Hudgins Heads New Drug Committee

by Caudle Brooks

A.C. Hudgins is to head the Special Government Committee Against Drugs. This committee will investigate the area of hard drug abuse. WWDB is to receive $600,000 of funding for this project. The project is led by Dr. Dick Miller and his team. Hudgins is a former police officer and has extensive knowledge in drug enforcement.

Lounges To Be Reserved Over Vacation

The fire which closed the Park Manor Formal Lounge will cost the Babson community a considerable amount. However, it is not clear if the lounge may have been expected.

The greatest expense will come from replacing the furnishing and floor coverings. The insurance company was very exacting and required everything to be restored.

The college is not ordering furniture, drapes, or rugs until the settlement from the Home Insurance Company, who wrote the policy, comes in. The college pays about $25,500 for all its insurance coverage.

Due to the nature of insuring college dorms, a risky proposition at best, Babson does not intend to enhance the claim to the insurance company. "We are trying to keep our premium down," said Putney. This claim, along with the one from the fire in the bible room in Forest last year, could have been enough to draw a cancellation notice from Home. Mr. Putney, however, is optimistic.

"Fortunately, Babson has had a very good record of claims. I would be surprised if that day's cancellation note out of Babson is a result of this incident." After replacing the furniture, the college will review the current list. The lounges may not continue to be used for college functions, but it is not clear if the lounges can be used for college events.

Whatever the school's decision, the change will probably be made during the summer vacation, which may provide the students with as much of a surprise as the fire did.

Theatre Guild To Present "The American Dream"

On November 16, 19, and 20, the Babson Theatre Guild will present a production of Edward Albee's "The American Dream". The setting is a modern-day American home. The play is a satire on American life in general.

The production will be held on the stage of the Babson Auditorium in the Three Quarters Theater. It will be driven to form a closer bond between the actors and the audience.

Daddy (Bill Rawson) exemplifies the American male who has made it financially, but otherwise is in total failure. He has a definite communication problem with the rest of the world, but feels his money makes up for it.

Grandma (Ann Howell) is the only character who actually hates it together, but she plays an act whatever Mommy or Daddy are present to appear otherwise. The final character, The Young Man, (played by Jack McWhorter) in The American Dream in his outward appearance, but his mind is far from being superior, ambitious, etc., and passes people to his own advantage.

The production is being directed by Dr. Dick Miller and his team. The production will be full of surprises and will likely provide Babson students with many opportunities to enjoy the performance.

Disposible Cars

The magazine EUROPA reported recently that some Europeans in the UK are considering buying a throwaway vehicle. The idea is to have a car that costs around $300 and $400 and is scrapped after 10,000 miles, or thereabouts. The engine is optional. What’s new? The United States has been talking for years about the idea. However, many cars could be one of the right track but the method of the attacking the problem is not.

Novak And Hanson Make All-Stars

Senior John Newk and freshman Brian Hanson were selected to the College Division, New England Intercollegiate Soccer All-Star team.

Novak, who scored three goals for the Stags this season, was named to the All-Stars, the same number of goals he scored for the All-Stars last year.

Charlie Bright, a senior on the 1987 varsity, represented the Beavers on last year’s team.

Double Feature

On Sunday, November 5, the University Press will present a double feature: "The Two" of Showtime and "The Scarlet Pimpernel." The screening of "The Two" is at 7:30 p.m., with a special performance by young couple; and "The Scarlet Pimpernel" starring Leslie Howard and Elizabeth Taylor, in an intriguing episode of the same title.

After the Thanksgiving recess, the film schedule resumes on Thursday, November 16, with a night of shockers. "Alain Reiner's" will be presented, followed by the next in its series of Kuchar classics in 8 and 9 p.m. Neatly directed in "Night and Fog," Kuchar presents a new take on the classic "Night and Fog," as the fourth in the series of Kuchar classics. Enjoy.

The Student Government has made an announcement on current events, and I would like to ask for your support of the Student Government. The motion passed by a vote of 14-10-11, and the motion is now pending at the Student Government.

Novak and Hanson are selected from over 600 New England soccer players to represent colleges and universities in the state.

The two All-Star selections will give an opportunity for the two teams to show their skills and compete against each other. Both teams have shown potential for great success.

The two All-Star selections are in the right direction for it is not out of the realm of possibility that a student may do something better than the victim of a D.O. However, this does not mean that the New England Intercollegiate Soccer All-Star season is over.

Stagg is definitely from that each action is indeed most and should be student organized and implemented. But we also need to ask ourselves what we think of our last night activities.

Budget proposals do not leave room for the student who has been warned not to do last night activities. Many small colleges (or, Union College) in the United States have included in their drug program the phrase that any student under 21 may be put on the waiting list if their behavior becomes a drawback to the university. It is important to provide students and their families with information about the problem.

Babson's drug problem cannot be defeated by the acts of a vigilant mob, Student Government has given its support to the students who have not been supported by students who have had to deal with this problem in the past and has not been supported by students who have had to deal with this problem in the past.

Editor's Wastebasket

Top of the Basket again this week it goes to H.L. Frezell and Dave Marcus for dedication to the FREE PRESS beyond the call of duty.

When the alarm sounded for the lounge fire last Thursday morning, H.L. who was working on the FREE PRESS tried to get upstairs, saw smoke pouring out of the lounge, and then went back downstairs to retrieve the FREE PRESS.

David stayed up until 6:00 a.m. to write an article, type it and place it on the front page to make sure the FREE PRESS covered the story.

That's dedication.

Isn't it funny how you get a ticket when you park anywhere on campus but in the lot, but when you park in the middle of the Maximum Security lot, black people in so they can't get out, do you get a ticket?

This week's bottom goes to the Board of Trustees and other members of the Babson Corporation--sure was nice of them to take the extra hour and a half to meet and talk with the students. Only six members were able to come and have lunch with the students. Wonder how the others feel?

THE GRID GUESSE

Cleveland 24-New England 14

The Browns have now lost four in a row and should get back on their feet when they visit the Patriots. Cleveland looked like they were coming around a bit against Kansas City last week but fell short.

San Francisco 20 Los Angeles 20

The Rams won the opener between these two teams but I think San Francisco will bounce back in this game which decides the division. The Rams are 7-0, the 49ers 7-2. The game is in the Coliseum, and that the Rams have laid three tough games on the road, makes me lean to the 49ers.

Mississippi 16 New Orleans 6

The Vikings scored only three points last week and still won the ball game. Their defense has been just tremendous and should continue that performance against the Saints. New Orleans has beaten L.A., San Fran and Dallas this year so they can't be taken lightly. But the Vikings will be ready as they try to maintain their one game lead in the Central Division.

Cincinnati 31 Houston 13

I'm expecting the Bengals to explode this week as they finally get their second win of the season. They host to Houston earlier in the year when they didn't have Virgil Carter at quarterback. But now that he's back he should handle the Oilers with ease.

Kansas City 19 Denver 10

The Chiefs' offense is pretty sluggish and I don't think they'll score much on Denver's defense. But the Broncos offense is even worse and that should be their downfall. After this game K.C. has to go to Buffalo and that's a tough one in a row. So a win here for them is a plus.

Pittsburgh 23 N.Y.Giants 21

The Steelers have yet to lose at home in four games and I think they'll continue that trend against the Giants. It won't be easy but I think they'll always be at their best with Tarkenton at quarterback. But with Johnson and Swann out Frank's effectiveness will be diminished. Terry Bradshaw should find success throwing against the Giant secondary.

St.Louis 17 Philadelphia 14

The Eagles are playing improved football and will give the Cardinals a good fight. Their only problem in getting points on the board is a weak offense that can't make a lot of punch. The Cardinals have looked poor against San Diego but I think they'll take this game easy.

N.Y.Jets 28 Buffalo 20

The Jets always have trouble in Buffalo but if I'm plucking them to win anyway. Their defense has looked good the past two weeks and should contain Buffalo. The Bills defense is to weak even the Jets should be able to score a lot of points and send Buffalo to their ninth straight loss.

Green Bay 24 Atlanta 23

This Monday night affair could go either way but I'm leaning towards the Packers. They've got a great ground game and will be looking to take advantage of it. Atlanta will have a hard time and I think they'll be down after that tough loss to the Giants.

Miami 20 Baltimore 10

I've got to go with Miami in this one as Baltimore appears rather pointless on defense. With Norm Baltic probably out this week that makes matters worse for them. Miami has a more balanced attack and should keep the pressure on Baltimore's great defense.

Dallas 22 Washington 16

The Cowboys seem to have the momentum going into this game although I'm skeptical about how much that really means. The point spread is way too high and should be taken into account. The Redskins offense has been sluggish and playing against the Dallas defense won't help them any.

Detroit 26 Chicago 13

If the Lions lose one this they can wait till next year. That and vice versa. They are a pretty good team but they can make you pay when you don't pay them back. If you watch the game and second quarter you can see why.

Oakland 33 San Diego 28

This game should be a high scoring affair because of the poor defenses. The two offenses are terrible and both defenses are not of first rate caliber. The Raiders shut out the Bucs last week and I think San Diego will remember that. This one could be an upset.

Olson Optimistic About Basketball

By Mike Helian

Fresno State Anderson took a rebuff out of the defensive pads and quickly hit junior halfback Tankin, Vincent streaming downcourt and shook out of some of his troubles when he went in alone for an easy layup. It was a play reminiscent of the Ram's Collier's head break and a play that Coach Bill Olson hopes will carry his team to many a victory this year.

The 177+ 4-Buck basketball team lacks one very important ingredient—height. But he is for this reason Olson's offense will be a running offense.

To implement a running offense properly, a team must have good rebounders.

At center for the Rams will be sophomore Rod Anderson. "Mountain," as he is called by his teammates, is about 6-feet 11-inches, college standards for center. Most of the center's众多 will face this year will be much taller than Rod, who is 6-8. As his nickname suggests, he is rugged, making it difficult for opposing centers to rough him up underneath.

Joining Anderson up front will be senior end Victor Petis, junior halfback Bode and sophomore center Gary Olson.

Hansen is coming off a fine freshman year in which he averaged a pass to Vinny and 12 rebounds per game. He is an exceptionally strong rebounder and the only other starter with any real height at 6-9.

Korte will round out the forward line. He is short for a forward at 6-7, but is a strong defensive player. It is hoped that Gary will provide some rebounding help in the paint and will be the go-to against the backcourt player's team's offense.

The backcourt, Coach Olson probably has the best pair of guards is the Ramslist Conference. The combo of Jack Timma and Tim Vincent, both junior and senior first and second team all-stars respectively last year, will carry the bulk of the offense.

Tamina averaged over than 20 points per game last year in the Conference was considered the do all, same if not more, this year. He has all the tools necessary to be a complete player scoring, defensive ability, ball handling and rebounding.

Vincent averaged 22 points per game last year and shot 58% from the floor. It will be necessary for him to supply the same amount of offense that he did last season. Vincent's aggressive offensive threat as he evidenced by a 32 point perfromance in one game of the 70-71 season.

Coach Olson's starting five will be given one playing time due to an inexperienced bench.

The only returning veterans are Senior Dwight Keeler and Sophomore Steve Woodsegg.

Keeler is primarily a forward but Olson feels that he can do the job in any position. He is an excellent rebounder and could be used extensively at several Biever's face taller opponents.

Woodsegg's game action this year will be more tough and scoring may be more difficult.

The rest of the team will be comprised of first year varsity players; junior Tom Ferkert, sophomore Jim Vogel, freshmen Charlie Kelley, Kevin Adam and Bob Johnson.

Ferkert, Ask and Vogel will play guard. Ferko is an excellent ballhandler and has speed for the fast break. Ask is a good shooter and will likely be Olson's replacement. Voiles, a transfer from New Jersey, will round out the backcourt. Kelly and Johnson will play up front. Kelly, a former center for parochial powerhouse Catholic Memorial High, N.W., will be backup to Anderson, Johnson, a Navy veteran, who improves playing in the starting lineup with his brute and desired speed.

Coach Olson is optimistic about his team's chances this year. He hopes to improve on last year's record of 5-12, but this will be accomplished only by the running in every game. The missing the Beavers running, they'll start losing.

And will there be Gomez College and Gordon College which are in the Conference. Most schools have little time to have any time to take a breather.
