Our Girl at Babson

"When I walked into Accounting to pay my bill, the secretary greeted me by saying, "Oh...you're the one." Until then, I thought that it was unusual for a girl to attend Babson. I had never crossed my mind. Needless to say, at first I was bit shocked, but everybody has been very nice to me during my first week here," stated Caroly Levowsky, the first female ever enrolled in the Graduate Day School of Babson Institute.

A Question of Involvement

A college newspaper justifies its existence in at least two important ways: (1) it serves the student body as a medium of communication and a forum for discussion, and (2) it presents a basis of activities which can absorb the energies of a diversified group of students. In the case of The EXECUTIVE, neither of these goals has heretofore been properly met.

Upperclassmen may recall the turbulent issues surrounding the dismissal last spring by the Student Government of the entire EXECUTIVE staff. At that time, the so-called "parody issue," now buried in infancy, brought to a climax a host of deepening problems that were characteristic of shoddy and irresponsible journalism.

A new charter has since been adopted for the newspaper, taking ultimate control out of the hands of Student Government and placing it under the auspices of an Advisory Committee. The five member group is composed of the President of the Student Government, the Editor of The EXECUTIVE, the Director of Student Activities, a Faculty Advisor to the paper, and a selected student. This move in itself has solved much of the conflict that had developed over responsibility and control of the paper.

During the first week of the new school term, an election was held to fill the paper's administrative and staff positions. The current issue marks this small group's first organized effort in publication.

It is apparent, therefore, that a number of significant steps have been taken by a handful of students, faculty, and administrative members in order to accomplish the first goal of the paper: proper service to the student body.

All but a handful of truly GOOD newspaper depends heavily upon the second goal as stated above: contribution of a large and diversified audience. Students and people of good will have past efforts to produce a worthwhile EXECUTIVE. A small stable is unable to carry the entire burden. More help is desperately needed, in all areas to give the paper a resurgence.

Is Babson overpopulated with anti-intellectual, apathetic boors? Or, is the problem of non-involvement to be traced to the Babson "cool?"

The answer perhaps is both left unanswered, but the remedy really rests among the student themselves. The quality of their newspaper is at their command.

We're Human Too!

Last week an editorial was published in this paper to the effect that we were dissatisfied with the protection that our cars are being given in the Campus parking lot. Yesterday, our campus police notified us that our own offices have been left unlocked no less than ten times in two weeks. It seems that we may have been a bit hasty with our accusations and should possibly have cleaned our own house before looking for dirt in someone else's.

By chance last week, my brother arrived in Boston looking for a free meal. Not being able to escape the situation, we tried to get him a job, and fate would have it, we hit upon a gold mine. Le Bourgoin is a French Restaurant located on Berkeley Street and Commonweath Avenue, just down the block from Brooks and Homit Teller. Entering, one is anything but impressed with the decor. Sooner or later immediately indicate that you're in for a great meal. The hostess said, "Merci!" after everything she did, a dying sign of good French service. My meal consisted of onion soup covered with string cheese, Beef Bourguignon, the specialty of the house, with rice, unusual potato dumplings, and fresh broccoli, with chocolate mouse and a demitasse for dessert. My brother had the same, except for the main course which was a pound-and-a-half veal with a red wine sauce. The bill turned out to be $9.00, surprisingly low for a meal such as that we had. So, if you're in the vicinity, don't pass it by.

All those who view "Eater Laughing" at the Chari are sure to exit crying, crying from the upsurging laughter produced by this movie, put together by Carl D. Collier. The film borders on the slapstick, which it is attempting to be the majority of the time. Han Stoinski plays the son of a Jewish(?) family who tries to battle his way into show business. He falls into the hands of Marlowe and his daughter, Christine, played superbly by Jose Ferrer and Elaine May, respectively, and nothing but bad luck occurs from then on. Other excellent performances are provided by Elisha Cook, Jack Gilford, and David Cappa. The laughter episode alone is worth the price of admission.

Two things that are common in the movie world are "Cameos," starring Richard Harris and Vanessa Redgrave, and the original production of "Come With The Wind," with Clark Gable. The former takes place on the Seton Theatre on November 1st; the latter on the 16th.

Delta Sig

(Delta Sig continued from page 1) the individual, having an interest in one of these aspects, can obtain fulfillment and self-satisfaction without divorcing himself from the whole. Secondly, a fraternity provides the opportunity to develop leadership qualities where you can best practice it amongst friends. Third, there can be little doubt, as is evidenced by the participation of fraternalists in school activities, that they supply the majority of the school spirit. Lastly, fraternity association can provide you with future contacts upon graduation. Sometime, it can mean the difference.

Question: What is the best way for Babus men to meet girls from your school?
Sue Peterson, Junior, Regis: For a boy from Babus, a good way to meet a Regis girl is to have a friend who knows someone here. We're having a mixer sometime in October, so why not come over and see.

Laurie Kauters, Senior, Lasell: The best way to meet a Lasell girl is to get "dised" through a friend. Another good way is to go to parties, even on a climb day, which if it doesn't work out, will at least let you meet some other girls. Then of course, if you're good-looking and own a car, you could try riding up and down Woodland Avenue.

Gina Jonas, Senior, Lasell: Usually Babus guys come over to Lasell and play football or have snowball fights, or something like that, and if the girls are interested, they'll come out and pay too. The miners are a good way to get to know people, but only in the early part of the year, for soon all the worth while girls are taken. Also, you could try calling the dorms and asking for a date. This often works, but not always.

Student takes Regional Karate Championship
Bruce Adler, a senior at Babson Institute, won the black belt division of the Oechl Ryu Karate Tournament in Manchester, New Hampshire. Contestants came from all the states in New England, and used their unique skills to make this tournament one of the best of the year.

It took Bruce four matches to win the crown, and not only was he undefeated, but he also was unbeaten. He won the final match with a powerful side-kick in his opponent's chest. From this impressive victory, Bruce intends to enter the national tournament at the National Center in February.

Bruce has been studying Oechl Ryu Karate for almost two years under the guidance of Walter Mathon, who took second place in the black belt division of the tournament, Walter teaches at Huntington Academy in Natick, and was the National Champion of 1967. Anyone interested in studying this interesting and exciting martial art should contact Bruce, in Park Manor 5110, or call 235-2817.

TIME

The longest word in the language?

By letter count, the longest word may be pneumonoultramicrosilicovolcanoconiosis, a rare lung disease. You won’t find it in Webster’s New World Dictionary, College Edition. But you will find more useful information about words than in any other desk dictionary.

Take the word time. In addition to its verbal meaning, it is an illustration showing how long a second, minute, and hour are. It tells you how long a day and a year are, and about the sun. The sun is a way to know about time.

Dictionary is approved and used by more than 1000 commercial operators. Isn’t it time you owned one? Only $4.95 for 1762 pages: $6.85 thumb-indexed.

(EDITOR’S NOTE—WORLD’S received just prior to press time that BARSTON lost their first scrimmage of the season to COLBY COLLEGE 0-2. A DETAILED ACCOUNT OF THE GAME WILL BE INCLUDED IN NEXT ISSUE.)

The 1967 Babson soccer team appears to be a hustling, high-spirited, aggressive squad. The team consists of a strong nucleus of returning lettermen as well as a few freshman prospects. The Beavers are led by co-captains Elliot Colthill and Mike Bundy, who have constantly shown their aggressive playing during the past two scrimmages. Coach Bob Hart- well is in his first year and has made a strong play and definitely states that the vio-lous record can only improve over last year’s.

was also stressed by Coach Hartwell that a good soccer program must be based upon strong student support as well as good players.

The soccer team had two exhibited games, one with the Cambridge School of West End and the other with Worcester Poly-tech Institute. In the first match against Cambridge School a controlled scrimmage by obtaining two goals and blanking their opponent with a strong defense. In the second game, the Beavers played W.P.I. which has a very strong and experienced team. The play was fast and furious with Babson continually on the defensive, but the team stayed together and managed several offenses against their opponents. On the offense, Elliot Colthill led the attack with John Kiefer and Terry Reinke adding his name to the right and left wings, respectively. Mike Bundy, Pete Dyer, and Chris Jones held up well and essentially thwarted W.P.I.'s offensive.

Steve Kroll, Babson’s goalie, was tremendous and made all of his watchful eyes and good hands that kept the score tied 1-1. In that and all scrimmages Babson showed signs of well-balanced ball handling and head-up play, however, they lack experience. Coach Hartwell hopes to overcome this inexperience by drilling the team in technique and inter-squad scrimmages.

The team faces a tough schedule this year, and many of their opponents are strongly manned by veterans. Nevertheless, the Beavers have shown their desire to win by giving their best throughout the first few games. T here is now ample strength from the dugout.

Coach Hartwell is looking forward to an interesting season of soccer, with a team that is as much as any, one of Babson’s best in many years.

OPEN MEETING OF BECC

There will be a meeting of the Babson Sports Car Club on Monday, October second, in the Social Hall of Park Manor at 7:00. This meeting is open to all those who wish to attend. Ownership of a sports car is not a requirement for membership in the club.

Some of the activities of the club include the viewing of movies, lecture sessions with officers of the Sports Car Club of America, preparation of the gymnasium, and trips to such places as Thompson Raceway and Lime Rock.

Commenting on the school and its students, Carolyn stated, “I find the quality of the students much higher than at the University of Massachusetts. One reason is the fact that they are much more specific in their educational goals and the attainments they gain. The classes are a bit larger than I imagined they would be, but the faculty is just great.”

When asked about the possibilities of women attending Babson Institute, she replied that she expects to see more women enrolled in the Grad-
