Campus Construction Initiatives Make Mark for '99

Construction Begins On Olin Engineering School

JESSICA BURTT
Assistant Editor

There were numerous changes to the campus this summer including the commencement of the Olin Engineering School construction, which involved moving parking out of the lower Coleman lot and moving the band of Map Hill Drive, and the addition of a third way stop sign at the intersection of Map Hill Drive and College Drive.

Olin Construction

The lower Coleman lot is being sold to the Olin Engineering School and with it the 95 parking spaces. The real estate deal involves Babson selling 70 acres of land, all within Needham and it is expected to be complete in early July. According to Frances Drollet, Babson’s Director of Collaborative Strategies.

Drelette added, “Olin was entirely committed to working with Babson to find a solution to the parking problem.”

The temporary solution was to move the islands from Trim lot and add parking spaces.

According to Ray McKearney, Chief of Public Safety, overall, “we actually gained a few parking spaces.”

McKearney is now co-chair, with Pamela Goldberg, of a committee that will study the parking situation. The committee is especially interested in “increasing parking for the Center for Executive Education and for the overall campus,” said McKearney. He also mentioned that further expansion of the underground garage is planned.

The class of ’99 received their diplomas and Robert Markus received the Professor of the Year award on May 15, 1999.

Professor Markus described this achievement as a “moving and pleasant surprise.” He said that he was very humble about the award and the distinction. This fall will be the sixth year that Markus will have been teaching at Babson.

Professor Markus received his undergraduate degree from Johns Hopkins in Biochemistry. After graduation he became a nuclear officer and served in the Korean War. When his tour of duty ended he attended Harvard Business School. He then went on to work for a pharmaceutical company. It was at this time that he began his teaching career.

Recent changes in ITSD are far reaching and pertinent to the entire Babson College community. Changes affect graduate students, undergraduate students, faculty, staff, and administration.

The changes have come with little explanation, leaving students wondering why so many changes are being made.

The most pertinent change is the addition of a new systems staff member to the newly named “Babson ITSD.”

Babson College at an institution supports Microsoft Outlook Express 4.0, a program, which comes as a part of Internet Explorer 4.0.

Researchers who wish to move important messages from the “old” email system must forward messages immediately by sending them through Globenet online, http://globenett.babson.edu, using the syntax “f=USER_NAME@mail@babson.edu,” replacing “username” with your Babson username.

New to Outlook Express 4.0 and for all information relating to the E-mail migration, visit the E-mail campus site.

Dean Starts New Programs

CAROL HACKER
DEAN OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

Welcome back to what I hope will be an outstanding year for you and all of us at Babson. We have had a busy summer on campus with the addition of new staff, new programs, new events being planned for the year, and of course preparing for Orientation 1999.

I want to highlight a few programs we will have on campus over the course of the year.

Two new and exciting offerings this Fall are the newspapers and shuttle programs. Beginning Wednesday, September 1, The Boston Globe, The New York Times, and The Wall Street Journal will be available free of charge to undergraduate students. The papers will be delivered to eight residence halls along with sites in Trim Hall, the Reynolds

LEO HIGDON
PRESIDENT OF BABSON

To New and Returning Students in the Babson Community:

I would like to extend a warm welcome to our new and returning students. I hope all of you had an enjoyable and relaxing summer, and are ready for the new academic year.

The beginning of the year is always an exciting time. We have first-year students getting adjusted to the new world of college life, transfer students introducing themselves to a new college campus, while returning students get reacquainted with friends they may or may not have seen over the summer.

Before you know it, you’ll be busy with classes, and the many other activities that make for a fulfilling college life. I hope you enjoy the year, and make it a productive and memorable one.

In the days and weeks ahead, I look forward to meeting and getting to know our new students, and to seeing our returning students again. I wish you all much success.

TIM MANN AND CAROL HACKER
DIRECTOR OF CAMPUS LIFE AND DEAN OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

We hope each of you enjoyed a memorable and fun summer and were able to catch up with your family and friends. Our team has been very busy this summer planning for the start of yet another year.

With some staff turnover, we have taken advantage of a great opportunity to fine tune our focus on two major student groups, Student Media and Greek Life. In addition, we have aligned ourselves better to support the development of Bobson’s community.

She has been working very hard all summer with leaders of the media groups in preparation for the year. These groups include The Babson Free Press, Babson College Radio, Babsonian and The Babson Journal.

Greek Life: The new advisor is Jason Pava, Associate Director for Campus Life. Jason has been busy reaching out to all the Greek leaders, preparing for fall recruitment, and coordinating targeted training sessions for Greek student leaders.

He has also spent some time reorganizing the council room in Keith Hall to provide a better space to ensure it will be utilized in developing the Greek Life program. Jason brings with him his experience from the University of Northern Colorado as the advisor to the Greyhounds Greek Life organization.

Campus Scheduling: We are pleased to announce that we have recently hired Colleen Hermann as our new scheduling coordinator. She will be assuming the role of Scheduling Coordinator at Babson College. She will also be working closely with the Campus Life team to ensure that students have access to the resources they need to be successful.

These changes and additions will help you to enjoy not only a more productive year as a student, but also a safer and healthier one!

Highlighted here: New coaches and assistant coaches have arrived at the various sports teams. This fall will see new and returning faces on the field and court.

Laurie Magoun has returned to Babson to head our Women’s Field Hockey and Lacrosse teams. This is a return engagement for Coach Magoun who coached here from 2010-2013. She is excited to have her back. Nikki Dionne will join Coach Magoun as the Assistant Coach for Women’s Field Hockey.

The Women’s Tennis team will be led by Jim Berrianan. Coach Berrianan comes to us from Wentworth College. He is one of the new full-time softball coaches, who will be leading the Babson women’s softball team.

New administration staff has been added to the team, including a new director of Safety and Security, who will be overseeing the security of the campus.

The new director, Colleen Hermann, has been working closely with the Campus Life team to ensure that students have access to the resources they need to be successful.

These changes and additions will help you to enjoy not only a more productive year as a student, but also a safer and healthier one!

The Area Coordinators are: Laura Rasmussell (Forest & Publishers), Brian Ramsay (The Manor), Laine Horner (The Hill), and Betty Ostler (The Winkles & Coleman).

New staff and a police community have joined the Public Safety staff. The Sodexo-supported staff has been joined by new managers as well as some changes to the location. For more information, please visit the Public Safety website.

The new director of Safety and Security has also been added to the team, who will be overseeing the security of the campus.

These changes and additions will help you to enjoy not only a more productive year as a student, but also a safer and healthier one!

Trim lot might be a possibility in the future.

The other aspect of Olin construction involves moving the bend of Map Hill Road. The road needed to be moved for two reasons. First, the current road is part of the real estate deal. Second, there is a gas pipeline that needs to be moved. The pipeline is running directly under the site of future Olin buildings and needs to be moved before construction begins.

Last week many of the trees were removed from its front of Purney Hall to make way for the new road. According to Drollette, the "road is expected to be complete by September 24."

The new road should be slightly steeper than the current road. However, Public Safety is not expecting any problems beyond the normal safety issues with snow and ice.

"It's going to be better. It's a better road and wider," said McKeanney.

pharmaceutical industry. He was asked by the school's dean to become an adjunct professor. Markus declined the offer and continued to work for the pharmaceutical company. He was later asked by his VP of marketing to take the teaching job because it would give the company good publicity.

In addition to working in the corporate arena, Markus began teaching part time. He went on to teach at Wurttenberg and St. Joseph's. He also taught at other institutions. It was at this time that he decided that when he retired from the corporate world he would teach full time because of the love he had for teaching.

"I have a passion for teaching and interacting with students, I hope students have a passion to learn and be interactive." He moved to Wellesley where three of his four daughters were living and decided to teach at Babson. As a recent alum at Harvard, Markus was asked to speak to the members of his class.

Markus encouraged them to teach and give back instead of hitting golf balls and spending money. He also believes this job does not end in the classroom, but in supporting students in activities.

Many students taught by Markus built a close relationship with the professor. Hazel Clarence, '02, said, "Markus is one of the best teachers that I've had. He has accomplished so much in his lifetime."

Eugene Oh, '02, describes Markus as having a "real understanding of the students and an unanny ability for teaching; he leaves a lasting impression."

Maggie Garguva believes that "Professor Markus is great because he has a lot of experience and is always in a good mood."

Babson Named No. One in Entrepreneurship

Only New England Business School Among Top 5 for Entrepreneurship

PRESS RELEASE

COLLEGE MARKETING

For the third consecutive time, U.S. News & World Report has named Babson College number one in Entrepreneurship in the U.S., and among the top 50 best undergraduate business programs.

The rankings appear in its annual America's Best Colleges guidebook for the year 2000 and August 30 magazine issue, due on newsstands September 23; and on its web site August 20, at www.unw.com.

On page 59 of the guidebook, U.S. News names the top five programs in the U.S. for Entrepreneurship as: #1-Babson College; #2-University of Pennsylvania; #3-University of Southern California; #4-Boulder State University; and #5-Baylor University. Overall, Babson tied for 26th among the top 50 business programs (up from #32 in the last ranking in 1996).

This year's reputation survey included the 327 undergraduate business schools accredited by AACSB-The International Association for Management Education.

U.S. News asked deans and senior faculty to rate the academic quality of peer institutions.

Babson received the 1997 Pew Leadership Award for the Renewal of Undergraduate Education from the Pew Charitable Trusts, in recognition of its new model or cross-disciplinary learning in management and the liberal arts which the school introduced in 1993.

Babson is an independent business school that grants BS and MBA degrees and offers courses for faculty in executive education to experienced managers worldwide.

Student Affairs and Campus Life Show They Care about the Student Concerns

JESSICA BURTT
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

The Babson Free Press often takes on the role of check and balances for the college. We are often in the position of investigating wrongdoings and pinpointing mistakes made by different departments of the College. However, too often we forgot the other part of job: to highlight and commend the success of the College.

During the past summer, several of us, mostly the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of Campus Life, went out of their way to make a difference to the students of Babson.

Last year, Student Affairs, led by Dean Carol Hacker, conducted an extensive survey of student life and satisfaction. Although all of the results have not been released publicly yet, they immediately began responding to the needs of the students.

For example, the survey found that many students were unhappy with the selection and quality of the exercise equipment at Webster. Therefore, through the Dean Hacker’s fund raising and much of the athletic equipment was replaced. Then over the summer Dean Hacker and her team planned and instituted a Saturday shuttle service to allow students who have no access to campus to go into Downton Wellesley, Boston, or to the Natick mall and cinema. The office also made The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal and The Boston Globe free and available to students in dorms, as well as other places around campus.

The Office of Campus Life also made several advancements. For example, they raised money, then invested it in new furniture in several of the dorms.

This office also put out a new, more user-friendly and usable handbook and planner. The handbook contains information pertaining to almost every campus office and policies, but also offers a calendar and reference guides. Too often as students, and as a members of the media, we criticize too much and don’t commend enough.

However, after a few months, the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of Campus Life have demonstrated that they really are listening to and working for the students.

What I Love About FreePers

IRENA VERSKILBERG
BUSINESS MANAGER

Finally, I am back to smell the ink from the production printers get my fingers greasy from the newly published newspapers and see the people. I love those people. It's for them, I will forever like Babson.

I mean Babson is a good school. You see the huge amount of expensive cars, obnoxious faces in labeled outside clothes, and hear the word “stock market” so many times that you have nightmares due to the resonance of the echo of that word. But I still love people at The Babson Free Press. I also like it because I get free buffalo wings from Domino's every Wednesday and I can yell practically at everybody and nobody gets upset. They yell back, but who listens to them anyway. The best part of being a Free Presser is the singing at 4 A.M. in the morning. We have some suppressed feelings about each in the form of destroyed creativity by the JMC and FME. Oh, we sing as we never sung before. Yes, BABU came couple of times in the middle of the song and always the strange noise.

Love the Free Pressers. Some of them are nice, some are cute, some are annoying, some are Freaks, but we still get along. To be a Free Presser is where I learned about teamwork, inspiration, communication skills and what it means to have nice breasts along with the rest.

Portable B.S. in B.A.: Is It Hopeless?

ALEXANDER HANBY
CLASS OF 1998

So you are still here? If you are reading this and you probably are, you need a new plan. You are probably going to check out the limitless possibilities of B.S. that you will never have a chance to experience, you are going to come across the upcoming House of Rep- resentatives elections. You may be thinking that the place is expanding, new places and some of your horizons.

If you are like when someone complains about trivial issues and tries to make a point to prevent non-van-able residents from parking in the upper lot, then the Student Gov- ernment association (SGWA) is the place for you.

If you win election to the undistin- guished House, you will be afforded the opportunity to sit on not only boring meetings, but also unproductive, un- necessary. No wonder people are so busy. These days, the Executive Board would have to turn around and say “I'm sorry” to the student body if the budget was not approved. The money would have to turn around and say “I'm sorry” to the student body. They did not miss anybody, I could live a lifetime without seeing anybody from Babson. I hate the food, camp-you should drink cold beer in Harvard, MA.

Nobody works for Free Press for the money or the resume build up. We work for the people, and I write this for them.

Anyway, it should be my first editorial where I should welcome everybody back and tell them how I missed them and how wonderful it is. Honestly, it is a lie. I did not miss anybody, I could live a lifetime without seeing anybody from Babson, I hate the food, campus is the size of a house in Palm Beach, you already know everybody, half of them hate you, the other half does not click. So why the heck why I ever want to came again. I came back for the Free Press, and for the freshman.

Actually I was impressed with the freshman class, very cute faces, nice bottoms and lots of blouses. Oh, yeah that girl is hot. Keep it up, dear freshmen, don't become Babson Students, you know - actually go home.

Nobel Communications Corporate Newsletter

Volume 1, Issue 1
August 30, 1999

NobelComm Corporate News
A Nobel Communications spokesperson reported that predicted NobelCom revenues for the 1999-2000 fiscal year will be approximately 10 to 12 million dollars. Such numbers might seem high and unrealistic to the typical observer. However, several large corporate deals have exponentially increased the company’s sales volume.

Strategic alliances with Destiny Products, The International Game Fish Association, and ROM-MAN Software Distribution are expected to increase exposure from the limited market of Babson College to a national market of millions.

Within the next 3 months, Nobel Communications will be sending out direct mail to over 20,000 potential customers, launching a 6-station television advertising campaign in California, and sending out advertisements on hundreds of thousands of boxes of software nationwide.

Nobel Communications has formed international alliances with partners from around the world, including representatives from Bolivia, Brazil, Switzerland, Germany, Italy, Belgium, Poland, Pakistan, Thailand and India. Not only are such alliances crucial for carrier negotiations, but they are also very attractive to the company’s bottom line.

In association with Destiny Products, Nobel Communications is offered the opportunity for exclusive distribution of one of AT&T’s hottest products in the market. Nobel Communications management is still reviewing whether the 7 million dollar sales volume per month can be met. Future negotiations are scheduled for November since early talks have revealed that AT&T does not currently have the capacity for such a major calling card contract.

Destiny Products is one of the United States leading telecom calling card providers. Based in Fort Lauderdale, FL, Destiny Products was started in 1995. In the past year, Destiny Products shipped over 5 billion minutes worldwide.

The International Game Fish Association is one of the oldest and most respected non-profit organizations in the world. Based in Dania Beach, FL, the IGFA was founded in 1939 by Ernest Hemingway as an organization which supports good sportsmanship in angling. The IGFA currently has a membership of over 20,000 members in the United States, and over 30,000 members worldwide.

ROM-MAN Software Distribution is a Danvers, MA-based company specializing in the wholesale distribution of discontinued software titles. Founded in 1993, ROM-MAN has since expanded its warehouse space 7 times, and now ships over 1 million boxes of software per year.

WeCare ... A Healthy Welcome – A Healthy Start

BRUCE TOFIAS, MD
COLLEGE PHYSICIAN

It is hard to believe that the 1999-2000 year is up and running and the low hum of the summer Babson campus has revved up to a sustained purr. Thanks to the graduate students and the summer sessions along with the summer camps for keeping the campus outwardly bustling. There is significant activity behind the scenes by so many of our staff, administration and faculty. But our mission is education, so September brings the main academic commencement and an anticipated excitement and activity. Many of the fall sports teams are on campus finding out if the workouts of the summer can sustain them through the challenges of "preseason" training. Please remember sports need to be fun first! New incoming freshman and transfers arrived this weekend. Babson is "pumped."
Needless to say I am excited. The college athletes look great. Fit and ready to play. The campus looks beautiful despite an incredibly dry summer.

And yes the health center is launched and ready to be available for your needs. The health center roster is substantially the same. Eben Sherman looks forward to graciously greeting you. Nurse Tamara Miller, Heavey and Adams will expertly assist, triage and care for your health needs. Nurse practitioners Fagan, Sullivan and Mitchell cannot wait to get back to working with the students.

And of course, I, Dr. Bruce Tofias, relish the busyness of a bustling college campus and working with you, the students and this dedicated health team to meet your health and wellness concerns. Ian Wong continues to captain the ship and is committed to expanding the on campus venue of health education opportunities. The counseling service, HRS, with Sue Fahlend and her team are poised and ready. Our hours are the same with nurses available Monday through Friday from 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. The nurse practitioners are seeing patients 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. And I will have a MD clinic Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and am available on-call at all other times.

Please call ahead if you have a question so that we can see you at a convenient time and minimize any waiting. Certainly come by for urgent emergencies when they occur. In the after hours urgent care and advice is available through Campus Security (x5555) or through my private office (617-994-1840)

We also maintain an excellent relationship with a wonderful local hospital, Newton-Wellesley Hospital – a Partner's HealthCare partner. The emergency room and many subspecialists are available via our close working relationship.

Well there are the basics. My thoughts are tautened with excitement of a new year. My prayers are that it will be a healthy and productive one. I hope that we, students and staff, use the knowledge that we possess. I included "staff" but in my heart of hearts it is you that I pray hardest for.

This transitional phase of your life from adolescence to independent adulthood offers lots of challenges and opportunities. Grow with them in a safe way. Safe sex should you choose to be sexually active.

Appropriate, responsible alcohol consumption should you choose to drink. If drugs enter your world, know the facts. There are risks. Please use me as a medical resource. I will give you the unblamed facts in a confidential way. I want you healthy in mind, body and spirit.

Most importantly learn from life, from course work and have fun.

I hope to have a weekly column in The Babson Free Press, so if you have questions or an article that you think would be appropriate, let me know at tofiاس@babson.edu. Remember WeCare.

Babson Dance Ensemble
This year's student captivates its audience through all types of dancing numbers. In the past, students have performed tap, jazz, and swing numbers, along with pieces that focus on the movement of light and international dances such as the Flamenco and Merengue. The students take the initiative to design and choreograph all dance pieces that are performed.

They have set performances each semester in the Sorenson Center for the Performing Arts. Occasionally, they will perform at special events on campus such as Basically Babson Day and Parent's Weekend. The Ensemble is open to all students who have a desire to express themselves through dance and want to develop at all ability levels.

For more information please contact Anne Maria Capuzzo at x 4857.
The Fine Arts Society
The Fine Arts Society (FAS) has expanded considerably during this past year. It has acquired a studio located in the basement of Park Manor Central for students to express themselves artistically in any way they wish.

This studio will serve as a vehicle and give students the opportunity to express themselves as they will. Students will be able to work with a variety of mediums from oil paints to ceramics.

Members will also have access to a darkroom, the band room, and the band area in order to incorporate photography and music into their expression. There is also a new darkroom class offered which is equipped with a kit for students to make their own photos.

The work produced by the members will be shown in the Other Side Art Show, which takes place during the weekend.

DIERDRE WOODY

In the short yet inspiring film, Life After Del, Dan Kammer is not afraid to explore such subjects as culture, history, and education. In the past, many directors and screenwriters have been hesitant to touch on topics relating to the issues of our society's minorities. However, this film-jumper boldly and successfully grabs the attention of his audience through a combination of incorporating intriguing questions and light humor.

Life After Del is Kammer's graduate thesis project and a culmination of his Master's in Fine Arts. His concentration is cinematography and directing, both of which he was responsible for in Life After Del. Babson College provides him with the resources to develop his filmmaking techniques. He plans to work with other actors and is starting a Men's and Women's Acting group for those over 55 years old. He will also begin to shoot a pilot for a television show in the near future, titled Shooting At The Door.

Autobiography

Dan Kammer is the Media Director for Babson College, where he also teaches a winter session Creative Writing course on the topic of autobiography and creative nonfiction writing. He is currently working on a book about his grandmother. This black comedy was about a Greek grandmother who feeds all the men in her life well so that they all eventually die from love and heart disease.

With one more short film to go, Life After Del, Dan hopes to finish his first of several, detailing the life of a man called Shouting at the Door; a narrative about a young man who inherits a boat house, a boat, and community of senior citizens in Myers, Connecticut when his grandmother dies mysteriously one summer. (Co-written with Dan Sheehy, Professor of English)

Kammer is married to Mercy Kammer, a teacher and consultant for the visually impaired. Mercy is currently working for Perkins School for the Blind. The Kammers have a 2-year-old son named Benjamin, and are currently living in Framingham.

The Babson College Radio offers students a chance to try their hand at DJing or radio production. Visit radio.babson.edu or call General Manager Adam Berger at x 5245 for more information.

Babson C-Notes
This is a talented and interested group of students dedicated to celebrating the harmony of life through song. They perform throughout the semester in the Sorenson Center for the Performing Arts and at other events on campus.

For more information, please contact Laura Ferris or visit their table at the organizational carnival.

The Babsonian

The Babsonian is published bi-weekly. The Babson student staff is dedicated to providing information to the campus regarding our Babson community and the world around us. There are many facets of the organization and all are welcome to participate, whether it be through writing stories, reviewing movies, taking pictures, copy editing, or helping with layout.

The Arts section is designed to interact with readers, so they are able to actively participate in the selection and feel that the section is an accurate representation of themselves, their feelings, and their experiences.

In other words, The Arts section is a reflection of the talent and creativity of the Babson community, and is set up in order to help foster the growth of this relationship. If you are interested in participating in this collaboration, please contact Dierdre Woody at 444-3142 or The Babson College Radio offices at x 4429. All students are invited to participate.

The Babson Journal

Each semester this student-run organization publishes a literary and arts magazine, which highlights works done by the Babson community. They take submissions from undergraduates, graduates, faculty and staff to incorporate photographs, drawings, poems, short stories, essays, fiction and non-fiction into a delightful and effective publication.

If you would like to be involved, you can begin expressing yourself through any of the above means and keep an eye out for more information on the semester gets underway. For more information, please contact Angela Flamand at x 4484.

Vinny Testa

If you have an appetite of a lion the price is what Vinny's is known for. Go to Vinny's for dinner and have leaveovers for the entire week!

If you like seafood, try the solo lobster or the clams, you won't be disappointed. And if you dare to get more than $20, you can feed a family of four with plenty to take home. Vinny's is located on the west bound side of Route 9 in Natick, Massachusetts.

Kammer's is also finishing a screen play for Producer John Grillo called Shooting at the Door; a narrative piece about a young man who inherits a boat house, a boat, and community of senior citizens in Myers, Connecticut when his grandmother dies mysteriously one summer. (Co-written with Dan Sheehy, Professor of English)

Kammer is married to Mercy Kammer, a teacher and consultant for the visually impaired. Mercy is currently working for Perkins School for the Blind. The Kammers have a 2-year-old son named Benjamin, and are currently living in Framingham.

The best steak & cheese subs in town! If you are a chicken lover, try the chicken finger sub with cheese and sauce. Better than any other cheese sub on campus.

A large variety of subs, calzones, and pastas.

Maureen Fleming in After Eros

A stunningly beautiful multimedia per-dformance by Maureen Fleming, a lifelong student of the Butoh dance form created in the 1980s in Japan, and then set afire by the natural ho-locust disaster in Japan. Her performances feature text by David Henry Hwang and music by Philip Glass. Maureen Fleming did amazing things in After Eros. She transmogrified some of the natural disasters that had been so profitable for her.

Tickets available after November 29 in Reynolds Campus Center and at the door.

White Mountain Creamery
Homemade ice cream at its best. Ben & Jerry's looks out! This little ice cream shop will satisfy your every craving.

Daily specials such as homemade banana, cookie dough, pine solada, chocolate mousse, Vermont maple, peppermint, peppermint, and more. Check them out in Downtown Wellesley.

Pops
781-237-5788
Never eaten there? The lines are always at least 45 min long. Check it out. People obviously like it.

Opened about a three years ago. Located at the far end of the center of Wellesley.

Jac's Cafe
781-665-7177
A must try! Korean, Thai, India, French, Mid-Eastern, Japanese—all in one place. Fresh sushi with a twist. Try Jar's Roll for poppy vegetable delight.

Make sure to ask the waiter a help you with your choice. The selection is extensive and all dishes are relatively well priced. Portions are more than enough to provide take-home leftovers.

Located in the Atrium Mall is Newtown on Route 9 East.

Cheesecake Factory
781-664-3981
This place puts California Pizza Kitchen to shame. Any place that has a spiral bound menu with over 15 pages must be able satisfy your hunger. Cheeseburger is not their only specialty.

A unique concept and atmosphere. A perfect place to bring a date, but expect to wait in lines. For convenience, plan to do some shopping before diner. Simply put your name or them waiting list, take a beeper, and take a stroll through J. Crew or Structure. Located in the Atrium Mall on Route 9 East.

Valdins' Truck Stop
781-431-9011
The themed diner is unbelievable. The service is great and the food is the best. They have a huge selection including Burgers, Patties, and Desserts.

The best of all is the dessert. Ice cream in a miniature truck. Trust me, you’ll love it. Stop by for a quick lunch or an exciting dinner with your parents.
Go ahead. Talk as long as you want. Any time you want. As often as you want. The Eastern Massachusetts Unlimited Calling Plan gives you unlimited local and regional toll direct-dialed calls for one flat price. Just $45.90 per month covers calls to area codes 617, 508, 781 and 978. Sign up by October 31, and you’ll even get certificates for half off your first two months on the plan. That’s a total savings of $45.90. To qualify, you don’t have to be a college student, just a residential customer in one of the area codes above. Unlimited calling. Could be the best thing about your new living situation. Call your local business office today to sign up.
