughout their careers, and will play important roles this coming winter.

The women’s team also enjoyed a solid 2000-2001 campaign, improving its record to 7-7 and finishing ninth at the NEWMAC championships. This winter, the team will be led by senior captain Meghan Cook. Cook has been instrumental in the Beavers’ success over the last three years, and will be counted upon for her leadership and experience in the upcoming season.

Other members of the women’s team that will have a major impact on the team’s success this winter are junior Stacey Bowers, senior Stephanie Landers, senior Liz Erdel, and sophomore Anne Gordon. Bowers has been awesome in her first two seasons, setting Babson records in the 50, 100, and 200 backstroke events. Landers has also made strong contributions in the breaststroke, while Erdel and Gordon will make up the heart of the Beavers’ diving squad.

In addition to the team’s deep core of returning veterans, a host of talented first-year swimmers will also add strength to this year’s squad. Emily Ney enjoyed a tremendous high school career in Kennebunkport, Maine, and should be one of the Beavers’ top performers in the breaststroke this winter. Fellow first-year Sarah Massey was also outstanding at the high school level, and will help the team greatly in the middle distance events.

Although his teams will compete against a host of outstanding opponents this season, Coach Echlov believes that the Beavers have what it takes to rise to the top of the New England swimming and diving scene. “Our program has a history of attracting hard-working, highly motivated men and women, and the last three or four years have been no different,” Echlov says. “We currently have some of the most talented and dedicated student-athletes this program has ever seen. With continued practice and a little luck, I am confident that we have the components necessary to be one of the top teams in New England.”

Men’s Tennis

After a spectacular 2001 season that saw his team advance all the way to the finals of the NEWMAC Tournament, head coach Jim Berrigan built upon their prior success in 2002. Despite the loss of Jason Smith ’01, the team’s top player in both singles and doubles last spring, Babson had eight of its nine letter winners this spring. That certainly provides the Beavers with the necessary talent and experience to once again challenge for the conference championship.

Anchoring the team this spring is a deep core of veterans, including seniors Sebastian Weigert, Prajay Jhaveri, and Chris Zobler, as well as junior Sandeep Madhavan. Last season, those four players combined for 36 wins in singles play and 27 victories in doubles competition, and as a result were all named to the NEWMAC All-Conference team.

Zobler and Jhaveri should bolster the middle of the lineup after both enjoyed breakout seasons a year ago. Zobler combined to go 12-9 between the third, fourth, and fifth spots, including an impressive 5-1 mark in NEWMAC play. Jhaveri was close behind, going 10-10 in the fourth, fifth, and sixth slots, including a 4-1 record against conference competition.

Also adding depth to this year’s team is senior Elliot Brook and sophomores Justin Man, Scott MacDonald, and Burke Malek. Man and MacDonald each won five matches in their rookie seasons, with Man earning NEWMAC All-Conference honors for his doubles play with Jhaveri. Brook and Malek both played well when called upon, and should play major rolls on this year’s squad.

“Last year was a tremendous success for this program,” Berrigan says. “Hopefully, with most of the team coming back, we can use last season’s momentum to win the conference championship and earn a berth in the NCAA Tournament.”

Despite having no juniors or seniors last fall, the women's tennis team posted the second-best record in the 22-year history of the program a year ago. Now, with all of its members returning, the squad expects to be even better in 2002.

Leading the Beavers' charge this season will be the talented duo of first-year Samantha Wong and junior co-captain Shannon McCarthy. The two teamed up to win the first doubles flight at the NEWMAC Championship Tournament last fall, helping them earn All-Conference honors at that position. Both were outstanding at singles play, as well, as Wong went 10-2 at number one and McCarthy added a 12-5 mark while playing most of her matches at number two.

As a result of her fine season, Wong became the first player in Babson tennis history to be named NEWMAC Rookie of the Year.

Other key members of this year's team will be sophomore Daniella Hofer, junior Andrea Fang, and junior co-captain Cassie Kao. In her first collegiate season, Hofer went an incredible 18-0 in dual match play, including a perfect 8-0 mark against conference opponents, to earn NEWMAC All-Conference honors at fourth singles. Fang went 13-4 while playing mostly at number three, and Kao added a combined 22 wins in singles and doubles during her sophomore season.

The Babson College men’s lacrosse team enjoyed one of its finest seasons ever in 2002. Pilgrim League Co-Coach of the Year Jim Castrataro guided his as well as a trip to the league championship game.

For the third consecutive year, seniors Mike Welch and Chris Darmon, Welch helped the team place very well. Other key contributors on the offensive end were junior Darryl Hasen who finished third on the team with 28 goals and 35 total points, junior Devin Collins who tallied 17 goals and 24 total points, and sophomore Todd MacDowell who placed fifth with 17 goals and 21 total points despite missing six games with an injury.

While the offense was certainly potent, it was Babson’s stellar defense that helped the team soar to the next level in 2002. Anchoring the squad’s stingy defensive unit were senior Matt Whittier, Matt’s younger brother Keith Whittier, and junior Matt Siciliano. The trio started all 18 games together, helping the Beavers post the second lowest goals-against-average in the nation (5.20) during regular season play. For his efforts, Siciliano was named to the Pilgrim League All-Star team and the All-New England team, while Keith Whittier earned NEWMAC All-Conference honors in just his first collegiate season. Babson’s other significant contributors were sophomore goalkeeper and former NEWMAC and Pilgrim League Rookie of the Year Paul DeFina and Nic Sabella.

“I was very pleased with our results this season,” Castrataro said. “Our guys played hard at both ends of the field, and our goaltending was tremendous. Hopefully, we can carry the momentum from this year into the next season.”

With the loss of two of the finest players in program history to graduation, the Babson women’s lacrosse team faced a difficult challenge in 2002. However, armed with a new head coach and an outstanding core of talented young athletes, the Beavers were preparing for a breakout season this past spring.

Having lost Laura Hayes, Katie Marshall who tied for fourth on last year’s team with 11 goals and two assists for 13 points will help fill that void. She will be joined up front by sophomore Eleni Comuntzis, Babson’s top rookie from a year ago. Both Marshall and Comuntzis will be counted upon for even more offensive production this season.

Other potential contributors on offense this season include juniors Ashley Andre and Deb Morris. Sophomore twin sisters Kinsley and Erica Burrill should also see increased playing time, as both performed well in their rookie seasons.

Defensively, Babson will be hurt by the loss of last year’s team leader, Maria McDonough. However, the Beavers have several talented defenders returning, including junior Stephanie Bogue, junior Alyson Yablonskie, sophomore Courtney Julian, and sophomore Erin Hurley. All four started consistently throughout last season, and will provide some much-needed experience and leadership on the defensive end.

For the third consecutive season, junior Abby Howe will handle the goalkeeping duties. An extremely intelligent player with tremendous instincts, Howe performed well throughout the season.

Despite her team’s relative youth combined with a very imposing schedule, first-year coach Kelly Hagerman is confident that Babson will be in contention for a post-season bid come May. “We certainly have the talent and the desire to compete with any team in New England,” Hagerman says. “The key to our success is going to be consistency. If we can work hard and maintain our focus throughout the season, we’ll be a tough team to beat.”

It all started here! The Community
The Student Government Association Senate is the representation of all registered organizations at Babson. This year, the Senate has seen unprecedented attendance, and began weekly meetings. Changes also include the addition of committees on issues such as Alumni Interaction and Campus Activities as well as developmental seminars for these campus leaders by Laura De Vau, our Associate Director of Campus Life. In 2002, the Senate has become a recognized force on campus, and has been working on ideas for programming, student appreciation, organization of the entity itself, and Beaver Bowl, the oldest tradition at Babson, which was placed in the hands of the Senators in an effort to give the responsibility and decision making of this event back to the students. The SGA Senate is presided over by SGA Executive Vice President, Nathan Knight and elected its’ own Vice President, Jay Strong.

Women Giving Back is a community service organization that works primarily with women's and children's charities. WGB was established in the year 2000 by fifteen Babson women, in an effort to create a more effective outlet for giving back to the greater community. Currently, the organization is comprised of more than seventy-five volunteers, and occupies the Women Giving Back Special Interest Tower. Winners of the Home for Little Wanderers Volunteers of the Year Award, Women Giving Back has worked with a variety of inspiring charity organizations including:

- The Home For Little Wanderers – Waltham and Watertown Homes
- The American Cancer Society – Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk
- The American Cancer Society – Daffodil Days Program
- The Summer Hill House for Unwed Teenage Mothers
- The National Multiple Sclerosis Society – MS Walk
- The Girls' LEAP Self Defense- Lifetime Empowerment and Awareness Program

On campus, WGB has helped the Office of campus life with Women’s History Month Activities and the Office of Admissions with exceptional femal leader recruitment through phone-a-thons and overnights.

The Admissions Assistant Program is one of the largest and most visible organizations on campus. Every year we work with thousands of prospective students, influencing their decision through our positive, honest, and sincere representation of Babson. An extension of the Undergraduate Admissions Office, AAP members give weekly tours and greet in Mustard Hall lobby. Most days there is a classroom or overnight visit, hosted by an AAP member. We send members back to their high schools every Thanksgiving Break to be Ambassadors or they can participate in one of our Phonathons. Special events require the most members and include: two Fall Open Houses, the Women’s Overnight,Basically Babson Day, and two Junior “Special Saturdays”, which are new to the program this year.

The dedication of this group is integral in Babson’s recruitment of the best applicants each year. This year, we had a strong membership of over 150 students, and have enjoyed quite a few successful events. Losing two Coordinators to Study Abroad Programs, we were faced with replacing Tara Saxton from the Overnight Host Program and Stephanie Hamel who Coordinated the Greeters and Membership Programs. We were fortunate enough to have a large amount of applicants for these positions, and brought on three great new Coordinators. We have also undertaken projects to increase school spirit, such as our “What is your favorite thing about Babson?” program, where we had students fill out slips of paper about all they loved about the school. As always, AAP has proven to be one of the most recognized, successful, and dynamic organizations at Babson, and has every intention to continue that legacy.

The Babsonian Yearbook is a student run organization, which produces the college annual. It is the oldest organization on campus, and this year's staff has seven dedicated members. Neesha Modi - Editor-in-Chief, Holly and Mindy Chin - Layout Editors, Marisa Breda - Campus Activities Editor, Michelle Balconi - Senior Editor, Jennifer Purington – Organizations Editor and Corey Tanase – Athletics Editor.

The organization dedicates itself to record memorable moments in the College's history for the Babson Community.

Turn the Beat Around
Babson Players
We thought '01/'02 was going to be a hard year for us. We thought graduating half of our organization last year was going to hurt us. We thought that interest in the arts at Babson was starting to dwindle. Well we were wrong on all three counts. Strong support for new freshman, returning "Playahs", alumni and the campus helped us create "Drop Dead" last fall and "How to Succeed in Business" this spring.
Babson Billiards was founded in late 2001 and meets weekly at the pool tables in Reynolds. The club provides students on campus with an opportunity to improve their pool game by using excellent pool equipment and playing against high quality pool players. Babson Billiards also hosts some events throughout the year including tournaments for members, a campus wide tournament and an evening with Dr. Cue, a World Masters Trick Shot Champion.

Members: Andy Brewer, Sean Cullen, Jon Eliasof, Chris Grant, Alex Hawkins, Chris Mason, John Nelson, Josh Slayton, Helen Wang, Sebastian Weigert, Alex Yeung, and Erica Yuan.

BNA is not just a logo. Nor is it just a community campaign, or a site on the Internet. BNA will be a set of impressions, emotions, and associations that will connect individuals in creating something of value whether it be a friendship, a family, or a business. It will be a group of dynamic and charismatic people, both men and women, bringing together their diverse ideas, qualities and cultures, which make BNA a unique organization.

Our goal is networking and is people led, people-based, and people-focused. Diversity is any network passion. We aim to become an active group with a total of 200 members, representing over 50 different countries and speaking more than 75 languages.

We hope that this global powerhouse will create an environment grounded in communication, companionship, and respect: an environment that will celebrate each member’s culture, language, religion, and country.

What is it? The Babson College Panhellenic Association is an organization made up of the four delegates from each of the two sororities on campus, Kappa Kappa Gamma and Sigma Kappa. What is our mission? The Babson College Panhellenic Association supports its fraternity women by promoting personal and academic achievement, internal and external collaboration, service learning, friendship, and well-being and by providing leadership opportunities, co-curricular activities, and a support mechanism for its members and the women of Babson College!

The Alternative Spring Break 2002... Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. The Habitat for Humanity Organization here at Babson College spent their Spring Break in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida "Having fun helping People". Students decided to volunteer their time instead of going to Cancun for Spring Break as part of the Collegiate Challenge and they helped build five houses for people who could not afford it.
Christian Fellowship
As our fifth year as an organization, we've become more and more a part of the Babson Community. Serving as a forum for international and domestic students, BAPSA has helped to create many friendships and community events. Our main goal has been to promote some part of the diverse Asian culture to the Babson Community. Through workshops, Food Festivals, and Asian Heritage month, we hope that the students of Babson have been able to take away something about our culture that they never knew. We'd like to extend a special thanks to Toni Blackwell, for all her help and support, Jason Pina, for his guidance and motivational prowess, and to Amir Reza for willingness to always be there when we needed him most.
Ice Hockey Club
Babson Snowboarding Club was started in the Spring Semester of 2002 as a way to participate in activities on and off campus and have fun learning and improving our snowboarding skills. Members are also involved in snowboarding competitions at both the local and national levels (U.S.C.S. A.).

This year we have participated in four competitions (Boarder Cross as well as Giant Slalom) always having at least one member in the top five. This enabled us to qualify for the nationals in Waterville Valley. And hopefully we will do even better next year while having at least that much fun.

"Ruck, maul, tackle, run, a women's work is never done."
BCR was founded in 1998 as the nation's first dedicated college web radio station (http://radio.babson.edu). We use the latest technology to broadcast in Realplayer format. In addition to our Internet presence, we also broadcast in the campus center, dining hall, and over the campus television, Channel 9, at all times.

We are currently planning to implement a leaky coaxial system that will enable students in all dorms to tune into BCR on their FM dials. BCR is also an active live DJ services provider, hosting events such as Greek formals and semi-formals, pub nights, parties, and Student Government events.

The Campus Activities Board has been focusing this year on bringing bigger names to campus that will satisfy a more broad range of students than ever before. Winter Weekend was headlined by comedian Bill Bellamy, and Spring Weekend featured the musical talents of “the Roots.” The Eboard for this term consists of 10 members: President, VP, finance, concerts, Knight parties, special events, promotions, pub, film and cluture/lecture.

Balancing the heavy Babson workload with planning and running the school’s entertainment keeps this board busy, but they are happy to do so. “It is great to have a group of students so devoted to the campus, and they really make a difference,” says CAB president Jeff Greenberg, ’03. Along with the aforementioned headlining events, this year CAB has also hosted a psychic fair, a sex speaker, and theme dances including the costume Harvest Ball, semi formal Snowball, and hot tub party.

To finish this term, the current Board is hoping to work with that to be elected in October in hopes to make the transition run more smoothly, capturing lost time and further benefiting the campus. CAB would like to thank all students who have supported the organization through both helping out with events and attending them.

Sigma Phi Epsilon has been extremely active this year. As the largest Greek organization on campus, we have not only added to the community but enriched each other’s lives as well. Our main focuses of virtue, diligence and brotherly love can be seen in all that we do.

Through the Balanced Man Program we have brought in new brothers helping them excel in schoolwork, social activities, and fitness. In addition, older brothers and alumni are helping the chapter to become more involved and continue as leaders in a variety of sporting teams, clubs, and organizations.

The Zeta Alpha chapter of our fraternity is comprised of thirty young women. It has become our home away from home where there is a constant support system of our closest friends. We are not only friends but sisters who are also involved in many areas on campus. Kappa's talents can be seen not only in the classroom but also in the dance ensemble, on the athletic fields, during philanthropic events, in the musical ensembles, as peer mentors, and as leaders in many other areas of the college.

Ali Watkins, 2002 president, believes that, "Kappa Kappa Gamma has given me a family when my family is too far away to see. Without this close-knit group of women with diverse interests, I am not sure where my niche would have been at Babson. I have learned as much from my sisters as I have from academia: friendship, loyalty, sisterhood, and most importantly, a lifelong connection to an unbelievable group of women. Kappa has afforded me opportunities to be a leader both within the organization and within the Babson community, and I am grateful to have the sisterhood of Kappa in my life."

TO my friends & sisters: Kappa Kappa Gamma is a group of unique individuals who share a common bond of sisterhood. I would like to thank my fellow senior Kappa women for all of their hard work and dedication to the Zeta Alpha chapter. Without their guidance, our chapter would not be where it is today. Thank you all for giving me a great place to call home. I will miss you all so much. I value all of the friendships I have made within our organization and hope that it continues. Good luck to everyone in their future endeavors. "It is here that we measure each day with new pleasure, our friendships outlasting out college hood days." L&L, Kates (2001 president)

A Message From
President Brian M. Barefoot ‘66
Dear Members of the Class of 2002:

Congratulations! You should be proud as individuals and as a class for all that you have accomplished during your years at Babson. Your contributions to the Babson community -- in academics, athletics, artistic pursuits, and many other aspects of campus life -- have made this a better place for students who will follow you.

As you read through the pages of The Babsonian, you will relive many of the highlights of the past four years. You will find that your experiences at Babson, in and out of the classroom, and the friends you have made here, have helped prepare you for the next stage in your life. From my own experience as a Babson alumnus, you will be surprised at how important these memories will be for you in the years to come.

Congratulations again on your achievements. I want to wish you all the best of luck in your future pursuits. Stay in touch with Babson and come back often. I look forward to seeing you on campus as active alumni.

Best regards,

Brian M. Barefoot ‘66, P’01

Where did the time go? It seems just yesterday that you were a baby in our arms, and now you’re graduating from college... a wonderful future ahead of you.
We are so proud of you. You have worked hard, participated in so much, and most of all have given
so much of yourself to everything you have done.
You are beautiful inside and out, and the most important thing is your loving heart. You are always willing to reach out and make people around you feel appreciated and loved. That quality will take you far in life. Thanks for all the wonderful memories you have given us. We love you always...

Mom, Dad, and Sitty
Congratulations Lindy
You are the best!

Love,
Your Family and Friends

Ashley (Princess),
You have been a joy since the day you were born and have made all of us so very proud. You have become an incredible young woman and have shown love and strength in so many ways.
I wish you much love, happiness and success in the future. Remember that knowledge is power. So continue to learn and grow, and never forget to do the very best you can at all times.
I love you!!
Mom

Hooray I graduated!

Congratulations Heather
We always knew you could make it!!

Love,
Dad and Mom
Seth —

It seems like such a short time ago that we dropped you off at Babson, all insecure and worried that you wouldn’t be able to do it. Look how far you’ve come! You not only “did it”, you did it so incredibly well! That same dedicated work ethic and sheer determination to succeed that got you through Babson will also carry you through anything and everything else you strive to accomplish in your life. You never gave up, and that attitude will continue to serve you well. You are such a wonderful man Seth – we couldn’t possibly be more proud of you!

Congratulations!  Mum and Dad

Congratulations to the Class of 2002!

Holly and Mindy,
Thanks for all your dedication and hard work!

The Babsonian Yearbook Staff

Some day when we all reminisce,
We’ll say there wasn’t much we missed.
And through the tears we’ll smile when we recall.
We had it all, we’re Sigma Kappa.

Dear Our 2002 Seniors.
You have filled our days with laughter and love.
And you will always hold a special place in our hearts.
Love,
Your Sisters of Sigma Kappa
Dear Carmen:
As you walk into a new stage in your life, you must feel proud of your achievements. You will remember these college years as “the best time” in your life: not only because of your academic and professional accomplishments but also because of the wonderful friends you made, the relationships you built, the trips you took, the disappointments you had, the challenges you overcame, the real learning from your professors, the love you gave and the love given to you.
We, your family, are proud of you. You bring us joy and satisfaction.
We love you too!
Tere, Frank, Denise and Frank Jr.

May 2002
dear B.C.,

There are so many things we want for you, so many wishes in our hearts as We watch you grow into your own life.

We wish you a world of adventure and experience, and also the serenity that comes from listening to your inner voice as the world rushes around you.

We wish you the strength to face challenges with confidence, along with the wisdom to choose your battles carefully.

We wish you the satisfaction of seeing your goals achieved and also the true contentment that comes from simple things –

Work well-done,
Friends well-loved,
Moments caught and cherished.

Our greatest wish is that you will always remember how much you are loved, for you are a good and caring person; always remember how proud we are of you for all of your accomplishments, both great and small; and always remember no matter where life takes us, we carry our love and pride for you in our hearts today and forever.
Good Luck to the graduates of 2002!

The staff at the Sorenson Center for the Arts.

Congratulations to the Class of 2002!
Best Wishes,
The Office of Undergraduate Admissions

A Special Thanks to Student Employees from the Student Employment Office

Your hard work and effort has been greatly appreciated. It is our hope that the work experience you gained in your time at Babson College proves valuable as you venture out into the real world. We wish you all the best in the future.

Congratulations!

A Message from Dave Garvey

I’ve made some excellent friends and met some very interesting people during my time at Babson College. Naturally, I am excited about keeping in touch.

Business opportunities are always interesting to me, but this message is based on a very different purpose. During my time at Babson I have been available to help students and friends with various personal issues. These issues include individuals’ fears, and problems with alcohol and substance abuse. Devoting my time to helping others has been a great joy for me. The purpose of this message is to let all my friends and all my classmates know that I am still committed to being available in such a capacity, even after I have left Babson. Anyone wanting help or just looking to talk can feel free to contact me whenever the time seems right. Below are a few ways that I can be reached.

· By email at dgarvey@babson.edu.

· By going to my website, www.davegarvey.com, you should find my most current contact information.

· Babson College’s Alumni Relations Division should also have my most current contact information.

I wish you all the very best in your endeavors and all the success that you deserve. And if you feel the need to call me, please do not hesitate.

Very best regards:

Dave Garvey

William, Congratulations on one of the many milestones in your life! We are so proud of you!!!

and

Congratulations to the Babson Class of 2002!

Love, Mom, Dad, Sara, Allison, Melissa
(and the rest of the gang)
David,
You have brought such joy and love into our lives. We are very proud of you! With your focus and determination, you have accomplished so much. You are truly special. Always remember, we love you. May all your dreams come true!
Love,
Mom, Dad, Bami and Bampi

May you always have...enough success to make you proud, enough trials to keep you strong, enough luck to make you smile at life, enough work to challenge, enough of all of life’s treasures to keep you truly happy. Always remember you have the love of your family who has watched you grow from brother to brother-in-law to “Uncle Dave.”
Love,
