Heralded Class Enters Babson College

DJ SCHEPKER
EXECUTIVE EDITOR

The class of 2005, one of the most heralded in history, has entered Babson with 402 deposited freshmen. This year’s admissions process shuddered, resembling previous records, with 327 applicants, up from 2858 last year. This meant that only 35 percent of applicants were accepted. As recently as 1996, Babson was accepting 60 percent, and in 1992, Babson admitted 77 percent of its applicants.

"We're very proud of the class that is entering this year at Babson. Not only are they smart, but they're curious, talented, and interesting. It is going to be fun to have them on campus. While we all know that Babson will challenge them in ways they never thought imaginable, also they will challenge this class in ways they might have never thought possible." stated Monica Inzer, dean of undergraduate admissions and financial aid.

The class of 2005 has seen some of the most remarkable changes in Babson’s offerings this year. You come to Babson with something new.

A Welcome from The President of SGA

BRANDT BRANAND
SGA PRESIDENT

Hay everyone! Congratulations and welcome again to Babson! As I said in my speech at the opening ceremonies, the best advice I can give a new student on this campus is to get involved in Babson activities. Try any and all activities and organizations that sound interesting to you and then select the ones that you like the best.

Even the effort you devote to trying ones that you don't select will be beneficial, as you will end up getting to know what this campus has to offer as well as make lots of friends in many different groups. This is one of the unique assets of life at Babson. Here you have an incredible opportunity to meet not just people from outside

A Guide To Off-Campus Dining

Sometimes, you just don’t feel like eating in campus food service. For some reason, you just don’t want a cafeteria to fill you up and you feel like something more, well, like food.

Babson/Wellesley area presents a number of options for students looking to taste something more gourmet. Here are a few of the options that will be open to you for most of the next 4 years.

Domino’s 235-0200

Open until 4 am on Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, Domino’s quickly becomes the late-night food-ordering haven for Babson students. With a wide selection of the ever-essential cheap pizza commodity, Domino’s caters to the needs of many.

The prices are low, the speed is reasonable, and the late-night delivery makes this the most likely of your regular eating options.

Nick’s Pizza 235-9494

Nick’s offers a wide variety of foods with quick service. The pizza is not quite as good as Domino’s, but the rest of the food is some of the best in the area. Nick’s delivers to Babson up until around 11 pm, usually 7 days a week. They offer a menu with subs and grinders, calzones, pastas, and pizza, of course.

If you want good starters, such as mozzarella sticks and chicken strips, Nick’s provides a wonderful option. The food, as a whole, beats Domno’s, but waits can often seen unbearable.

Dragon Chef 449-4440

The Dragon Chef provides some of the best and most affordable Chinese food in the area. It’s open in Needham every day until 1:00 A.M. with a large variety and better than average food portions. For those who are looking for quality Chinese food, the Dragon Chef vastly surpasses its local competitors. For under $8.00, you can get a full three-course meal.
Off-Campus Dining Opportunities Abundant

dinner special with rice, an appetizer, and your choice of entrée. It’s certainly quite a deal for the average college student scrounging up change.
The storefront can be found in Needham by Roche Brother’s and McDonalds.
Vinny Testa’s 508-665-8787

Once specializing in extremely large portions, Vinny Testa’s now focuses on more quality Italian food. Vinny Testa’s has always had great Italian foods, but its portions are what have made it delectable to Babson students. A lot of food at a small price has kept many going back.
If you find a way to shov el
some dessert in your mouth, try the Chocolate Bomba. It’s certain to drive everyone
crazy.
Vinny’s is on Route 9 next to Chukey Cheese, about 10 minutes from campus.
White Mountain Creamery

serve some of the best ice cream around, period. With a number of choices always linning the freezers, the creamery provides a wide variety of frozen treats for their customers.
Its daily homemade treats
include flavors like cookie dough, chocolate mouse, and pizza calda. It is sure to satisfy your sweet tooth anytime you are having a craving for non-Trim, actual dairy, ice cream.
White Mountain Creamery

is known for Washington Street (route 16) in Downtown
Wellesley.
Paparrazzi 235-4747

An upscale Italian restaur-
tant located just off route 16, Paparrazzi provides excellent food, if you are willing to fork over a bit of money. The veal parmesan is excellent.
I would recommend saving
this for a night where you really need a good meal and you do not care about spending the extra money. It is certainly worth every penny, but Domino’s can satisfy your tastes just as well.

If your parents are in town,
Paparrazzi’s is one of the better choices in the area, if you can’t get into the Blue Ginger.
Vidalia’s Truck Stop 431-0001

Good service and a quick sit-down dinner highlight this theme diner right on Washington Street in Wellesley.
The food is always good and the menu provides great variety. If you want quick and good, at an affordable price, Vidalia’s is usually a reliable option.
You can get everything from a hamburger and a milkshake
to pasta and a beer.

These are just an example of some of the local options for food. By no means have I exhausted the list of possible choices. But as you go on, you’ll slowly discover the places you like and you will keep going back for more.
Trim certainly will not always provide the most delectable food items, so be on the lookout for another food safe hav en.

developing skills, revolving door room, a film developing room and print drying racks. The lab will be used for photography classes, though any experienced student may use the lab during open studio hours.
The 2-D studio, equipped with 30 tilt-top drawing desks and swivel stools, while primarily being used for drawing and painting classes, will also serve as a classroom for a variety of liberal arts classes.
The Sorenson Visual Arts Center
includes a studio for the artist-in-residence, Boston area artist and instructor Frances Hamilton will teach 2-D and 3-D art course and offers several workshops in the fall and spring semesters. Hamilton will also create a body of her personal work while in residence and will post open studio hours when students can drop in.
The spacious studios are enhanced by new windows that bring in more natural light, sparkling new floors, new heating and ventilation, and an inviting new Map Hill Road entrance across from the Student Union.
The hallways and lounge areas will function as an art gallery to exhibit student art and a place to relax and socialize.
The new center is part of a new project at Babson to further students’ opportunities for personal skill development and creative expression through visual arts. According to Harsh, this position is essential to effective communication, marketing, teamwork, leadership and general
life-skills.
Students can also use these facilities to relieve stress, to increase their knowledge of the arts, to create digital art and computer graphics, to design websites for student businesses, to create and maintain electronic portfolios and to create original, attention-getting, business plan presentations.

Facilities Management
Solving Power Problems

We have isolated the short circuit
and power has already been restored to Gill Hall and the Webster Athetic Center.
The short circuit is the result of two faulty direct buried cable feeding
the transformer that services Malloy and Knight. We are arranging to provide an emergency generator to reenergize Knight and Malloy while we replace the cables to the transformer.
We will attempt to have the emergency generator on campus and operational sometime this evening so that events scheduled at Knight this weekend will not be impacted. Since the cables are buried directly in the ground, the replacement of the cables will take a number of days and will involve excavation with heavy equipment. This process will begin on Monday and y

It's Time to Become Part of a Community

ANTHONY J. MICALE III
Editor-In-Chief

Going away to college is an extremely disturbing event in your life. I don't mean to say that it is not enjoyable, but leaving the world that one has built for themselves over a period of around 18 years and starting over, alone, certainly has its ups and downs. What is one to do?

Starting over at college is something you have chosen to do, so making the best out of the situation is probably a good idea.

One important thing to do is to concentrate on making bonds and connections with people and interests that suit you. The worst thing about going to school is probably the feeling that you are 'alone.' The only way to combat this is to become a part of the new environment you are in; you must gain a sense of community.

Utilize Resources to the Greatest Extent

JONATHAN LEE
Business and Technology Editor

First of all, I would like to welcome all members of the class of 2002 to Babson College. This institution will challenge your mind and help you acquire the skills necessary to succeed in the business world.

As you embark on a new journey you may face challenges. Here at Babson we have resources that can help you achieve your goals and dreams. As you may have heard already, The Princeton Review rated the faculty number one and they will be a great resource for you. They are easily accessible and are experts at their fields of study.

If you are ever struggling with math, go to the math resource center for help. They have numerous tutors that are willing to help anyone having trouble with homework or projects. The MRC staff are very friendly and will do their best to answer your questions.

Here at Babson we have resources that can help you achieve your goals and dreams.

Similarly, there is the writing center if you ever have a difficult time coming up with a thesis for your paper. The writing center staff will work with you and even proofread your essays before you have to submit them to your professors.

Babson is a very technologically advanced institution. You will have many software programs throughout your career at Babson College, especially for your freshman year. And to make sure you understand the new programs you will work with this year, you have foundation computer lab, better known as FCL. The FCL instructors are very knowledgeable about the programs they teach and will help you learn Microsoft Excel and Access.

Besides the academic reasons, Babson offers plenty of other support as well. When you are feeling depressed or stressed out about an exam, you can go to the health office and set an appointment with a psychologist. Every student at Babson is entitled to 10 free sessions of counseling.

If you need someone to help you get to know the college a little better, call your peer mentors. They are a very friendly group of individuals who love the freshmen class. They arrived early on campus to receive training just so that they can help you guys feel at home.

Lastly, if you have any questions about campus policy, housing, etcetera, go speak to your Resident Assistant (RA). As an RA, I can assure you that we will do our very best to answer any questions you have. Go talk to your RA today, I am sure he or she will be very glad to get to know you better.

Here at Babson, we like to think of this place as a community. I call this place my home. I spend more time on campus than I do anywhere else. Get involved. Join an organization and use all the resources that are provided for you. You will soon learn that most of your learning will occur outside the class.

Welcome to Babson!

Time Management Should Be Priority Number One

worry. That's normal.

The hardest part about adjusting to college life is learning what to do with your free time. While the lure of late nights and friends may be strong for some, making sure you are ready for every day should be the number one priority.

If you figure out what work to do, when to do it, and how you work best, you will get along just fine.

Babson has never hesitated to throw a rigorous schedule at its students, but every single person can easily manage. There are several important things to remember about staying on top of your duties.

The first is not to overwhelm yourself. As you adjust, take on more responsibilities and responsibilities. Make sure you can handle the basic responsibilities before taking on a job that you can't handle. Your schoolwork should come first, or you might not end up in beautiful Babson Park for another semester.

The second tactic is to stay on top of your work. Use the afternoons you have, especially on the weekends, to take care of business. This way, if you want to go out at night or watch a movie, you have nothing holding you back. Trying to stay a day ahead of your work isn't always a bad idea, either. This can make sure that if anything unexpected happens it can be prepared.

A third tip is to find a place where you can be alone. The television and stereo can be a great distraction. Hallways can also be loud. Additionally, many students don't work well in their own rooms. Thus, it's always a good idea to find a place where you can go that is quiet and does not provide distractions. Many students use the library or other campus facilities.

Finally, keep track of what work you have. Don't walk until the last minute to start a presentation or an essay. Professors can usually see right through slappy, last minute work. Knowing what you have to do when and making sure that everything is evenly spread out. College provides enough stress as it is, don't create your own.

The toughest part of college is that your mind is focusing on why you got here. When you can easily be a part of your weekly routine, there is no reason it has to come before any part of your studies.

New School Year Launches Businesses

JONATHAN LEE
BUSINESS AND TECHNOLOGY REPORTER

True to their reputation as the most innovative entrepreneurs in the country, Babson students are starting new ventures on campus with the beginning of a new year. Three more businesses, J.A.C Computer Accessories, College Cleaners, Inc., and Dorn Supply, have been added to the list of student-operated businesses.

The founders of J.A.C Computer Accessories (Jonathan, Adam, and Corey) are all sophomores who decided to take advantage of the freshmen laptop program. The founders felt that there would be demand for speakers since the laptops this year come with a built-in DVD player.

They also decided to sell headsets with microphones, as they might be popular among students making long-distance phone calls on the internet. J.A.C also sells surge protectors, extension cords, and ergonomic mice. J.A.C boasts that it will provide the Babson students with the best deals claiming: "If you don't think we have the best deal in town then you don't know J.A.C!" Calling x 5755 can place orders and the products will be delivered to your door free of charge.

College Cleaners, Inc. offers laundry service to the Babson community with a variety of options to the students at various costs. College Cleaners will wash, dry, and fold laundry. The College Cleaners can be seen at the Reynolds Campus Center.

The third new business, Dorn Supply, is being operated by a group of students in the new Entrepreneurial Tower in Van Winkle. This E-Tower company offers products such as cinder blocks, heavy plastic coat hangers, a 52-pack of bottle water, and printer paper. This business can be reached by calling x 6602 or via e-mailing etower@babson.edu.

As you walk through your dorms or the Reynolds Campus Center, look for the above businesses and show your support for some aspiring entrepreneurs.

First year students at the Foundation Assessment Program enjoy the opportunity to fraternalize with their future classmates at a time before they actually came to Babson.

your state, but country as well. The diversity of our campus will enrich your social and student life; seek out the possibilities. As for being overwhelmed, never be afraid to ask for help. Your mentor will be one of your best contacts, but as I mentioned, your dean and each of your professors will be there for you as well. Our community is another one of the unique assets of Babson. If you ever need my input or perspective, my door at Piets 31 is always open to you, or feel free to call me at 415-34.

With all the resources made available to you, do not hesitate to take advantage of all that Babson has to offer. Have fun and call home!

in with an average SAT score of 1546, a 602 in verbal and 644 in math. Last year's freshman, comparatively, had an average score of 1213. This only proves the increasing reputation of the college.

41 percent of the incoming class is women, up from 35 percent just two years ago. Slightly more than 8 percent of the class comes from a multi-cultural background, expanding Babson's reputation as a multicultural institution. You come from 35 states and 29 countries. You are members of an increasing global society, which is bringing everyone closer together. 30 percent of the incoming first year students are from outside the United States and fifty percent are from outside New England. Babson is slowly growing to encompass people from everywhere.

"The credit, though, goes to the long tradition of excellence Babson has worked hard to enjoy," Inzer stated. "The success of our alumni, the quality of our family, and the strength of our programs speak volumes to the opportunities that exist here."

Additionally, the freshman class has 38 presidential scholars, as opposed to 33 in last year's class. There are 24 incoming members of the women's leadership program, up from 16 last year.

The class of 2000 is poised to continue the rich academic tradition at Babson. Over the last decade Babson has climbed to number 21 in the US News and World Report rankings of the top business schools. This past spring Babson's MBA program was listed as the number 1 program under the radar. As the company's worldwide exposure continues to increase, so do the quality of the applicants. "I guess our reputation is finally catching up with reality and the competitiveness for admission is beginning to reflect that," Inzer continued.
