On The Horizon

Since the early days of Roger Babson and his Babson Institute, the Clipper Ship has been an integral part of Babson tradition. It was with this in mind that the 2000 Babsonian Yearbook staff chose the theme On The Horizon. This theme can have many different interpretations, but one of them is, for every one of us, whatever may be next in our lives is on the horizon.

It may be just beyond sight, but like that place where the water meets the sky, it is there, waiting. These things, coupled with Roger W. Babson’s nautical roots, made On The Horizon a fitting theme for this momentous year in the history of Babson College. For it is this year that commemorates 80 years of life at Babson, 30 years of a coeducational institution, and the first class to graduate under the new curriculum. There are many changes soon to come as well. The opening of the Olin School of Engineering, and a new Undergraduate Program facility are just a few of them.

In the book we have tried to look at some of the changes that have taken place over the years, as Babson has grown and changed.
Whether it is as the Team Leader of the Office of Class Deans, Teaching an FYE class, or spending time helping students with academic registration, Karen Kus always goes above and beyond what is expected. Known to many students and colleagues simply as ‘Kus,’ Karen always has something nice to say, and a question about how things are going in your life.

It doesn’t matter if you are one the students she is assigned as a Class Dean, Karen makes an effort to know as many students as possible, on a personal level. This effort allows her to greet people warmly as she passes them in the Reynolds Campus Center, or to help students pick classes and focus their Babson experience around something they are passionate about.

It is for these reasons, as well as her genuine enthusiasm for Babson and all the members of this community, that the 2000 Babsonian Staff would like to recognize Karen and dedicate the 2000 yearbook to her. Kus, thank you for everything!
This year Babson College celebrates its 80th anniversary. This section of the book has been created so that we can look back to see how our campus has evolved over the years.

The facade of our school changes everyday, as we all know by the dust settling on our cars because of the construction. This changing facade is captured within these pages.

Even the gate (above right) has moved from Wellesley Avenue to our current college gate (right) on Forest Street.

Tomasso Hall, originally the Sir Isaac Newton Library has also seen change and renovation. Tomasso Hall has come a long way from ground breaking to what we now know it to be.
Coleman Hall, named for the second President of Babson College, George Coleman, was built in the early 1920’s. It has served our country as a naval training facility, as a museum, the former location of the Pub, and now as a beautifully renovated residence hall. The Babson Globe located behind Coleman Hall serves as a reminder of the history that has surrounded this building.

Hollister Hall has also seen much change since the mid 1990’s. We all remember driving past Hollister as it was under renovation and seeing a crane knock off have of the facade. We now walk through the halls to make convenient visits to Health Services or the Center for Career Development. Having been transformed from a giant box on our campus, Hollister Hall is now a beautiful centerpiece on the corner of College Drive and Map Hill Road.

Years
Over the past 80 years, we have seen changes in the way we get around on campus. These pictures show us that we started out on the primitive side by traveling in horse and cart. (above) We can compare and contrast this cart to the boxy car that our founder, Roger Babson, poses in front of. (right)

These days are long in the past, now some of us lock up our mountain bikes outside campus buildings and others retreat to the back of Trim lot with our luxury vehicles.

At one point in our residence lives at Babson, we have probably resided in the area we call the Quad. We have participated in many activities such as the activities carnival, snowball fights, drive-in movies, Spring Weekend events, and we'll never forget the great Trim BBQs. The Quad has not really changed in over 40 years and it leaves us wondering if we will ever complete the area with a fourth building to make it become a 'real' Quad.
The most recent additions to our campus has been the Reynold's Campus Center, Sorenson Center for the Arts, and the Glibain Family Chapel. These buildings together now make up the center of life at Babson.

In addition, we have seen numerous renovations of both technology and classrooms. The most recent example of this is in Gerber Hall. Shut down for the summer of 1999, Gerber Hall received a $1 million facelift.
The class of 2000 has shown throughout the year that they know how to have a good time. Seniors can be seen socializing over a few cold ones on any given night at Roger's Pub, and they showed the city of Boston their stuff at the 2000 hours to graduation countdown party at the Rackin-Faneuil Hall. These events have given seniors the opportunity to enjoy their last year at Babson and to share fun times together.

The Class of 2000
Jordan Mandel  Peer Mentor
Lloyd Harbor, NY Sigma Phi Epsilon

With concentrations in Marketing, Management and Asian Studies, Jordan is from Lloyd Harbor, New York. During his 4 years at Babson, he has been involved in the Class of 2000 Steering Committee, Babson Marketing Association, Hillel, Student Ambassador-Connection Program, Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, Peer Mentor and is a Retired Boxing Team Member. Jordan’s aspiration is creating a REIT under the Investment Property/Property Management Firm he will begin upon graduation.

Jordan believes that the best thing about Babson is the great diversity among the student population that has allowed for amazing experiences and close friendships to develop that have remained over the four years. He says, “It is a great feeling to know you have a friend on the other side of the world.”

Jordan believes that he has had an impact on the Babson community because, “whether it be a CEO speaking to the Babson Marketing Association or running the Class of 2000 Boston Marathon Barbecue, each activity I have been involved in has given to various sectors of the Babson community, that is why I have remained involved, knowing that what I, or anyone else does outside of the classroom, makes an impact upon not only myself but those that work to make Babson ‘our’ community.”

Helping him throughout his time at Babson, Jordan feels that Professor Dr. Tom Sullivan has been an amazing influence. Having that nonbusiness view he has been able to help him to develop inner strength encompassing respect and love for not only himself but his community. This is something that can easily be overlooked in business. “I thank him for allowing me to delve into that integral part of developing that well-rounded member of society.”

Ryan’s concentrations are MIS and Finance. He is from Southampton, MA, and at Babson he has been involved in Soccer, as a Resident Assistant and as an Admission Intern. Outside interests include Climbing, Skiing, Hiking, camping. He dreams of one day climbing Mt. Everest.

Ryan’s favorite thing about Babson is the interest that the faculty takes in their students. He also believes that being an RA has been the activity that he feels has had the greatest impact on the Babson community. “By being a member of this team I feel that I have been given the opportunity to help shape our community into what it really is.”

There are two staff members that Ryan feels have made a difference in his time at Babson. The first is no longer here and the second has done a great job helping him get to graduation. The first is Gerri Randlett, “she helped me through the transfer process and put me in to position to graduate with the class of 2000.” When she left Chris Merlo took over and picked up right where Gerri left off. “Chris’ optimism about getting out of here has time sometimes outweighed my own. Without these two people, I would not have been able to graduate as a member of the class of 2000!”

Jessica Burtt
Nashua, NH
The Babson Free Press Communications & Management Peer Writing Consultant

Hailing from Nashua, NH, Jessica concentrated in communications and management. During her four years at Babson, Jessica worked closely with the media organizations on campus, including being Editor-in-Chief of The Babson Free Press, working with The Babsonian Yearbook, Babson College Radio and The Babson Journal. She is also a Peer Writing Consultant at The Writing Center. In addition, she helped start a new organization, The Babson Student Media Council.

She said, "Being a part of an organization like The Free Press has been a phenomenal experience. I will always remember the people I met and the opportunities I had."

Her greatest aspiration is to learn to relax! She hopes to continue working with media organizations, travel and never stop dreaming.

Jessica believes the best thing about Babson are the friends and memories she has made and hopes that her time at The Babson Free Press had an impact on the entire community.

Although Jessica feels that she has made several strong relationships with the faculty and staff that have helped her make it through her four years, the most influential relationship was with Media Advisor and Associate Director of Campus Life Laura De Veau.

"Laura's dedication and humor really helped me get through some tough times and I cannot thank him enough nor will I ever forget her," said Jessica.

Luke Glass
Chester, West Virginia
Cardinal Key MRC Tutor

Luke has concentrations in Finance and Investments. He is from Chester, West Virginia. In his time at Babson, Luke has been involved in many activities, including Babson Boxing, Cardinal Key National Honor Society, Resident Assistant, and as a Math Resource Center Tutor.

One of Luke's greatest aspirations is to always be happy, no matter the circumstances. When asked what activity he is involved in that has the greatest impact on the Babson community, Luke responded that he believes it is Resident Assistant Condom Distribution.

The staff member at Babson who has had the greatest impact on Luke is Karen Kus because "she talked me into staying at Babson."
Curran Leahy

Hopkinton, MA
J-Board
Blue Key National Honor Society

Currie has concentrations in MIS and Law, and calls Hopkinton, MA home. While at Babson, she has been actively involved in Varsity Softball, as a Peer Mentor, in Dance Ensemble, as J-Board Chair, and as Blue Key National Honor Society President.

One of Currie’s goals is to “give all I can of myself to friends and family, to love my job, and to see the world!” She feels that the best thing about Babson is the people she was given the opportunity to meet, work, and have fun with.

She believes that one of the ways her activities have impacted the Babson community is through her work with the Judicial Board. The activities of the judicial board impact the Babson community significantly. “We act as the voice of the community regarding academic dishonesty and other violations of the college policy. Our decisions, and the way they are received by the community, impact the integrity of the Babson name.”

During her time at Babson, Currie feels that two staff members have had a special impact on her life, and they are Gerri Randlett and Paula Termini.

Ashley M. Nelson

Kappa Kappa Gamma
North Andover, MA
Steering Committee
Board of Trustees

Ashley has concentrations in Management and Entrepreneurial Studies. She is from North Andover, MA.

While at Babson, she has been involved in many extracurricular activities, including: Kappa Kappa Gamma, Steering Committee for the Class of 2000, being a Peer Mentor, serving on the Board of Trustees (PR/Marketing Committee), and as a Work-Study in the Office of Undergraduate Programs.

Her greatest dream or aspiration is to be eternally happy, have a family, die with no regrets, and “to give back to my father and brother as much as they have given to me.”

Ashley thinks the best thing about Babson is knowing that she has made lifelong friends here, “who, no matter where we end up, will always share our memories of the past and dreams of the future together.”

She feels that of her activities, being a Peer Mentor has had the greatest impact on the Babson community. She says, “We, as a group, have the opportunity to make a lasting impression on the first-year students and give back to Babson at the same time. The enthusiasm of the group is something that is unmatched at Babson and I have been lucky to have been a part of it all.”

If there is a faculty or staff member that Ashley feels has made a difference in her time at Babson, it is The Office of Class Deans, past and present. “It has been a pleasure to work with the administration in that office over the past four years. Their efforts to make life at Babson better for the students will not be forgotten.”
Campus Activities

Babson College boasts a large number of activities on campus each ear, and students take advantage of these activities to kick back and have a great time with their friends.

Whether si is the Midnight Breakfast, Spring Weekend or Founder’s Day, there is always something new and exciting to do on campus. The following pages highlight some of the most fun and exciting events of the 1999-2000 academic year.

On The Horizon
Orientation

Orientation is the first experience that a student has at Babson. For the Class of 2003, orientation was not just a time to move in, get used to new surroundings and share a room with someone for the first time. Orientation was a chance to get to know new people, attend a Red Sox game, Playfair, a Boston Harbor Cruise, and a number of different events. This year’s orientation was no different as students from all over the world moved on campus for the first time and prepared for the start of their college careers.
The midnight breakfast is a longstanding Babson Tradition. During Finals week of Fall semester, the faculty and administration take the initiative to make a midnight breakfast for the students and serve it up in Trim Dining Hall. This is one of the favorite activities of the semester and gives faculty a chance to interact with students on a more personal level.
Founder’s Day is a celebration of the spirit of entrepreneurship that Roger Babson was known for. This year there were four outstanding Entrepreneurs recognized: George Hatsopolous, Robert Annunziata, Patricia Gallup and Pleasant Rowland. The afternoon program gave these accomplished people the chance to tell Babson students about their experiences.
The Founder’s Day evening program brings the induction of the selected entrepreneurs into Babson’s Academy of Distinguished Entrepreneurs. This formal event is held in Staake Gymnasium, and attended by students, alumni and other community members.
The conclusion of winter weekend is always the Snowball. This semiformal dance is always quite well attended and is looked forward to as the first major event of the spring semester.
The Reynolds Campus Center brought a new focus of Campus Activities when it opened in the fall of 1997. Now many activities are held in the building, including study breaks during finals week, meals and meetings. The Campus Center has become a focal point in the community.
Family Weekend 1999 was attended by record numbers of families, and among the many activities were President Higdon’s State of the College Address, and the always anticipated Casino Night at Trim Dining Hall. Among the blackjack tables, the Babson Dance Ensemble gave a performance for the students and parents in attendance. The Babson Players also put on their fall performance, Biloxi Blues during Family Weekend.
Underclassmen

The Classes of 2001, 2002 and 2003 spend their academic year making progress through the new curriculum. In addition to their academic pursuits, the underclassmen participated in athletic events, and all other aspects of campus life. In addition, many underclassmen have distinguished themselves as heads of student organizations, as peer mentors, and as resident assistants.

On The Horizon
Freshman year is a year of firsts. The first FME class, the first semester of college, the first Spring Weekend, the first time hanging out at Roger's Pub. All these firsts combine to make the experience a unique and interesting one. Life at Babson becomes routine at some point in this year of first experiences.
Sophomore year at Babson brings with it the beginning of the Intermediate Management Core, as well as a feeling of comfort and security in the Babson community. As students begin their second academic year, they know what is expected and what to expect. They are also ready to meet the challenge.
A parent (above right) watches intensely for the winning number as the roulette wheel spins. Two CAB students (above) work the tables in Trim Dining Hall as blackjack dealers. Many families (right) gather together at the end of Casino Night to watch a performance by The Babson Dance Ensemble and to await the raffle drawing to see if they hold the winning ticket.

One of the highlights of Family Weekend is the Campus Activities Board's (CAB) Casino Night. During this event, family and friends can cap the weekend off with a roll of the dice. Other activities during the weekend included sporting events, the Babson Players' fall show, "Biloxi Blues," and a chance for families to experience Life at Babson.
Academics

As the groundbreaking class of the "new" curriculum, the Class of 2000 has utilized faculty, staff and administrators both in and out of the classroom to help us to cope and succeed when faced with this challenge. So often, Babson students build close relationships with Babson's employees. It is no wonder that when some leave us, it becomes a powerful and emotional experience. This year, we have seen some very familiar faces move on, Dean Connie Bosse, one of the architects of the new curriculum; Class Dean and co-advisor of the Class of 2000 Donna Shea; Assistant Dean of Students Karen Kus and Professor Charles Rotman are amongst some of the more visible people on campus that said good-bye to Babson this year. This section is dedicated to those faces that help us to meet the Babson challenge and succeed.

On The Horizon
Academics 2000
Dawna Travis Dewire, Lecturer
BS, MS in Computer Science; MBA

As the outgoing coordinator of the FME program, Professor Dewire has truly enjoyed getting to know the students and interacting with them throughout their four years at Babson and beyond. Besides being an enthusiastic member of the faculty/staff ensemble that performs with the Dance Ensemble each year, one of her favorite events is the Midnight Breakfast.

Professor Dewire has two sons and a husband at home where she enjoys reading, skiing, gardening. As a message to the class of 2000, Professor Dewire says, “Life is a journey. Thanks for sharing one leg of our journey with us!”

Joseph Stewart Ward, Assistant Professor of Management
Associates Degree in Business; MBA; Juris Doctor

After a successful career in the military as a Captain in the US Air Force and later as a business leader at such companies as Nabisco, Colgate-Palmolive, Quaker Oats and Dunkin’ Donuts, Professor Ward started his “second career” at Babson in 1994. “My seven years at Babson has made me extremely optimistic about the ambition and character of our young people who will lead us in the years ahead.”

“College teaching has given me the opportunity to work with a group of people who are dedicated to challenging our young people to think – analytically, creatively and with passion about their contribution to the world in which we live.”
Woody Lappen
Gourmet Bean Supervisor

Associates Degree in General Business

Woody is a fixture behind the counter at the Gourmet Bean in the Reynolds Campus Center, but in his 16 years at Babson College, he has held supervisory positions in four different Sodexho Marriott locations. “I’ve enjoyed working here for years. The students are fun, and the staff is friendly,” says Woody.

Woody loves to travel and one of his favorite places to visit are lighthouses. A huge sports fan, Woody is an avid Boston sports fan (he loves to talk about the games behind the counter), and is often seen at the Webster Center playing a pick-up basketball game.

Jason Pina
Associate Director of Campus Life

BS, Economics; MA Educational Leadership; Ed.S. Educational Leadership and Policy Studies

In his three years at Babson College, Jason has taken on the responsibility of advising CAB, Greek Life and ALANA Programs. He organizes many cultural programs and teaches an FYE class (where he’s famous for fining his students for missing class).

As a live-in staff member, Jason’s daughter, Kayla and wife, Shai are often seen out and about on campus. At home, Jason lives in front of the television, either playing video games, watching videos or his beloved New England Patriots. When he ventures outside, Jason is an avid golfer.

He enjoys working with great people at Babson College and seeing students grow through their time here.
Francis X. “Skip” Connolly
Dean of Detergents
Low PH; Magna Cumma Super Trash Baggie MAB

As a 12 year veteran at Babson, Skip has “held many chairs, also, tables, mops and brooms.” His sense of humor and great attitude has made him a favorite face on campus. He has also been a regular contributor to the Babson Free Press.

He spends his time away from the “kids” and faculty by enjoying life in the Berkshire Mountains fishing.

Charles B. Rotman
Professor of Psychology

Dr. Rotman has taught at Northeastern University and Lesley College. He was a psychologist for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, director of counseling at the Chandler School, and a counseling psychologist at the Bedford Veterans’ Administration Hospital. Dr. Rotman is a licensed psychologist in Massachusetts. His presentations and publications focus on human development, mental health/illness, and the administration/management of organized residential camping.

In addition to those accomplishments, Professor Rotman has been a member of the Babson community for decades, and the Babsonian staff wishes him well in his retirement.

On The Horizon
For a team that went 6-10-2 a year ago and entered this season with 10 first-years on its roster, the men’s soccer team exceeded all expectations by turning in a stellar 1999 campaign. Led by an experienced defense and an exciting young offense, the Beavers went 11-6-1 in the regular season, including 5-1 in conference, to earn the number-one seed in the New England Women’s and Men’s Athletic Conference (NEWMAC) Tournament. Although Babson was upset in double overtime by Clark in the semifinals, Coach John Anderson’s squad looks to be one of the top teams in New England for the next several years.

A powerful defense was the key for the Beavers all season, as senior captain Stephen Briggs led a talented group of athletes from both the back and midfield positions. Along with fellow senior Michael Trudell, Briggs helped his team record eight shutouts this season while allowing just 1.33 goals per contest. The leadership and experience exhibited by both men helped bolster the play of several younger backfield players, including first-year Addison Marsh and sophomore Jay McManamon. Also solidifying Babson’s defense this fall were goalkeepers Nick Todd and Bryan Butkin, who each saw significant time in net.

After a painful 7-11 season last year, field hockey coach Laurie Magoon's goal after returning to Babson after a ten year hiatus was to get her team back above the .500 mark for the first time since 1994. With a huge 4-0 blowout victory on October 23 against WPI, who at that time was the top-ranked team in the NEWMAC, Magoon’s squad did just that, finishing the regular season with a record of 10-8 before falling in the quarterfinals of the conference tournament to Wellesley. With six of their losses coming by margins of two goals or less, the young Beavers appear to be capable of even greater things in the years to come.

Leading the way for Babson this season was junior Brooke Dusoe (South Dartmouth, Mass.), who rocketed the NEWMAC by storm after transferring from Division I Holy Cross earlier this fall. A 5-9 forward with blazing speed and excellent ball-handling skills, Dusoe led her team and the conference with 14 goals and 10 assists for 34 points, including five goals and seven assists in NEWMAC play. Senior co-captains Michelle Guinan (Billerica, Mass.) and Briana Paciorek (Hatfield, Mass.) anchored a solid defense that gave up just 1.84 goals per game.

On The Horizon

Coming off a horrid 4-21 season in 1998, the women’s volleyball entered this fall in desperate need of stronger contributions from all of its players, veteran and rookies alike. That’s exactly what happened for Scott Blanchard’s squad, and even though the Beavers still had a tough time against their powerful in-conference opponents, they did manage to more than double their win total from a year ago, going 10-20 overall.

Leading the way for Babson was the team’s lone senior, co-captain Katelin Anderson. The six-foot middlehitter paced the squad with a .225 hitting percentage and 60 total blocks on her way to being chosen to the New England Women’s Volleyball Association (NEWVA) Senior All-Star Classic. She also paced second the team with a career-high 54 service aces. Her experience and leadership helped bolster a hitting core that featured young stars Alyson Yablonskie and Abigail Fabiaschi. Yablonskie, a 5-8 first-year, led the Beavers with 293 digs tied for the team lead with 59 aces, and ranked second on the team with 245 kills and a .197 hitting percentage. Fabiaschi recorded a team-high 246 kills while tallying 247 digs and 33 aces.

The Babson College ice hockey team didn’t catch many breaks over the course of the 1999-20 season, but despite their 7-17-1 record, the young Beavers certainly appear to be headed in the right direction. Thanks to the strong contributions of ten first-years and five sophomores, Bab played excellent hockey over the final month of the season, and nearly upset the nation’s best team in ECAC East playoffs.

Although it may not have been reflected in their team’s final record, several veteran Beavers turned in excellent performances in 1999-2000. Defenseman and co-captain Glen McLachlan (Franklin Lenoir, N.J.), the team’s lone senior, finished his remarkable career with his best offensive season, scoring two goals and dishing out seven assists. For the fourth straight year, he played in every one of his team’s contests, giving him a streak of 100 consecutive games played in his collegiate career.

(ECAC East Quarterfinals)
On The Horizon

After losing the school’s first-ever NCAA qualifier to graduation last spring, the Babson College alpine ski team faced a rebuilding year in 1999-2000. Despite having just two seniors, head coach Jim Castrataro’s squad still managed to perform well, getting several strong contributions from its younger skiers on their way to an eighth-place finish in the Osbourne Division.

The women’s team was led by sophomore sensation Anna Erickson (Edina, Minn.), who recorded Babson’s top finish in all 10 races this winter. Veterans Verley and Woody both turned in solid seasons, while Troxell recorded the first top-30 finish of her career when she placed 28th in the slalom at Ascutney. Meyers just missed cracking the top 50 on several different occasions, and was the only women’s skier other than Erickson to finish all 10 races.

While the sophomore class on the men’s team continued to get stronger, junior co-captain Bo Whooley (Pittsburgh, Penn.) also turned in a solid season. Whooley, who began the 1998 season as the team’s number eight skier, finished the winter racing third behind Wittnebert and Robbins. He and fellow co-captain Jeff Atwater (East Longmeadow, Mass.) will both return next winter to lead a promising group to what should be a break-out season.

Skiing
After losing six players from last year's squad the Babson College women's basketball program used valuable contributions from every player on its roster to record yet another successful season under head coach Judy Blinston. The Beavers finished the regular season in first-place in the NEWMAC with a record of 8-1 in conference and 11-9 overall, and then advanced to the semifinals of the NEWMAC Tournament before losing a 70-67 nail-biter to Clark. Babson then received a bid to the ECAC Tournament, but fell to Trinity College by a score of 66-53.

Babson struggled a bit in January, losing six of nine to fall to 10-8. However, the Beavers caught fire once NEWMAC competition began, thanks in large part to senior tri-captain Kaitlin Conroy. After serving as a role player during her first two seasons, Conroy emerged as the leader of this year's squad, both on and off the court. Her inspired play down the stretch guided the young Beavers to several key wins, including a huge 47-43 victory over nationally-ranked Wellesley College that gave Babson first-place in the conference. The 5-9 forward finished fourth on the team in scoring with a career-high 6.7 points per game and led the squad with 5.3 rebounds per contest to earn NEWMAC All-conference honors for the first time in her career.

The 1999-2000 season was a difficult one for the Babson College men's basketball team, which finished under .500 for the first time in 12 years. However, despite their growing pains, the young Beavers continued to work hard and gain experience that should help turn things around in the near future.

After winning two of three games to start the season, Babson suffered a key loss when sophomore guard Evan Carlson (Weston, Mass.), last year's second-leading scorer, went down with an injury. Although the Beavers went on to lose their next five games, Carlson's absence did provide one of his fellow sophomores, Brian McCarthy, with an opportunity to shine.

With two of its losses coming in overtime, and four others by four points or less, head coach Stephen Brennan remained cautiously optimistic about his team's experiences this season and what they could mean down the road. "Our biggest problem this year was our lack of a consistent scorer behind Brian (McCarthy)," Brennan explains. "And a big reason for that was our inexperience. However, our four seniors were excellent role models for the younger guys and really helped us establish a strong work ethic, both on and off the court."

Despite a final record of 6-7, the women's team turned in a strong season behind first-year sensation Stacey Bowers (Wayland, N.Y.). Bowers smashed three individual school records during her rookie season, including the 50, 100 and 200 backstroke events. She was also a member of the record-setting 200 freestyle and the 200 medley relay teams. She was joined by junior Ashley Clark, sophomore Sabrina Peterson, and first-year Christina Miller in the 200 freestyle, and Clark, Peterson and first-year Nicole Mendenhall in the 200 medley. Individually, Peterson also added a record-setting performance in the 50 freestyle event.

With so many first- and second-year athletes already establishing themselves as some of the top swimmers in the program, the Beavers will look to perform even better in 2000-2001. Although the competition will continue to be tough, head coach Rick Echlov is confident that his teams will be able to challenge for the conference championship. "I was very impressed at how quickly our younger swimmers developed this season," Echlov says. "I thought the juniors and seniors really did a great job of leading our team and helping the younger people develop a strong work ethic. Hopefully, the Beavers will make some noise with the top teams in the NEWMAC."

Women's Swimming and Diving
Aimed with a wealth of young talent, the Babson College women’s and men’s swimming and diving teams broke a total of 14 school records in 1999-2000. Among their many individual accomplishments, the Beavers had one swimmer qualify for the NCAA Championships and another become Babson’s first ever New England Champion.

The men’s team followed up a solid 9-4 regular season with a fourth-place finish at the NEWMAC Championships and then swam even better at the New England Championships at Bowdoin College on February 12. At the three-day New Englands, sophomore Mike Boys, sophomore Ramon Lopez, and first-year Rich Chute each broke multiple school records in the individual events, while Boys and Lopez joined senior co-captain Mike Murphy and first-year William Edwards on the record-breaking 200 medley relay team. Chute set new Babson marks in the 1650 and 500 freestyle races, while Boys broke records in the 50 backstroke and the 50 fly. Boys also became the first New England champion in Babson swimming history when he took first-place and set a new school record in the 100 individual medley. Finally, Lopez not only set new school marks in the 50 and 100 freestyle, but he also qualified for nationals in both events.

After going 12-23 and missing the post-season for the first time in four years last spring, the 2000 Babson College baseball team used a powerful offense and a talented young pitching staff to once again become one of the top teams in New England. The Beavers picked up impressive wins over regional powerhouses Bridgewater State, Suffolk and Wesleyan on their way to an 18-18 record and a berth to the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) New England Tournament.

The Beavers’ potent offensive attack was led by the left-handed tandem of juniors Dave Millman and Patrick Current, Millman who were named to the New England Women’s and Men’s Athletic Conference (NEWMAC) All-Conference team and to the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) All-Star team.

Other key contributors for the Beavers this season were junior Mike Santora, who hit .336 with 22 RBI and a team high 41 runs scored, and first-year shortstop Kevin Higa, who batted .289 with five home runs and 24 RBI in his rookie campaign. First-year utility players Stephen Robb and Brian Tartufo each hit over .300 in their first collegiate seasons, while the senior trio of Gabe Camera, Scott Elliott and captain Zach Sorrells combined for 55 runs scored and 34 RBI.

Suffering through the most difficult season of any of the fall teams, the women’s tennis squad endured a tough time in 1999. Despite their 3-12 record overall, however, the Beavers did manage two dramatic conference victories, both coming at the expense of WPI. Babson edged the Engineers in the first match of the season by a score of 5-4, thanks to a three-set victory by first-year Kathleen Utech. The Beavers would then lose six straight matches before defeating Simmons on October 6 by a count of 6-3. Babson then lost its final four matches of the regular season, but still earned the right to host a preliminary-round matchup with WPI in the NEWMAC Championship Tournament. Despite some strategic lineup changes by the Engineers, the Beavers again prevailed by a score of 5-4, with senior Alexandra Hammar emerging as the hero. Playing an official match for the first time all season, Hammar recorded a straight-set victory at number six singles and an 8-4 win with teammate Fong Ng at number three doubles to give Babson the win. The Beavers then lost in the quarterfinals to top-seeded MIT, the eventual tournament champion.

Senior captain Julia Kelting remained the team’s top player, recording four victories in the number one singles slot and two victories with junior Cara Madill at number one doubles.

Despite being plagued by injuries throughout the season, the Babson men’s tennis team posted six wins in 2000, including three in the highly competitive New England Women’s and Men’s Athletic Conference. The Beavers narrowly missed earning the second seed in the conference tournament after losing to Springfield, 4-3, on the final day of the regular season. The Beavers then lost by a slim 4-3 margin to Coast Guard in the quarterfinals in yet another match determined by a tie-breaker.

Leading the way for Babson this spring was junior co-captain Jason Smith. Smith played all but one match this season at number one singles, amassing a record of 12-7 overall. He was named the NEWMAC Player of the Week on April 10 after lifting the Beavers to big wins over Bridgewater State and conference-rival Wheaton.

With only two players lost to graduation, Berrigan expects continued improvement in 2001. “It will be tough losing our two seniors,” he says, speaking of Aithal and fellow senior Sandeep Gambhir.

(NEWMAC Tournament)
Aftet losing the team’s top defense man and one of the nation’s best goalies to graduation, the Babson College men’s lacrosse team could have justifiably expected a defensive letdown in 2000. However, led by senior co-captain Brian Fitzgerald, the Beavers allowed just 7.77 goals per game on their way to a stellar 9-6 record.

In the final season of his outstanding four-year career, Fitzgerald turned in yet another strong campaign, earning NEWMAC and Pilgrim League Southeast All-Star honors. Fitzgerald was also named to the All-New England First Team by the United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association, and was nominated for national All-American honors. His defensive efforts helped the Beavers kill 55 of their opponents’ 74 man advantage opportunities for a 74.3 percentage.

Offensively, the Beavers were paced by juniors Mike Welch and Chris Darmon and also featured seniors Jason Pacor and Scott Hoffman, who combined for 29 goals and nine assists for 38 points in their final collegiate campaigns. Other key contributors to Babson’s success this year were senior co-captain Brad and first-year goalie Paul DeFina.

Coming into the 2000 season, the Babson College women’s lacrosse team faced a host of challenges. The Beavers were looking at one of the most competitive schedules in New England. In addition, Babson also had to deal with very limited playing experience, as 10 of the 17 players on its roster were first-years, including seven who had no previous lacrosse experience prior to this season. However, despite the team’s youth and rough schedule, the Beavers still managed to win six games and advance to the semifinals of the NEWMAC tournament.

Leading the charge for Babson was junior midfielder Laura Hayes. Hayes, who paced the Beavers with 58 goals and 62 total points, finished fourth in the conference in scoring, a category she led for most of the regular season. Her finest moment came on April 15, when she set a new Babson single-game record with 10 goals in a 16-10 victory over Division II Merrimack College. The effort also placed her in a tie for the top single-game goal-scoring performance among Division III teams in the nation this year. Hayes was named to the NEWMAC All-Conference team as well as the U.S. Lacrosse All-New England team.

Other key offensive players this spring were senior co-captains Katie Matthews and Katrina DiVirgilio.

The Babson Marketing Association is a campus organization that promotes a competitive and educational marketing experience to Babson College students. During the second semester, BMA went under extensive reconstruction beginning with a entirely new, and young, Executive Board. A group of first year and sophomore students took the reigns of this large club, and have begun to present its members with a more interactive and fulfilling experience. Changes include an association with the national marketing association Delta Epsilon Chi, which is the college division of DECA and the introduction of the BMA Council, which is a group of highly involved members that will help shape the organizations future.

Babson College Greek life promotes unity, community involvement, and philanthropy. The five Greek organizations on campus are Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sigma Kappa, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Theta Chi, each of which foster community ideals and participates actively in the Babson community. The Babson College Greek Council represents these five organizations which actually comprises thirteen percent of the student population. The purpose of Greek Council is to encourage unity between Greek organizations and the campus. Annual events sponsored by Greek Council include Greek Week and the back-to-school barbeque. The overall goal of Greek Council is to help students find a close knit group away from home that can be a source of support and guidance.

BLAF, or Babson Latin American Forum, was founded many years ago but was later abandoned. It was then reinstated last year, Spring ‘99, with a worthy goal; to provide unity among the members and increase the awareness of the Latin American community.

Our “club” participates in a range of activities. First, with the idea of increasing the awareness of business opportunities in South America, we try to bring in speakers that are leaders in Latin America. Furthermore, BLAF is also aware of some of the problems that our Latin American countries have, such as high levels of poverty, therefore on of our responsibilities is to raise funds to sponsor an orphan in Nicaragua, giving him/her a chance to have a better life.

But, the main focus of our club is the social aspect. On a regular basis, we have guest lists to clubs, had “pre-parties” as well as sponsored events such as Latin Fiesta Night at Trim and “Singled Out” at the Pub.

As for the future, we hope to continue these events and invite the Babson Community to join us.

On The Horizon

The longest running performing arts organization on campus returned to the stage for yet another year. The "Playahs" organize, produce and perform one show each semester. This year's performances included Neil Simon's "Biloxi Blues" over last fall's Family Weekend, and "Little Shop of Horrors" in the spring. Both shows drew great audiences, with "Biloxi Blues" having near sell out crowds for all three performances. The casts for each show were composed of students from all four class years. The 1999-2000 Executive Board members were President, Adam Koncicus '00; Vice President, Christine Hogan '01; Treasurer, Jim Page '01; and Secretary, Will Ballard '01.

BDE wowed their audiences this year with their productions “Entritroduction” and “BDE Live.” The performance troupe of 60 men and women work tirelessly each semester choreographing, creating costumes, and designing lighting. Their efforts culminate during the infamous TECH WEEK when they dance virtually non-stop for several days before the shows so their sold out audiences will not only be entertained but amazed. Graduating seniors, we will miss you but remember, you are a BDE member for life!

Bobson College Radio is the nation's first web-based college radio station. BCR is home to an eclectic mix of music, talk, and sports programming. Musical interests of the student body are reflected in the number of genres of music represented on BCR. The station broadcast 24 hours a day, 365 days a year on RealAudio and Webradio.com.

Recently, BCR has become a major source for information on campus, due in great part to the enthusiastic staff which completely redesigned the website, http://radio.babson.edu, based on campus expectations and needs. In addition, BCR's caliber of programming has skyrocketed, a tribute to the dedication and enthusiasm of our on-air personalities.

Many staff members do a weekly show in addition to other off-air interests in the station, whether they be promotions, advertising, DJ-ing, personnel management or record label relationship management, just to name a few.

A vast number of alumni, parents, and potential students listen to BCR as well as our on-campus audience. Heard live in Trim and Reynolds, BCR has quickly become an artistic activity for students, a source of on and off-campus information and news, and a forum for entertainment and friendship.

Seniors

The Class of 2000 spent their last two semesters at Babson amid a flurry of activity. There were class outings, that last student organizations carnival, nights at Roger’s Pub, and the culmination of four years with Senior Week. The week gave Seniors a chance to spend time together having fun, getting dressed up one night, then just relaxing the next. The events ranged from a trip into Boston for the Senior Ball to a night on Cape Cod. After their four years of work and play at Babson, the groundbreaking Class of 2000 will now move on to higher pursuits.

On The Horizon
June 2000

Dear Members of the Class of 2000:

My congratulations to all of you. The Class of 2000 set a remarkable record of achievement at Babson. Your contributions to campus life, your community involvement, and your academic, athletic, and artistic achievements set a high level for others to follow. I know that Babson College is a better place because of your commitment and your enthusiasm.

As you read through this issue of The Babsonian, I am sure you will be amazed at all that has happened over the past four years. I hope that these pages bring back many memories of your time at Babson, and that you hold on to these memories for many years to come. Your experiences at Babson, in the classroom and most importantly with the people here, have helped prepare you for the next stage of your life.

Congratulations again on your achievements. Good luck and stay involved with Babson. I look forward to seeing you back on campus as active alumni.

Sincerely,

Leo I. Higdon, Jr.

The class of 2000 kicked off their senior week festivities with a trip into Boston to visit three establishments in the Faneuil Hall area. Beginning at The Bell in Hand, moving on to The Purple Shamrock and finishing the night up at Coogan's Bluff, the soon to be graduates enjoyed their evening out and prepared to spend senior week in style!

The Class of 2000
A Night on Cape Cod

As if spending time in Boston wasn't enough fun, the Class of 2000 took their party on the road, with an overnight stay on Cape Cod. The seniors went down to Hyannis, and had dinner at the Hyannisport Brewing Company, danced the night away at a club called Pufferbellies, and spent the night at the Ramada. This adventure gave the seniors a chance to relax and marked the middle of the countdown week.

The Class of 2000
Senior Week 2000

The class of 2000 enjoyed many other events during senior week. These events included things such as the last pub night at Roger’s Pub, and a luau in Trim with a fabulous menu. The conclusion to the week’s festivities was The Last Party on the Hill on Friday night. The lousy weather didn’t stop the senior class from coming out in force one last time to celebrate four years of fun together.

The Class of 2000
The Senior Ball for the Class of 2000 was held at the Marriott Long Wharf in Boston on May 16, 2000. The black tie event featured a cocktail hour, a sit down dinner, and dancing to follow. The evening was a great success and everyone enjoyed the evening.
May 16, 2000
In continuation of the tradition of Senior week, Thursday afternoon celebrated the accomplishments of the members of the class of 2000. The Senior Awards Ceremony recognized community members who excelled academically, and those who were involved in many activities on campus.

To our beloved Japes:

CONGRATULATIONS AND MABUHAY!

As we partake with you the happiness and joy of graduation, we pause to praise the Lord Almighty for the blessings bestowed on you.

You have positively and marvelously grown, Japes. We are very proud of your accomplishments. We believe strongly in your talents and insight. Four years at Babson have indeed molded you into a bold, smart, well-rounded individual ready to conquer life's challenges ahead. Let your Babson experiences be a beacon in your life.

Your graduation is only a beginning to Life where the true measure is not the wealth you have accumulated but the quality of our service to mankind. Aim higher, nobler in your goals. Continue to inspire others. Fight your battles robustly and wisely for fortune favors courage and determination and vision.

God Luck and May God always be with you!

Dear Aimee,

When you started Kindergarten in your pretty pink dress, none of us could have imagined all of the adventures your school days would hold.

Through all the changes, you have set high standards and goals for yourself and met them all-in Rochester, Dallas, Houston, Punta Gorda and finally at Babson.

The focus and determination you’ve exhibited through the years will take you far in life. You are a shining star. Always there for family and friends like a beacon on the shore.

We are so proud of you!

Muchas Felicidades. Lo habéis conseguido!

Lo mayor que unos padres pueden decir a unos hijos que se han esforzado tanto como vosotros es que estamos muy orgullosos. Ahora esperamos que tengais mucha suerte en esta nueva etapa de vuestra vida que es más dura y difícil. Estamos seguros de que lo conseguiréis. Os queremos mucho.

Papa, Mama, Quillo y Sir Winston

Congratulations!

You are very talented young people and we know you will both accomplish whatever goals you set. The trick is to which goals to work toward and which to set aside. Remember, sometime God’s greatest gift is unanswered prayers.

Have fun and be happy.

WAY TO GO, SICA!
It seems like it was yesterday that I held you when you were a baby. But time has a way of slipping past us unnoticed. I closed my eyes for a moment, and opened them to find you grown.

I miss those days when you spoke your first words, took your first cautious steps, and love and caring were all you needed. Those were beautiful and precious times. But now I am finding your adult years are beautiful and precious, too. You are not only my child, you are my friend.

I never realized when you were a baby how close we would be today. I thought you would always be my baby, and in a way, you are. But as you have grown, so has my love for you.

You are sensitive and caring, loving and giving. You are a person whom people respect, as I do. I am so proud of you; please remember that. I guess what I am trying to say is that I am so thankful God blessed me with you, and I am so proud to be your mother.

Even if a day should go by when I don’t say “I love you…” May never a moment go by without you knowing I do.

Mummy
From the start of this yearbook adventure, there have been so many people that have done so much to help me, and the rest of the Babsonian Staff, so the first thing I need to do is thank them for allowing me to maintain my sanity throughout the last year and a half. So, My thanks go out to Laura DeVoe, the best advisor anyone could ask for; all the BSMC crew - Adam, Jess and Angelo... I'll never forget the ‘short’ meetings we used to have; Mom, Dad and Kate, for listening to me whine when things weren’t going well and for always being there when I needed you; to my Sigma Kappa Sisters, I never could have made it at Babson without you, and especially to Mandy, G, Mo, Jax, Carolyn and Vanessa... you have all been the best!

I would like to thank the 2000 Babsonian staff for all your hard work and amazing help. This book wouldn’t be a reality without you. This book also wouldn’t be a reality without the support of so many other members of the Babson College Community: Carol Hacker, Tim Mann, The Athletics Department, Mike Pugatch, Karen Kus, Chris Merlo, Allison Chase-Padula, Connie Bosse, Dawna Dewire, the Staff of the Babson Free Press and President Higdon.

So, as this year has drawn to a close, I can’t believe all the remarkable memories that I will carry with me as I leave Babson: meetings, BSMC blimp excitement, trips to the ‘Bone’, girl talk with Adam, Pub nights, deadlines, darkroom fun, LA, vacations, hanging out in the Sigma Tower, Knight Parties, Freshman Year in PMN and Trish and I in the tiniest double on campus, dinner at G’s, Saturday morning in Trim, The Kells, The Purple Shamrock on Thursday nights, and of course, Senior Week!

I wish the best of Luck to the 2001 Babsonian Yearbook Staff, and especially Heather Webster... I have every confidence that you guys will put together a fantastic book!

To my friends, and the class of 2000, I wish you every happiness and opportunity. Take care of yourselves.
